Miss Lily Duke, Superintendent of Young People, read her annual report, which was adopted. (Officers' Report No. 5.)

Mrs. LeGrand Everett reported on her work as editor of the Woman's page in the North Carolina Christian Advocate. (Officers' Report No. 10.)

Mrs. E. R. Clark, sister of Miss Ida Hankins, reported that the Korean girls sent the money realized on the Korean wedding ring presented to Miss Hankins, for mission work in Siberia.

Mrs. LeGrand Everett was elected alternate to the President to the Council meeting, and Mrs. F. B. McKinne alternate to the Corresponding Secretary.

After a solo by Mrs. Henry Ware, whose singing during the conference was so much enjoyed, Miss Steger conducted a short devotional, and the conference adjourned with prayer by Miss Steger, Miss Gist, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Newell and Miss Lamb, whose presence during the conference had been an inspiration and a benediction.

EVENING SERVICES

The evening services at the annual conference of the Woman's Missionary Society are always interesting and instructive, and during this conference they were especially good.

The music each night rendered by the choir of Hay St. Church was beautiful and very much enjoyed, as were the solos, not only at night, but every day, by Mrs. Henry Ware of Greensboro, the soloists of the conference. On Tuesday evening the outstanding features were the address of welcome by Mrs. Emma Hunter of Fayetteville, and response by Mrs. James B. Bardin, of Chadbourn, following which Miss Clara Steger, who has been a missionary to China for twenty-seven years, and Miss Annette Gist, who has been in Japan for five years, made interesting and instructive talks on mission work in these countries.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. P. L. Cobb, of Nashville, Tenn., gave a splendid address on "The World, a Mission Field."

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the whole conference was the pageant given by the young people of Hay Street Church, "Methodist Womanhood's Great Adventure." This pageant presented in a brief but interesting manner the history of the woman's missionary movement from its beginning up to the present time. It was well rendered by the young people and very much enjoyed by the immense congregation which filled the church. The Bright Jewels also had a part in this service, and their singing was enjoyed. Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, Superintendent of Children's Work, presented banners to the Sanford and Kinston Bright Jewel bands.

At the close of this service the report of the Committee on Resolutions was read by Mrs. Leigh Sheep, thanking the people of Fayetteville, of Hay Street Church particularly, and all those who had a part in making this one of the most enjoyable and beneficial conferences ever held by the Woman's Missionary Society. (Committee Report No. 8.)

In Memoriam

Memorial services were conducted Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. S. H. Scott. Hymn "Why Should Our Tears in Sorrow Flow" was sung and Mrs. Ida Wilkins led in prayer. The 91st Psalm was read as a Scripture lesson. Mrs. Henry Ware sang "The Homeland." Mrs. Scott read the names of those members who had passed away during the year

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

(No. 1.)

Again, we come together in annual session, as the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference.

Another year has been added to our history and such a happy, glorious year it has been: It has been happy because of its achievements, and glorious because of its opportunities. For as we think of what the children, young people and adults of the North Carolina Conference accomplished during the past year, we will gain a clear vision of the number of children, who learned of self-denial, and of love for the other children of the world, we will begin to appreciate the devotion of a large per cent of young people who learned their lesson of life service; we will see in bold outline that faithful little woman in the Auxiliary, who was perhaps the leader of the "faithful few" and of whom it may be truly said, "She hath done what she could." It is of such types in our conference that I wish we would think today, because any review of the work of last year is, but the record they have made.

It has been well said that "the greatest need of the world today is the Missionary Church." Couple with that this thought, that "the challenge before the Woman's Missionary Society today is to make of the Church a Missionary Church." So as a deepening spiritual force, the Woman's Missionary Society faces a definite mission, to the church and through the church, to the world.

Have we as an organization caught such a vision? Have we as individuals felt the only real mission of the church of God, in telling the Gospel to every creature?

If the more than eleven thousand children, and young people and adults of the North Carolina Conference were altogether with the "faithful few" in their intensity to serve the Christ, we would know a spiritual awakening, which even Methodism has never known before.

So the greatest opportunity before us this year, as a conference, is decided by us as individuals. How much of the Christ, how little of self in my own life and in the life of my Auxiliary will make the record for 1921 of which we shall be either proud or ashamed?

Does the local church need the individual consecration today? Does the local church lack leaders today? If so, how are we to meet that crying need, unless we are willing to forget self in an entire consecration to Jesus Christ? Our prayers for the missionary on the field do not avail much if we do not live as we pray and in so doing prove to be a missionary at home.

Do not ask the young people in your church to go to the foreign field if you are not willing to sacrifice of your time and strength to help lead the young people in your home community. Do not pray that the children of your church may dedicate themselves to life service if you refuse to give of your strength in directing their work.

Why do I bring this message to you today of a more fully consecrated life and of the great outstanding need of workers in the home church? It is just because there never was a time in its history that the world needed so much a Savior. Five hundred million souls there are who have not yet heard of the name of Jesus. Countless starving souls and bodies in the world today are looking out of their blindness to us for the light. Are we to meet our part of these great opportunities? Shall we of the highly favored of the North Carolina Conference be willing to let our light shine so intensely at home that some reflection may shine around the world?

Will some of us go to the places made dark by sin and ignorance and lift up the Christ that all men may be drawn unto Him?

As a Woman's Missionary Society, we must continue to do our utmost for the success of the Centenary. Our institutions and workers on the field have planned and are but waiting the fulfillment of the pledges. Truly a glorious opportunity but awaits us there.

"A trained leadership for the church" is but the clarion cry of the Christian Education Movement. Southern Methodist womanhood has never failed and we will not fail at this critical moment of the church's great need.

As a conference can we, of the favored two hundred and seventeen churches, which have the organized missionary training stand idly by and not plan for the cultivation of the more than five hundred churches of our conference, whose women and young people and children do not know of the very definite service they can render through the Woman's Missionary Society. Our nine splendid consecrated district secretaries are giving of their best efforts to help develop these churches, but we as auxiliary members should give more of our time and strength in helping to make these weak places strong.

So many opportunities lie about us—so many that we can but pray for the wisdom to decide which of the many to use first.

Our children's work—so interesting, so worth while; our young people's work, so enthusiastic and so overwhelming in its possibilities; our adult work, so rich in the many rewards which it brings—these three departments with their varied activities but remind us each day of happiness which real, definite service brings.

As we consider the millions who await our going or our sendings, shall we, as representatives of the North Carolina Conference, pledge our allegiance to our Savior, ever remembering that we have promised to serve Him to the end?

May Edla Smith.

VICE-PRESIDENT'S REPORT

PRAYER SPECIALS

(NO. 2)

Realizing that prayer should be made a working force in the life of every auxiliary, the Council last year recommended that the Conference Vice President give special attention to the work of placing prayer specials in the auxiliaries. Therefore, since the Annual Meeting last spring, I have endeavored to fulfill this duty, although in one sense but little has been accomplished.

I took up the subject with Miss Porter, executive secretary "Bureau of Specials," promptly, desiring all necessary information; sent a notice to the Advocate, asking each auxiliary to select a prayer special and send name to me at once. I also stated there were no financial obligations, but they were expected to stand back of their specials with their prayers. Among the few responses to this appeal, the majority wrote asking that I suggest a prayer special for them. I saw at once the need of a catalogue of the names and addresses of the workers and works in the various fields. I wrote to Miss Porter relative to this. She agreed with me it would facilitate the work, and that while they did not have the catalogues, they were going to have them printed, also application blanks, which she would send to me early as possible. In the meantime, I wrote to the district secretaries asking that they send me the address of every auxiliary president on their district. My purpose was to write a personal letter to each president, enclose a catalogue of the addresses of the workers, etc., also an application blank in order that they could intelligently fill out the blank and return to me promptly. My anticipations were that in a short length of time I would have a complete list of all the auxiliaries, with their prayer specials, and all the applications would be sent to the "Bureau of Specials." Alas! my hopes have never been realized. I would write from time to time to Miss Porter, who has been very patient with me, but she could not control matter at headquarters. She did send application blanks but the catalogues have never come.

In February I felt something must be done, and I sent a letter with application blank to every auxiliary President. To this forty-six responded, whose names are enrolled. But for lack of proper information there has been created some confusion as to who should come under the head of "Prayer Specials." Mistakes have had to be corrected; some applications have been sent direct to the "Bureau of Specials" with no correspondent's address, which had to be referred back to me before the certificate could be mailed to the auxiliary.

Notwithstanding the difficulties we have labored under, we are thankful this department of the work has been launched in our Conference Society, believing at the close of another year every auxiliary will have their prayer special.

Whatever we may contribute of money or service, we have not exercised our highest influence, performed our highest duty, nor enjoyed our highest privilege, until we have made definite, believing prayer for missions a part of our daily life.

No. Auxiliaries Attaining Standard of Excellence....	19	12
Names added to Memorial Roll	4	1
Amt. money sent Conference Treasurer.....	$45,102.76	$38,240.97

The above figures show progress in every department, particularly in amount of money raised. There is a net increase of only five adult auxiliaries over 1919. This is probably due to culling all auxiliaries that fail to report for entire year.

Washington and Warrenton Districts led in net increase of new adult auxiliaries and new members.

Durham District reported largest number of members to sign stewardship pledge cards during Round Robin Contest.

Fayetteville District reported every auxiliary on district observing Week of Prayer.

Wilmington District led in number of boxes supplies reported.

Warrenton and Rockingham Districts each reported 27 auxiliaries presenting Stewardship.

Rockingham District led in finances.

Raleigh District led in number of auxiliaries on Roll of Honor.

We decided last year to bestow a banner upon the district making greatest progress in every department. In consulting with the superintendents one would say this district led in my department, but another district was so close, or another put forth greater effort, and we could not decide, so praise is given to all the districts, and God bless you every one.

The following auxiliaries attained the Standard of Excellence, and are therefore entitled to badge of Honor Roll:

Raleigh District—Cary, Fuquay, Kenly, Maria Brown, Salem, Mary Pescud, Oxford and Smithfield.

Rockingham District—Aberdeen, Laurinburg, Laurinburg Young Women, Rockingham and Rockingham Young Women.

Fayetteville District—Belle Bennett, Roseboro and Dunn.

Washington District—Nashville.

Wilmington District—Rose Hill.

Week of Prayer Specials for 1921 are holding institute, Laredo, Texas, and Lambuth Memorial Training School, Osaka, Japan.

The North Carolina Conference stands sixth in the Council in number of adult auxiliaries, fourth in number of members, and fourth in finance.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Harvey Boney, Cor. Sec.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK (NO. 5)

In attempting to present to you this the annual report of Young People's Work of the North Carolina Conference for 1920 my heart thrills with joy and gratitude for the splendid work which they have accomplished. It isn't an easy task and we all know that in the life of an organization, as in the life of the individual, the things that are most worth while come to us through patience, pain and toil, and none of us can fully appreciate the fact until it becomes an experience of our own.

And who knows the truth of this better than do the leaders and our young people of the North Carolina Conference, with our 1332 members—some strong, some weak, some loyal, some disloyal, a few faithful, more faithless, many indifferent, more careless—and because of such conditions scores and scores are still unenlightened in this the greatest enterprise the world has ever known.

We do not understand; we so often ask why. At one time the answer was for lack of information, but today we more wisely say for lack of Christian Education. Now that we are realizing this, the most important of all facts in these days of many false doctrines, it behooves us as Christian women to come quickly to the rescue and do all in our power to give to the young life of the nation, through Christian colleges, an opportunity for developing the very best and highest ideals.

But in spite of difficulties the faithful ones worked on and as a result I want you to get for your inspiration, not only the amount of work accomplished, but the spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm which permeated and made rich the life of the workers. We are confident that the toiler who gives her all to the Master, as many are doing these days, will never be denied the "Joy of the Lord." Only those servants whom He finds so doing will hear the blessed "Well done." To my co-workers I am greatly indebted for the splendid co-operation they have so willingly manifested in this the most stupendous task of the age.

At the beginning of every new year there are always a number of auxiliaries lost for one cause or another. So in 1920 we began with 71 auxiliaries on roll, adding during the year 24 new ones, but unfortunately had 20 to disband, leaving only 75 on roll at close of the year, and so gaining us an increase of only four auxiliaries. Of this number 22 auxiliaries reported one quarter during the year; 15 reported two quarters; 16 three quarters and 22 four quarters.

We must confess again to inefficiency in our Mission Study and Social Service work. Only ten auxiliaries reported having Mission Study and facts tell us that the leading auxiliaries of all conferences have become such because of their deep and abiding interest in Mission Study. We are satisfied that much Social Service work is being done, but because you do not report to your Conference Superintendent she has no record of the auxiliaries' existence in many places.

Our Week of Prayer was more largely observed than ever before. The contribution from the twenty-nine auxiliaries observing this appeal was $173.03.

We have just cause for being proud of our finances. We have $164.00 over our goal, and so gives us a total of $3289.00.

While we have an increase over last year on the Honor Roll it is not as large as I had hoped for. However, the following auxiliaries having met the requirements are entitled to the Honor Roll for 1920. In order that you may see that the finances do not control the standard I give the amount contributed by each auxiliary:

Memorial $245.50; Roxboro $100; Rowland $100; Richlands $125.30; Hertford $76.50; Fayetteville $104.35; Maysville $145.20; Oxford $75.05; Fuquay Springs $21.85; Rebecca LeGrand $364.17.

In addition to these who have won highest honors the following have merited praise for splendid work and for prompt and accurate reports: Jonesboro, Trenton, Mt. Olive, Snow Hill, Smithfield, Raeford, Aberdeen No. 1, Gibson, Edenton Street, Washington, Farmville, Nashville and Jacksonville.

During the year I sent out 313 packages, containing 2257 pieces of literature; mailed 401 cards and 166 letters in the interest of the work.

ANNUAL REPORT SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

(NO. 6)

I give my report for 1920 with a glad and thankful heart. In spite of a year of financial depression, the Bright Jewels of the North Carolina Conference have gone forward along all lines. We have added 23 new Baby Divisions and 22 new Junior Divisions. Five Baby Divisions and 18 Junior Divisions had to be dropped.

This gives us an increase of 18 Baby Divisions and 4 Junior Divisions. We have now on roll 76 Baby Divisions and 141 Junior Divisions. Having to drop so many bands on account of being unable to secure leaders, has been the only thing which has brought us hurt and sorrow in the whole year's work. I trust that our women will see to it that all these are reorganized during this year.

Sixteen new study circles were reported. I feel sure there were many others, but they did not report. Forty-seven bands reported observing their day in the Week of Prayer. With a Junior membership of 4236, only 857 reported as subscribers to the Young Christian Worker. This ought not to be. This valuable little paper ought to be in every Methodist home where there are children, and I call upon all of our women to help me see that this is brought about. Seven report making the Honor Roll: Memorial, Durham; Dunn; Queen Street, Kinston; Centenary, New Bern; Gibson; Garysburg and Whiteville.

Baby Division: Enrollment fees, $121.81; Pledge, $376.25; Week of Prayer, $1.52; total, $499.58.

Junior Divisions: Dues, $1613.93; Pledge, $3557.22; Life Membership, $35.36; Memorial Roll, $20.00; Week of Prayer, $296.57; total, $5523.08.

Total sent Conference Treasurer, $6022.66; reported for local work, $345.47; grand total, $6368.13.

The following bands report more than one hundred dollars: Queen Street, Kinston, $300; Memorial, Durham, $276.50; Hay Street, Fayetteville, $265.53; Laurinburg, $243.01; Dunn, $210; Centenary, New Bern, $202.40; Wilson, First Church, $184.33; Rockingham, $158.45; Sanford, $134.12; Trinity, Durham, $133.83; Gibson, $107.56; Edenton Street, Raleigh, $105; Roxboro, $101.19; Trinity, Wilmington, $101.

The Rockingham District may still claim to be the Banner District, having the largest number of members, the largest number of subscribers to the Young Christian Worker and having raised the largest amount of money. The Durham District has made most advance, all things considered, though the New Bern leads her by $21 in the amount of money increase and the Washington is three dollars ahead of her on this. But the Durham District has the largest increase in number of Junior Bands, the largest increase in Junior members, the second largest increase in babies enrolled and follows close after the New Bern and on the heels of the Washington in money increase. All of the districts show increase over last year except the Wilmington.

In our totals are hidden three specials which I desire to mention here: A collection of $35.36, taken at our last annual session, made James Warren Gates, infant son of our beloved retiring president, a life member. Ten dollars from Laurinburg places the name of Elsie Blue on our Memorial Roll. This was raised by an affectionate sister, Mary Shore Blue, herself also a Jewel, aided by her Superintendent. And $10 was contributed by one of our best Superintendents, Mrs. E. S. Dail, of Windsor, in memory of her son, William Edward, who at fourteen years of age was taken from her, a precious son and "a Bright Jewel from his birth."

Queen Street, Kinston, receives the banner for raising the largest amount, $300. Memorial, Durham, comes second with $276.50. This band also reported as sent to the famine sufferers $48.50. Sanford receives the banner for the largest amount per member, a little over six dollars per member. Our Hay Street Jewels had this banner during 1920, and though they did fine work this year, too, they had to surrender the banner to the Sanford Jewels, but with the hope that they may win it back during the year 1921. I have not space to tell of the wonderful financial record of all our Jewels here. They have been faithful and untiring and we are proud of their year's record. God bless each one of our Jewels and each one of their leaders. The report in detail will be published in our Minutes.

Our year's report shows a gain in amount sent to the Conference Treasurer of $1,196.26, nearly 25 per cent over last year. This shows untiring, faithful work on the part of our Auxiliary Superintendents. These women are giving themselves to the greatest phase of our work, the training of the workers who are soon to take our places and also to be the missionaries and preachers of the next generation. We owe them our deepest gratitude.

Many of our bands have given to local church work, the Orphanage, and also very liberally to the European and Chinese famine relief.

This has been our best year. But what could we not do if we had all of our children enlisted in this great work? Many of our churches have no Bright Jewel bands. God pity that church! It is missing one of the very best things that could come into its church life. Sisters, I call on you to awaken to this greatest of our opportunities. Help us to organize Baby and Junior Divisions in all of our churches. Let us not be satisfied until every one of our children has a part in the work of winning a world for Christ.

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY AND PUBLICITY

Mission Study

(No. 7)

"Our Goal: A Mission Study Class in every Auxiliary, and every woman and child a member." Believing that a definite knowledge of the mission field is essential to arousing and sustaining an active interest in missions that will result in increased giving, and a recognition of individual obligation to share the responsibilities of the Auxiliary work, it has been my policy during the year to urge the use of the two books, "Adventures in Faith in Foreign Lands" and "Making America Safe" for entirely new classes. These books, with "Women and Missions," by Miss Has-kin, and "The How and Why of Foreign Missions," by Brown, should be in every Auxiliary, to be used as reference books, and I wish to urge that where they have not been studied they be read during the summer, to form a basis for further missionary study, as it is advisable, wherever possible, to use the current books for the year recommended by Council. The general theme for the year 1921-22 is "The Unfinished Task of the Churches."

Adult—"The Kingdom and the Nations," by Eric North; "From Survey to Service," by H. Paul Douglass.

Senior Y. P.—"World Friendship, Inc.," by J. Lowell Murray; "Playing Square with Tomorrow," by Fred Eastman.

Intermediate—"A Noble Army," by Ethel Daniel Hubbard; "Making Life Count," by Eugene T. Foster.

Juniors—"Under Many Flags," Mrs. E. C. Cronk, Elsie Aing-master; "Stay-At-Home Journeys," by Agnes Wilson Osborne.

Bible Study.

One of the greatest privileges we have as Protestant Christians is our privilege of reading and studying the Bible at will, yet how very little we claim that privilege. Aside from the spiritual food it contains, necessary to the nourishing of our spirituality, the strengthening of our faith, to our consecration in prayer, and to giving us a reasonable hope of eternal salvation, there is no other book of any age so comprehensive in points of interest appealing merely to our intellectuality—there are histories, laws, travels, biographies, poems, prophecies, letters, teachings by lectures, dogmas, doctrines, songs, love stories, stories of wars and adventures, of sacrifice and indulgence, and in and out throughout it all weaving and interweaving, forming all the parts into one gloriously interesting whole, runs the silver thread of God's revelation of Himself to His people. We urge the formation of more Bible study classes this year, among the adults of course, and especially among the young people and children. The books recommended for Bible study by Council are:

Adult—"The Mind of the Messiah," by Adams; "The Life and Letters of Paul," by Carter; "The Story of the New Testament," by Carter; "The Meaning of Service," by Fosdick.

Young People—"The Book of Acts," by Oldham; "The Marks of a World Christian," by Fleming.

Juniors—"Thirty Stories About Jesus," by Bosworth; "Great Characters of the New Testament," by Haynes is recommended for classes beginning Bible Study.

Publicity.

Since my election to January 1st:

2506 Bulletins have been mailed.

476 Envelopes of Rainbow literature mailed.

686 Letters in the interest of mission and Bible study, and the Advocate. The Bulletins have gone out regularly every month in good time to reach the Auxiliaries before the monthly meetings. They have been sent to presidents or superintendents of study and publicity (in some auxiliaries to both), of all the auxiliaries I could get on my mailing list. The Rainbow campaign literature was sent out in the same way. I have sent mission and Bible study leaflets and enrollment cards to all the auxiliaries I could get in touch with, in addition to circular letters to presidents and superintendents, and many personal letters. Our president excused me from sending articles to the secular papers because of the Advocate work, so that I have done nothing of that kind. Let me urge this duty upon the auxiliary superintendents. There are many interesting items in the Bulletin and the Missionary Voice that a wide-awake paper would be glad to publish.

I am advised that the new books will be ready about July 1st. Order from Smith and Lamar, Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. J. LeGrand Everett,
Supt. of Study and Publicity.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SOCIAL SERVICE

(No. 8)

The year 1920 has come to its close. The report of your Social Service Superintendent is before you. It is not what it should be, but we have worked away at it faithfully and have made an effort to inform the Conference that we are in earnest and anxious to be of service.

Many letters have been received and all of them answered. A letter of full instructions was sent out just before Christmas which gave Mrs. Newell's plans of work and enclosed her Handbook of Suggestions. At the executive meeting in January we were given permission to become a member of the State Social Service Association. From this connection we have the opportunity to co-operate with our state in the splendid work being done by this association. We were also permitted to present two resolutions to the Legislature when in session in January. First, to enter our protest against the abolishment of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare. Second, to go on record as favoring moving picture state censorship until Federal censorship be given us.

This as you all know was one of the big fights at the Legislature and we were happy to raise our voice in its defense. The bill was not what we wanted, but the agitation of the question was of untold value to our people.

Your superintendent also sent to Washington an earnest endorsement of the Sheppard-Townes bill providing for the public protection of maternity and infancy. There were some occasions when we were privileged to speak on this inspiring subject of Social Service, but the very best thing that has been done this year was to bring to our Annual Conference the Council Supt. of Social Service, Mrs. W. A. Newell, who will now address you.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. E. C. Duncan, Social Service Supt.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SUPPLIES

(No. 9.)

It is not the amount of the material help that should be embodied in my report, since by comparison that is small, but a glimpse into the needs and enthusiastic response to the calls when made must give joy to the Master whom we serve.

As stated in last year's report we have adopted the plan of calling on the Auxiliaries in the district from which the calls come, in most cases, to supply the needs. So when in January, 1920, a preacher's wife wrote that her husband had been compelled to give up work on account of a severe spell of influenza, a most hearty response was given and Wilmington District sent Mrs. J. F. Usry about $250.00. Her gratitude was deep and in a letter she said: "I don't know what we would have done but for the help given." Later Brother Usry was able to resume his work and his family are cheerful and happy. One daughter is working her way at Carolina College in order that she may teach and help to educate her younger sisters.

Memorial and Trinity, Durham, responded liberally to the call from a preacher's wife in that district. Weldon and Raleigh and Washington also sent contributions, and all this help came, I am glad to say, in checks and not in "old clothes."

Grace Church, Wilmington, sent $50.00 worth to the Indians in Oklahoma; Mary Pescud Society sent linen to Vashti; Maria Brown $5.00 to Scarritt; Trinity, Wilmington, $5.00 to Mission School and $23.00 to a preacher's wife.

The Polish Relief Fund reached such magnitude it is thought best to summarize the whole, which is as follows: Fifty-four auxiliaries reported contributions amounting to $4989.85 Besides this Miss Davies reported $182.00 in money received from our Conference Society.

Total amount sent preachers' families	$ 428.80
Total amount sent schools	70.00
Total amount sent Polish Relief	4989.85
Total amount sent Polish Relief, cash.....	182.00
	..$5670.65

I cannot close this report without referring to the beautiful offerings given by Wilmington and Rockingham Districts to the support of Mrs. C. E. Vale up until the time of her death, but this will have to go in a later report.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. Ida T. Wilkins,
Supt. Supplies N. C. Conference Society.

REPORT OF EDITOR OF THE WOMAN'S PAGE

(No. 10.)

The editorial work of our half page in the Advocate was undertaken at the request of our president in fear and trembling with great doubt of my fitness for it, but with a clear vision of what it should be of inspiration and stimulus, of information and instruction along the lines of our missionary activities to the women of our conference. We have wanted them also to feel that it is indeed their page, and so have encouraged them to send interesting accounts of the work they are doing in their auxiliaries. These letters have been published, revised when necessary, in as nearly their order of reaching me as possible. Invitations have been extended to our president, corresponding secretary and the superintendents of Young People's Work, of Children's Work, and of Social Service, to present the phases of their work in a series of articles. All the articles sent me from Nashville have been promptly sent in. At the direction of the executive committee I asked for more space —a whole page to ourselves—from the editors, but for many reasons they could not let us have it, while promising to do the very best for us they possibly could. The result of my efforts has been before you for the past year, week by week, and though it falls short, far short, of my ambition for it, under the existing circumstances it has been the best I could do.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. J. LeGrand Everett.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION OF WORK

(No. 1.)

We, the Committee on Extension of Work, recommend:

1. That we call attention to the new By-Laws from Council by which we elect a Superintendent of Local Work whose duties are outlined in the Constitution.

2. That we call attention to the new By-Laws from Council that the corresponding secretaries of the auxiliaries be responsible for the Week of Prayer and the developing of spiritual resources, including intercession, family altars and Christian stewardship.

3. That the district secretaries make a careful survey of their districts, prepare maps of them and formulate plans looking to the larger goal of an auxiliary in every church in their district.

4. That a vigorous campaign for our North Carolina periodical be conducted in June.

5. That the districts enter into a lively contest for the largest gain in all departments of the work, and that a banner be presented to the winning district at the next annual conference.

6. That adult auxiliaries attaining the Roll of Honor be given recognition at the annual conference.

7. That as many group or all-day meetings be held as possible in each district, and that representatives from the adult, young people and junior auxiliaries be urged to attend these meetings.

8. That we continue as our goal for 1921 one student at least from each district at Scarritt Bible and Training School, and a ten per cent increase in organizations and members.

Miss Vara L. Herring, Chairman.

Mrs. S. W. Staley, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

(No. 2.)

We, your Committee on Finance, recommend:

1. Acknowledging with prayer that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," and believing that the system of tithing which God in His wisdom gave the early church is the very best financial plan in all the ages, we urge that each auxiliary do all in its power to further the growth of the stewardship of our money; that the subject be presented quarterly by illustrated talks, personal testimony and readings; that a tithing roll be kept, and that our best efforts be used to teach our children and young people to tithe, that the church of the next generation may be a church of tithers.

2. That we adopt the budget of twenty-five cents per member, covering dues, conference expense fund and retirement and relief fund.

3. That the auxiliary president urge the quarterly payment of all dues and funds. Failure to do this forces the council to borrow money on which interest must be paid.

4. That December 1st, or as near as practicable, be observed as "Harvest Day" by each auxiliary.

5. That each district secretary, conference superintendent of young people and conference superintendent of children's work shall send all money and reports to conference treasurer by the 10th of the month each quarter.

6. That each auxiliary pay a minimum of $4.00 annually for the support of our Scarritt endowment fund.

7. That the need for trained workers is so great that we continue to increase our gifts to the Scarritt scholarship fund for the training of our North Carolina girls.

8. That our conference financial goal of $50,000 be raised by a 10 per cent increase on the part of each auxiliary.

Mrs. C. E. Blount, Chairman.

Mattie L. Pulliam, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

(No. 3.)

We recommend:

1. That the adult auxiliary superintendent of social service make plans for the young people to assist in social service work in the community.

2. That the auxiliary superintendent of young people, with a committee from the adult auxiliary, give special attention to the social life of the young people.

3. That we work faithfully in the support of the Young People's Special for 1921, "Collegio Bennett," in Rio de Janeiro, and Sue Bennett School in London, Ky.

4. That special attention be given to the standing rule that Good Friday shall be set aside as a day of special prayer for volunteers for both home and foreign fields, and for the year 1921 that presentation of Scarritt be made a feature of the day.

Miss Lillie Duke, Chairman.

Miss Martha Patterson, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

(No. 4.)

1. That immediate effort be made by district secretaries and by all in authority to reorganize all bands which have fallen by the way and to organize bands in all churches.

2. That every band organize Baby Divisions and that pains be taken to report the Baby and Junior Divisions separately.

3. That the superintendents be urged to use the regular record and report book for junior superintendents and to fill all the blanks.

4. That each band begin immediately to meet the requirements for the Honor Roll, and that every band fulfilling these requirements report the fact to our conference superintendent.

5. There can be no inspiration without information. Therefore let great effort be made to circulate the Young Christian Worker, and to plan programs which will instruct and inspire. The superintendents will find the Voice invaluable in preparing themselves for this work. You must first inform yourself before you can inform or inspire others.

Closely associated with the above are Study Circles. There ought to be one or more in every band. Most large bands will do well to organize in circles in all their work, but especially for study. The older children into study circles and the wee ones into story circles.

7. That in every auxiliary a day in the Week of Prayer be given to the children and that the mothers and other women by attendance and co-operation make it succeed.

8. That at Easter, Christmas, Thanksgiving or other appropriate occasion, public meetings be held conducted by the children, which will emphasize the work and give occasion for an offering from their adult friends. That we request the co-operation of the pastors in this.

9. Success in the children's work depends absolutely on the auxiliary superintendent. Therefore great care should be taken to secure one who can and will do this work. But the best superintendent will need the co-operation of the mothers and other members of the auxiliaries. Is it possible that any one can be really interested in mission work who is not interested in the work of their children for missions?

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson,
Mrs. M. Bradshaw,
Mrs. C. T. Rogers,
Mrs. S. A. Cotton,
Mrs. R. H. Willis.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION STUDY AND PUBLICITY

(No. 5.)

Realizing that a knowledge of the mission field is necessary to arouse and sustain an active missionary organization, we, the committee on Study and Publicity, recommend the following points:

1. That all auxiliaries put on a subscription campaign for Missionary Voice and Young Christian Worker some time in the fall, reporting results to Advocate and Voice for publication.

2. That superintendents of study and publicity pay more attention to sending missionary news to secular papers.

3. That auxiliaries having study classes adopt the nearest auxiliary without a class, helping them to organize for study, providing books furnished by the older classes.

4. That every auxiliary present the play, "Womanhood's Great Adventure."

5. That special effort be made to secure missionary library.

6. That when there are two or more study classes, they buy different books, then exchange them, so the expense of books will not be so great.

7. That district secretaries urge election of superintendents of study and publicity in every auxiliary.

8. That in the three quarters classes study one foreign book, one home book and one Bible study, and before closing for the summer month decide upon books to be held in fall, thereby preventing delay in opening fall study.

9. That the district secretary in whose district the conference is held be empowered to appoint some one to report daily proceedings of conference to papers.

Mrs. LeGrand Everett, Chairman.

Mrs. M. Leigh Sheep, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

(No. 6.)

Realizing that there is a very great need today for social service, and that we as Christian women can wield a powerful influence in ferreting out evils and making our country a safer and better place in which to live, we, the Committee on Social Service, recommend the following:

1. That as a body of Christian women we go on record as courageously upholding the enforcement of the prohibition laws; that we register our hearty approval and support of the Federal Moving Picture Censorship Bill, the Uniform Marriage and Divorce Law, the Shepherd-Towner Maternity Bill, the Towner-House Educational Bill.

2. That, since the local work is often confused with the social service work, we call attention of our auxiliary officers to the By-Law passed at the recent Council meeting providing for a superintendent of local work in addition to the superintendent of social service, and defining her duties.

3. That we stimulate the women of our auxiliaries to join the already established organizations of the community doing social service work, such as civic clubs, parent-teacher associations and the like; that we are proud of the record made by North Carolina in public welfare work, and we urge our women to co-operate in every possible way with the county welfare boards.

4. That our conference superintendent of social service attend the meetings of the state Social Service Conference, traveling expenses to be provided; that where practical the local superintendents of social service join this body, and thus benefit from their publications.

5. That we urge our pastors to appoint the church social service committee as provided by the Discipline, and name the local social service superintendent a member of that committee.

6. That the auxiliary social service superintendent secure the bulletins of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and the University News Letter from Chapel Hill and file for the use of the auxiliary.

Mrs. F. S. Love, Chaiman.

Mrs. E. R. Clark, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BY-LAWS AND STANDING RULES

(No. 7.)

We suggest the following By-Laws:

1. That our conference body shall be composed of one delegate from each adult auxiliary, one from each young people's, and superintendents of children's work. These, or their officially elected alternates, shall constitute the voting body of the conferences.

2. The annual conference session shall include three days for the transaction of business.

3. That in order to have more time for the discussion of methods of work, that officers be elected to serve two years.

4. That the Council By-Laws that conflict with conference plans be stricken from the minutes.

5. That all corresponding secretaries of young people's and children's work report to district secretaries, so that the district secretaries may take more interest in these departments.

6. That the committee on By-Laws shall be composed of the president, corresponding secretary, the recording secretary, and one member from the body. The business of this committee shall be to put the conference methods of work in the form of by-laws to be adopted by the body annually.

Miss Elizabeth Lamb, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

(No. 8.)

Realizing that the care of more than three hundred delegates is a mammoth undertaking; and knowing the ease with which the people of Fayetteville have done this, we, your committee, beg to submit the following resolutions:

That to the people of Fayetteville and to the members of Hay Street M. E. Church, South, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference desire to express their deep appreciation of the many courtesies shown.

That we are deeply grateful to the choir and soloists of Hay Street Church, also to Mrs. Henry Ware of Greensboro, for the lovely music which was so enjoyable a part of each service.

That we extend thanks to the pages for the quiet efficiency with which they have served.

That to Miss Clara Steger, missionary to China, and to Miss Annette Gist, missionary to Japan, we are most grateful for the glimpse they have given us of the work of missions in other lands, and for the sense of individual responsibility with which they impressed us all.

That we are very grateful also to Mrs. W. A. Newell, Council Supt. of Social Service, and to Mrs. P. L. Cobb, of Nashville, Tenn., for information and suggestions which served to steady and guide the discussions, and for their addresses of inspiration and help. We also desire to thank Miss Elizabeth Lamb and Mrs. F. S. Love for their part in making each service worth while.

That we are deeply indebted to Rev. H. M. North, and to all other ministers who in any way gave of their time and thought to the making of this conference the power that it has been. Strength to their arms, and success to all their efforts!

That our thanks are due the press for the courtesy of publicity they have shown.

That we desire to extend congratulations to the luncheon committee for the ease and efficiency with which they have taken care of the luncheons.

That we are especially grateful to the transportation committee and to all those who made possible the delightful visit to Camp Bragg, and to Mrs. Poag for her hospitality to us there. We also wish to thank the soldiers of the band and those who sang for the splendid music rendered.

That we are heartily appreciative of the splendid program prepared by the children and young people of Hay Street Church presenting the pageant "Methodist Womanhood's Great Adventure."

That to our hostesses and to all others who had a part in making our visit to Fayetteville the happy experience it has been, we give our heartfelt appreciation, and trust that the wheel of fortune may sometime again drop us in your delightful city.

Mrs. M. Leigh Sheep, Chairman.

Mrs. S. W. Staley,

Miss Edna Wilkins.

“This little Korean urn carries with it loving greetings to my comrades now assembled in annual session with the good people of Washington. May the work of this session be the crowning event in the history of our organization. As you review the work of the past and inaugurate plans and purposes for the coming year, may the Holy Spirit be present in power to indite every petition, to prompt every utterance and bring you to wise and proper conclusions as regards any problem brought to your attention.

At the memorable conference in 1911, when we met in New Bern, we had with us Miss Mattie Ivey, a consecrated missionary, then on furlough from her work in Korea. I believe she was connected with the Lucy Cunninggim Home and School, the very mention of which was an inspiration to the women of our Conference. We felt that it was our very own. Her utterances so pleased, instructed and fascinated our women that we wanted to give expression to our feeling by making her a much needed and greatly appreciated gift. Her heart overflowed with gratitude, and at the following service she stepped to the platform, in her hand she held this unique specimen of Korean handwork, which she in fitting words presented to our Society. It should have been doing its work all these years, but like many living instruments, it did not find its place; but now I trust is the time when it will find its rightful place, where encouragement is needed to strengthen zeal, and prompt each auxiliary to higher endeavor.

MRS. R. A. WILLIS.

P. S.—Miss Ivey's last injunction was ‘Don't polish.’ ”

This urn was presented to Miss Vara Herring for the Raleigh District which was the district having the most auxiliaries on the Honor Roll.

Mrs. Boney then presented badges to those delegates representing auxiliaries on the Honor Roll.

Rev. W. P. Constable presented the cause of the Conference Brotherhood.

The report of the Committee on Extension of Work was read by Mrs. R. L. Brown, and was adopted.

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson was elected as alternate to the President, and Mrs. F. B. McKinne as alternate to the Corresponding Secretary, as delegates to Council.

A motion to hold the next annual meeting in January was lost, and the next meeting will be held in the spring, as usual.

The report of the Committee on By-Laws and Standing Rules was read by Mrs. Boney, and adopted.

After singing the Doxology, the Conference closed its 1922 session with the benediction by Rev. W. P. Constable.

EVENING SERVICES

On Monday evening, April 24th, the opening services of the Conference were held. After an anthem by the choir of the Washington Methodist Church, Rev. J. H. McCracken led the devotional exercises. Miss May Edla Smith, President, then introduced the speakers of the evening. Mrs. T. G. Moore, of the Washington auxiliary, and Mrs. C. E. Blount, Secretary of the Washington District, extended a most cordial welcome to the Conference, to which Miss Vara Herring responded.

Miss Sallie Lou McKinnon, of Virginia School, Huchow, China, at home on her furlough was with us and gave us a most interesting and instructive address on "New Things in China."

Tuesday evening splendid addresses were made by Mrs. Elizabeth Davis Borchers on "The Joy of Serving in Brazil," and by Deaconess Ellen Gainey on "The Call of the Homeland."

Wednesday evening we were especially fortunate in having Mrs. B. W. Lipscombe, Home Base Secretary, Nashville, Tenn., who spoke on "Signs of the Coming of the Kingdom," and Rev. M. T. Plyler, Presiding Elder of the Durham District, spoke on "Our Duty to the Centenary."

Thursday evening was given over to special music by the choir and a pageant by the Washington Bright Jewels, "Children of Many Lands." Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson then presented the Chinese banner to Memorial Bright Jewels for raising the largest amount of money during the year, and the Korean Banner to Sanford Bright Jewels for raising the most money per member during the year.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions, thanking the good people of Washington for their splendid hospitality, was read by Mrs. C. B. Miller, and adopted by a rising vote.

After singing "I Love to Tell the Story," the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. H. McCracken.

In Memoriam

Memorial services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. S. H. Scott. "Abide With Me" was sung, and Mrs. Scott read 1 Cor. 15th Chapter as a Scripture lesson. Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson led in prayer.

Mrs. Scott then read the names of those who had passed away during the year, and tributes were paid by many of those present to the faith and loyalty of those who have gone on to their reward.

Officer's Reports

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

"And ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Jude^a and in Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." These were the last words of Jesus spoken unto the Apostles whom he had chosen, yet with no less power and authority do they come before the North Carolina Conference today. They sound as a mighty challenge before us, reminding us again of His words, "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you." But has He sent us to dream, to drift? No, for we have "Hard work to do and loads to lift" if we are obedient to His last command and witness for Him in our home communities, in our Home-land and into the uttermost part of the earth. So may we ask ourselves the question today, as members of a great organization in the Church of God, How have we been a witness for Him?

For forty-four years Southern Methodist womanhood has been working in an organized way to help save the world for Jesus Christ. During those years we have grown into 38 conferences with 5,645 adult auxiliaries and 159,265 members. We have developed fourteen phases of work in the Home-land, at seventy-five different points, with today 122 Home Missionaries and Deaconesses.

In China have we been a witness, too, for Jesus, and only He who blessed our labors and used woman's undying devotion and unselfish giving, can know the real growth of His Kingdom in that great country.

To Korea have gone for thirty-four years the prayers and gifts of our consecrated womanhood, and today we can join in the rejoicing of the Christian world over the unprecedented spiritual and educational awakening of the Korea Mission.

Four stations of Japan have shown steady progress, and the work under the administration of the Woman's Missionary Council in that land has been greatly blessed.

The Christ has been lifted up in Brazil, also, by the Woman's Missionary Society; and the North Carolina Conference has given some of its best, that Brazil might know of our Savior.

Mexico, Cuba, and Africa have been some of the uttermost parts where we have endeavored to witness for the Risen Lord.

Co-workers with the thousands of auxiliary workers in the home church, there are today 155 missionaries in these seven foreign countries. At the recent session of the Woman's Missionary Council, approximately a million and a half dollars was voted to our workers and institutions around the world. Thus we can realize a little of the extent that the womanhood of the Southern Methodist Church has been witnessing for Jesus.

Since January, 1879, the North Carolina Conference has stood in the front rank of the missionary forces of our church. When we recall such names as Ellen Morphis Wood, Mary Black, Lucy Cunnigim, and those two who still bless us by their presence—Mrs. R. A. Willis and Mrs. Elizabeth Mayhew Hendren, not to mention scores of others equally faithful, we can but know that such leadership still guides us on, and that their prayers are being answered through our work of today.

But in all of our Conference have we been faithful to His last command, have we realized that our Father hath sent us even as He sent Jesus, to do His will? One of the answers to that question can be found in the records of what our Young People have done. Their history for 1921 shows the greatest growth of any phase of our work, but the inspiration they received for definite service, the desires they have known to be witnesses for Him, cannot be given in statistical form.

Another answer comes from our Children's Work, which is without doubt the most interesting chapter of our history. It can be read in the annals of the "Bright Jewels." Surely if any department of our Conference has faithfully witnessed for Jesus during the years, our "Bright Jewels" can claim that rich heritage. No Junior Division of the Council is heir to a more glorious history than that of the North Carolina Conference.

The department of Mission Study brings another answer that we have been witnessing for Jesus. Through study of the needs of the world, from knowing of the suffering of womanhood and childhood of heathen lands, and the neglect of unfortunate ones in our own land, we have gained a greater incentive to go and send that all might know of a Savior's love.

Has Social Service helped to answer the Lord's commands? Through such agencies we have helped the neighbor at our door, we have aided in the uplift of our community life and the higher purposes of our State.

We stand face to face before such answers to our Lord's command in our forty-third annual session, today. Yet, our answer cannot be given entirely in statistics. Merely saying that the year's budget for the North Carolina Conference is $45,000.00, will not answer altogether the command of Jesus. Giving reports that we have approximately 500 auxiliaries of Adults, Young People and Children with 13,000 members, does not answer that we have done our best.

Our real answer to the Lord's command will not be given as it should be until the individual life of our auxiliaries gets that vision from above, and receives that definite realization that Jesus has told you and me that we should be witnesses unto Him. Then shall we so know the love of Christ in our own lives that we can say, from the way we live each day,

"Love so amazing, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all."

MAY EDLA SMITH.

PRAYER SPECIALS

The year 1921 marked a change in the plan for our Prayer Specials.

The Bureau of Specials advised that the North Carolina Missionary Conference Society adopt a definite field for intercession. China was selected, and a China Prayer Special assigned to each auxiliary. Those already having taken a Special in a field other than China, were privileged to retain that one in addition to the China Special Certificates were issued to the majority of auxiliaries, but the supply became exhausted. These will come later and will be worth the waiting. However, these auxiliaries have been enrolled and their respective Special notified.

We were instructed last year that the Quarterly Field Bulletin be sent to the holders of Specials, but it was afterwards decided by the Publicity Committee that the one Centenary Bulletin would serve well and possibly suffice for the present. One page in this is to be allotted to Prayer Specials. The New China Map, together with the invaluable key has recently been sent out. I trust every auxiliary has received this, and I would recommend that they make a careful study of it at their meetings. It has been said, "Every step in the progress of Missions is directly traceable to prayer." Then let us intercede faithfully that China may be saved for Christ.

Mrs. S. H. Scott.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

Our greatest growth this year has probably been in knowledge. Since many of our Conference women and officers attended the Council meeting in Richmond, and since the advent of OUR MISSIONARY NEWS there has been a marked growth in information and interest among the auxiliary members concerning the work of the Council. They have shown a desire for knowledge along all lines of work which they did not fully understand. Many have expressed themselves as realizing for the first time the duties of the Council officers and the far reaching consequences and value of dues and pledge. With information comes added responsibility, and living in this age of stewardship cultivation comes the necessity for answering the question, Have we given of our time and money as God has prospered us?

The missionary auxiliaries of the North Carolina Conference claim every fifth woman, young person and child belonging to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in their midst. As a Conference we continue to hold fourth place in point of finance in the Council; our children's work second place, and our young people's fourth. It was interesting to note that the two conferences of North Carolina pay every tenth dollar that goes into the Council treasury.

WEEK OF PRAYER

One hundred and nineteen auxiliaries reported having observed the Week of Prayer. Fayetteville District again reported 100% observance.

STEWARDSHIP

One hundred and fifty auxiliaries reported that stewardship has been presented during the year. Many auxiliaries yet neglect to report accepting responsibility in this highly important service.

PERIODICALS

We are gratified over the increase in subscriptions to the MISSIONARY VOICE and YOUNG CHRISTIAN WORKER. May each district strive to reach the goal of every Methodist family on the district subscribing to OUR MISSIONARY NEWS.

SCARRITT BIBLE AND TRAINING SCHOOL

We have heard much praise of our scholarship girls, Elizabeth Bass, Olivia Miller, and the Japanese girl, Yosaka Ueno. Elizabeth Bass and Olivia Miller will graduate at Scarritt next year. Yosaka Ueno expects to enter Trinity College this fall, Memorial Auxiliary supporting her.

OUR GOAL

One student from each district in Scarritt and every auxiliary contributing to its support. This has not yet been attained. Some of our auxiliaries do not understand that Council asks for $4.00 per year from each auxiliary on the Scarritt Endowment Fund, and in addition to this the North Carolina Conference asks for a liberal contribution to pay the expenses of our North Carolina Missionary Volunteers at Scarritt.

FOR THE QUADRENNIUM

Following the example of the Home Base Secretary in giving a backward glance over the results of Council quadrennium, we find causes for deepest gratitude in the progress of the North Carolina Conference. In 1918 we had 392 organizations, now we have 549, an increase of 157; we had 8,261 members, and now have 13,992, an increase of 4,731 members; we paid our pledge of $15,000.00 in full for the first time and rejoiced over the budget sent Council amounting to $26,690.22. Only two districts paid more than $4,000.00, now six districts pay more than that, and our budget sent Council in 1921 amounted to $45,210.24. There is cause for praise and thanksgiving for this growth; innumerable prayers, sacrifices, and efforts on the part of our women has made it possible. Now may we gird ourselves with prayer and faith to attain inaccessible heights, believing that with God helping us we can make the impossible possible.

ROLL OF HONOR

The following auxiliaries attained the Standard of Excellence and will be presented with badges:

New Bern District: St. Pauls, St. Johns and Snow Hill.

Raleigh District: Fuquay Springs, Clayton, Maria Brown and Mary Pescud.

Rockingham District: Laurinburg, Raeford, Aberdeen, Lumberton and Rockingham.

Washington District: Nashville, Farmville and Wilson.

There were other auxiliaries that attained the Standard of Excellence that reported too late to receive a badge, two of which richly deserve to be mentioned, namely: Hertford, on the Elizabeth City District and Belle Bennett, on the Fayetteville District.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

Another milestone has been reached in the interest of the Young People's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, and we are glad to report that 1921 goes down as the best year in its history. There is nothing dull or monotonous in the work. From the beginning of the year to its close the leaders are solving problems of momentous weight. The growth in organization and membership can easily be summed up, but who can estimate the value of the growth in the lives of the individuals engaged in the work. We must ever keep in mind that we are training for leadership. The organization has but one purpose, namely: "To hasten the Kingdom of God by enlisting the young people in active Missionary service by the giving of time, energy, means—yea, and lives to make known this saving gospel unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

It will be remembered that in 1920 we had 75 auxiliaries. At the beginning of 1921 we had only 61, fourteen having disbanded. We have closed this year with 73 auxiliaries on roll, an increase of twelve during the year. We have a membership of 1,134. In organization and membership there is a very small decrease over the previous year. However, I think this is due to the fact that some find it almost impossible to keep the work going while so many of the young people are away at school. Other auxiliaries emerge into Epworth Leagues, and a few lack leaders. These are not discouraging conditions, but plain facts, and simply explain why there is a small decrease.

During the year eight auxiliaries sent in reports for one quarter, seventeen for two quarters, twenty for three quarters, and twenty-eight for each quarter in the year, which is a better record than for 1920. Twenty auxiliaries reported

Mission Study Classes, thus doubling the number of the year before. Ten auxiliaries reported Bible Study Classes. Twenty-eight auxiliaries observed the Week of Prayer, making a contribution of $126.45.

The following auxiliaries made the Honor Roll: Bethel, Clayton, Troy, Rebecca LeGrand, Hertford, Richlands, Rowland, Fayetteville, Roseboro, Fuquay Springs and Rocky Point. This is an increase of one over last year.

"You are the band who have toiled unceasingly,
Nor paused 'til the task was done;
Yours was the effort and yours the glory,
With honors nobly won.

You have been faithful in least and greatest,
So may the future days
Still find you steadfast and staunch and valiant,
Reaping your meed of praise."

I do wish to urge that our leaders lay more stress on Bible and Mission Study, and Social Service work with the young people. I am sure we are not developing this department of our work. It is one of the requirements of the Honor Roll and we should strive each year to do better and more efficient work, thereby attaining this high Standard of Excellence.

Other auxiliaries other than those on the Honor Roll worthy of special mention for good work are as follows: Smithfield, Hamlet, Durant's Neck, Kittrell, Sanford, Trinity, Rose Hill, Anderson, Nashville, Creedmore, Aberdeen, Raeford, Mt. Gilead, Fairmont, Weldon, Snow Hill, Trenton, Arcola, Wesleyan Daughters, Plank Chapel, Lillie Duke, Garysburg and Fremont.

Again we find that Rebecca LeGrand is the leading auxiliary of the Conference. Its contribution to missions through the Young People's budget is $314.90. With a special gift to them of $500 they have opened a work to be known as the Rebecca LeGrand Baby Clinic in Seoul, Korea. So to this splendid group of young people we give praise and trust that their love and interest in the cause may ever be an inspiration to others.

We are realizing that perhaps the fruits of our efforts are best shown in our finances. Our Treasurer tells us that we have made a larger increase than either the adults or the Bright Jewels, the total amount being $944.54, an increase of $733.54 over our promise. Our finances do not come in large amounts from any one source. For instance, 18 auxiliaries averaged $24 per year; ten averaged $44; seven averaged $113, and two averaged $167. Do not these facts show that co-operation is the keynote to success? It is when we are working together that we are best able to accomplish any great task.

During the year I attended nine group meetings; sent out 311 cards; 183 letters; and 329 packages containing 4,000 pieces of literature. The following is the summary of the year's work:

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

Though with great regret we report that we fell behind on our pledge for the year 1921, yet we think that on the whole we had a good year. The Children's Missionary work of the North Carolina Conference is still going forward. Where we have failed it has not been the fault of the children, nor usually of the Superintendent. In most cases, I am persuaded, the blame rests with the adult auxiliary. I believe that if the women in their auxiliaries will give their cordial support we will make the best record of our history this new year.

During 1921 twelve new Baby Divisions were organized. Five were dropped. We enter the new year with 83 divisions, a net gain of seven. There are 1,297 babies enrolled, a gain of 158.

Thirty-three new Junior Divisions, less sixteen dropped for lack of leaders, leaves 158 divisions, a gain of 17. Members 4,786, a net gain of 550.

Nine bands made the honor roll: Memorial, Durham; Centenary, New Bern; Queen St., Kinston; Gibson, Garysburg, Kely, Clayton, Fuquay Springs, and Richlands. Some of our best bands failed to secure this honor by neglecting some elements of the work. We hope that during the new year there will be an effort on the part of the Superintendents to win the necessary credits to place every band on the Honor Roll. Thirty-eight observed the Week of er. Thirty-six Study Circles were reported.

Our babies raised: Fees, $106.34; Mite Boxes, $398.92; Life Membership, $15.00; Total $520.26. Juniors: Dues, $1,858.86; Pledge, $2,905.81; Life Membership, $5.00; Week of Prayer, $219.41; Total $4,989.08. Total sent to Conference Treasurer, $5,509.34. Local work, $327.80, making a grand total for the year of $5,837.14.

Memorial, Durham, wins the banner for the most money raised, $285. Sanford wins the banner for the most money per member, raising a little more than $8.00 each. Rockingham District leads with $848.27. Washington District comes next with $704.70, with the New Bern District next with $701.38. The Rockingham District has the most Baby Divisions, 13; but the New Bern District has the most babies enrolled, 251. Weldon District has the most Junior Divisions, but the Rockingham has the most members, 767; so, all in all, the Rockingham may be accounted again the banner district of the Conference in Children's Work.

By districts the bands rank as follows: Durham District; Memorial, $285; Roxboro, $100.02. Elizabeth City District; Wanchese, $91.22; Hertford, $62.51. Fayetteville District; Dunn, $180.31; Sanford, $177.63. New Bern District; Centenary, $225.04; Kinston, $210. Raleigh District; Louisburg, $103; Central, $96.70. Rockingham District; Laurinburg, $166.36, Rockingham, $145.14. Washington District; Washington, $124.91; Wilson, $90.30. Weldon District; Weldon, $66; Littleton, $51.20. Wilmington District; Trinity, $116.34; Richlands, $76.69.

Our great and beloved Bishop Lambuth, for whose recent death our hearts still bleed, said: "I am learning more and more in the extension of the Kingdom of God to lay emphasis upon the work with the children." Let us never forget that the children's work is the very foundation of our woman's work and must not be neglected. I again call upon you women of the North Carolina Conference to stand by your Superintendents of Children's Work. If you will give us thus your help and your prayers, with the mighty help of our Lord and His Christ we will make the year 1922 the best in our history.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON,
Superintendent of Children's Work.

MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY AND PUBLICITY FOR 1921

A keener realization of the importance of Mission and Bible Study, grows as one learns more of missions and the Bible. Just as special education is necessary to success in any particular line of endeavor, in this day of demand for trained workers, so is a definite knowledge of the subject, necessary to more effective work in the cause of missions, and without a love of the Bible, an experimental knowledge of its precious truths, and a belief in it as the inspired Word of God, our religion, our church, our membership, is as an empty meatless shell. This department has been kept prominently before those of our women who read our own papers, in the columns of the ADVOCATE, and OUR MISSIONARY NEWS. In September 523 letters enclosing Mission and Bible Study leaflets and Enrollment Cards, were sent to every Adult, Young People's and Junior Auxiliary in our Conference. Comparing my report of 1921 with that of 1920, I find that, while there was a very decided decrease in the number of new Adult Mission Study Classes, and a very small decrease in new Young People's Mission Study Classes, there was noted improvement along every other line, a larger number of classes and members studying continuously, more Reading Circles, more Bible Study Classes, more auxiliaries report using Bulletin, and more report sending missionary items to papers. But even with this improvement, Mrs. Steele's last report showed our place on her Educational Roll to be 14th in 34 conferences in Mission Study, and 26th in Bible Study. This year has opened up well, however, by showing a decided improvement over the fourth quarter of last year, so I am encouraged to hope that by faithful and consecrated effort, we will this year greatly raise our educational standard, bringing it up more nearly to where it should be, in comparison with our high standard in other educational lines. There is still room for much improvement in the matter of reporting. Many classes I am convinced are never reported to me at all, particularly among young people and juniors.

COURSES RECOMMENDED FOR 1922-23

The theme for the year 1922-23 is: Foreign, India; Home, The Negro in America.

The following books are recommended for study:

Young People—"India on the March," by Alden H. Clark; "On the Vanguard of a Race," by Mrs. L. H. Hammond.

Intermediate—"Lighten to Lighten," by Alice Van Doren; "Service Ensigs," by Estelle Haskin.

Juniors—"The Wonderland in India," by Helen M. Rockey and Harold B. Hunting; "Service Ensigs," by Estelle Haskin.

Additional Books—"The Why and How of Foreign Missions," by Brown; "Women and Missions," by Estelle Haskin; "Negro Life in the South," by Weatherford.

The books on Bible Study have not been announced yet. The "Lists of books for study," with prices and other information, will be sent out later.

PUBLICITY.

In this department the Bulletins, averaging 400 a month, have been sent out regularly, to every auxiliary every month, in plenty of time for the regular meeting. Sufficient copy to fill our two columns, has been sent to the ADVOCATE regularly every week. OUR MISSIONARY NEWS has been sent to its subscribers regularly every month, and dozens and dozens of letters, enclosing Mission and Bible Study literature, organization helps, and much other information asked for have been written to our women. This particular branch of our department has grown very much in the last year. To keep our work before our people, the Superintendents of the Departments, and the District Secretaries and Conference Officers have been urged to send messages through the columns of both the ADVOCATE and OUR MISSIONARY NEWS exploiting their particular departments.

The work of your Superintendent of Study and Publicity has been exceedingly heavy, and confining, but there has never been a pleasure in her life that has given her the amount of purest joy and thanksgiving that this service has given, and she wishes to express to the women of our Conference her gratitude to them for being granted this great privilege of laboring in our Master's vineyard.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. J. LEGRAND EVERETT,
Superintendent of Study and Publicity.

REPORT OF "OUR MISSIONARY NEWS"

It will be remembered that after discussion on the Conference floor at Fayetteville last year, it was decided that our Conference should publish its own paper for one year, as more or less of an experiment, in order to give our women more room for self expression; to draw our auxiliaries more closely together as a unit, through reports of their work, and interchange of ideas and methods of work, to keep the departmental work before our women in articles from the superintendents; to give to our women all the interesting items of missionary news we could gather from Council and general sources; and to make them better acquainted with our Council, its personnel, its rulings and legislation. Our paper was designed in no wise to take the place of any other Society periodical, but rather to create its own place by being "just the home paper." It was to be published monthly, its expenses being met as far as possible, by subscriptions, but the Conference Expense Fund supplying any deficit.

As Superintendent of Publicity, I was appointed to edit it, and assumed the responsibility, fully realizing its importance and my handicap in lack of experience and other qualifications, but glad of the privilege of using what I did have, in the Master's service.

The first number of OUR MISSIONARY NEWS was issued June 15th, and was a full record of the Conference, two thousand copies of which were printed. With the exception of several hundred, the whole of this first issue was sent out as sample copies to every auxiliary in the Conference, with the expectation that they would be distributed and subscriptions solicited. Later on another lot was sent out to be used as samples for soliciting subscriptions: These were sent to the District Secretaries with the request that they send them to the best women for this purpose, in their auxiliaries, as I had sent them at first to the only names on my mailing list. During the year many other sample copies have been sent to different ones. I have sent complimentary copies every month to our Council women, believing that because of their active interest in missions they would appreciate this forward step our Conference was trying to take. I have written hundreds of letters for it, for one purpose or another, and my requests for special contributions to its columns, have in nearly all instances been graciously granted. I have also received hundreds of letters concerning it, all, with the exception of two in which a lack of interest was honestly admitted, expressing the conviction that our paper was meeting a long felt need in our Conference work, and that it was both helpful and stimulating. There has been some complaint of its not "coming regularly," and always other copies were sent at once to replace those not received. We have been particularly careful and systematic in trying to list our subscribers' names and addresses correctly, and have urged that we be notified at once when the paper failed to reach any subscriber. Often the fault is not with us,—we all know what bottomless pits a husband's pockets and desks can be, and the mails, too, are sometimes responsible for non-arriving papers. Those of you who are subscribers, know what our paper is, its mistakes and faults have been many—nobody sees that so plainly as does its Editor, but the labor in making it even what it is, has been an earnest and faithful labor of love, and a means of grace, to both Editor and Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. LEGRAND EVERETT,

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE SUPERINTENDENT

About three months ago I took up the Social Service work laid down by Mrs. E. C. Duncan. It is not always easy to pick up a work in the middle of the year, and I found many difficulties confronting me. There has never been a very hearty response from the Auxiliary Social Service Superintendents about reporting the work each quarter to the Conference Superintendent. But I am happy to say that this last quarter has been the best in some time in the way of reports. Out of 549 auxiliaries there came to me reports from 63 Adult, 11 Young People's and 6 Children's Auxiliaries, a total of 80, as against an average of only 35 for the other quarters. Of this number 62 reported having the Social Service Committee, 40 as using the Social Service Literature. The majority of the auxiliaries are doing the simpler forms of Social Service work, visiting the sick and strangers. Two report special work among the negroes, and 12 report doing special work in county institutions.

Since taking the work I have sent out over fifty Social Service Handbooks, and have answered some sixty inquiries about Social Service work. No special letter has been sent to the auxiliaries, as Mrs. Duncan did that the first of last year.

There are several auxiliaries that are doing exceptionally good Social Service work. One has a committee of five which meets regularly once a month for the consideration of problems, and this auxiliary has representation in the city on the Mothers' Club, the Baby Hospital, the Red Cross Hospital, County Welfare Board, Y. W. C. A., Civics Department of the Woman's Club, League of Women Voters, and is advisory to the School Board. Several of the auxiliaries are doing night school work, slum work of different kinds, holding story hours for the poorer children, are actively co-operating with the County Welfare Boards, and in two or three places there is a federation of the Social Service Superintendents.

Quite a number report that they fail to receive any Social Service literature for their quarterly programs. There may be several causes, but if there is a president here who gets the Social Service literature and fails to turn it over to the Social Service Superintendent, please resolve right now that you will be more careful and see to it that the superintendent is never without the literature for the meeting for which she is responsible.

Social Service work is something new to many of our auxiliaries and something that many are afraid of. It will take patience, perseverance and prayer on the part of auxiliary officers to make this important work have the place it should have. May God open our eyes and show us the need and reveal to us the ways and means of applying our Christianity to the communities in which we live. May this coming year see a great gain in the Social Service work in this Conference.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. S. LOVE.

Committee Reports

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION OF WORK

We recommend:

1. That the District Secretaries continue the survey of their districts, formulating plans for the next quadrennium, looking to accomplishing (a) 115 new organizations, of which 20 shall be Adult, 20 Young People, 25 Junior and 50 Baby Divisions; (b) 900 new members, of which 200 shall be Adult, 150 Young People, 250 Juniors and 300 Babies.

2. That a chairman for each county be appointed by the District Secretary to assist in developing and organizing missionary societies in churches where there are none.

3. That the women, young people and children of the Methodist churches in each county be federated and hold at least one meeting during the year.

4. That the districts enter into a lively contest for the largest gain in all departments of the work, and the Korean urn be given to the district having the most Adult, Young People and Junior Auxiliaries on the Honor Roll.

5. That, in order that these plans for advancing the work be more successfully accomplished, the District Secretaries meet at some stated time during the year with the Corresponding Secretary.

6. That all Adult Auxiliaries attaining the Roll of Honor be given recognition at the Annual Conference.

7. That as many group or all day meetings be held as possible in each district, and that representatives from the Adult, Young People's and Junior Auxiliaries be urged to attend these meetings.

MISS GEORGIA BIGGS, Chairman,
MRS. R. L. BROWN, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

We, your Committee on Finance, recommend:

1. Acknowledging with prayer that "The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," and believing that the system of tithing which God in His wisdom gave the early church is the very best financial plan in all the ages, we urge that each auxiliary do all in its power to further the growth of the stewardship of our money; that the subject be presented quarterly by illustrated talks, personal testimony and reading.

2. That a tithing roll be kept and that our best efforts be used to teach our children and young people to tithe, that the church of the next generation may be a church of tithers.

3. That we adopt the budget of twenty-five cents per member, covering dues, Conference expense fund, and retirement and relief fund.

4. That the auxiliary President urge the quarterly payment of all dues and funds. Failure to do this forces the Council to borrow money on which interest must be paid.

5. That December 1st, or as near as practicable, be observed as "Harvest Day" by each auxiliary.

6. That each District Secretary, Conference Superintendent of Young People and Superintendent of Children's Work shall send all reports to Conference Treasurer by the 10th of the month each quarter.

7. That special attention be given to the payment of a minimum of $4.00 annually by each auxiliary for the support of our Scarritt Endowment Fund.

8. That the need for trained workers is so great, that we continue to increase our gifts to the Scarritt Scholarship Fund for the training of our North Carolina girls, and that this fund be raised the second quarter.

9. That our Conference financial goal of $50,000.00 be raised by a ten per cent increase on the part of each auxiliary.

MRS. GEORGE HAWKINS, Chairman,
MATTIE L. PULLIAM, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That the Superintendents of Young People's auxiliaries do all in their power to reinstate the family altar in the homes of the young people, for we realize that that is the best way to awaken the much needed reverence for religious things.

2. That special attention be given to the standing rule that Good Friday shall be set aside as a day of special prayer for volunteers for both home and foreign fields, and for the year 1922 that presentation of Scarritt be made a feature of the day.

3. That the Auxiliary Superintendent of Young People, with a committee from the Adult Auxiliary, give special attention to the social life of the young people.

4. That we work faithfully for the support of the Young People's Special for 1922; Collegio Bennett in Rio Janerio and Sue Bennett in London, Ky.

5. That a District Superintendent of Young People's Work be appointed in each district to help the District Secretary organize and develop new auxiliaries.

6. That a Young People's Team be organized in each district to aid the District Superintendent in putting on programs in churches where there are no missionary societies, and to help organize them.

7. That the Adult Auxiliary Superintendent of Social Service make plans for the young people to assist in Social Service in the community.

LILLIE DUKE, Chairman,
ADDIE WEBB, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That the Adult Auxiliaries take more interest in the children's work, doing all they can to help and encourage the Superintendents and children.

2. That the Adult Auxiliaries and the District Secretaries do all they can to organize new children's societies and to reorganize old ones that have disbanded.

3. That the Adult Auxiliaries see that both Junior Division and Baby Division are organized in each church.

4. That each Adult Auxiliary take great care to see that the best possible woman be chosen for Superintendent of Children's Work, and that she has the support of the auxiliary.

5. That a greater effort be made to put the YOUNG CHRISTIAN WORKER into every Methodist home where there is a child.

6. That as "Information makes Inspiration," Mission Study Classes be formed in every band where it is possible.

7. That the children be trained in Bible study and public prayer in their meetings.

8. That as prayer is so essential to our work, Children's Day in the Week of Prayer be observed in every auxiliary.

9. That every Superintendent strive to put her Junior Division on the Honor Roll.

10. That each band be asked to secure the attendance at the District Meeting of a junior delegate as well as of the Superintendent.

11. That the Adult Auxiliary appoint a committee of from two to four women to co-operate with the Superintendent in getting new members and in any other way in which they are called upon to help.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON, Chairman,
MRS. W. W. ALSTON, Secretary,
MRS. M. BRADSHAW,
MRS. W. P. WEBB,
MRS. SADIE BARROW.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MISSION STUDY AND PUBLICITY

Realizing the importance of Mission and Bible Study in the auxiliaries, we, the Committee on Study and Publicity, recommend the following points:

2. That Superintendents of Study and Publicity pay more attention to sending missionary news to secular papers.
3. That Superintendents urge the completion of a study class each quarter, using the books recommended by the Council.

5. That special effort be made to secure missionary libraries.
6. That District Secretaries urge election of Superintendents of Study and Publicity in every auxiliary.
7. That Superintendents of Young People and Children be urged to form Mission and Bible Study Classes.
8. That classes study one foreign book, one home book, one Bible study, and Studies in Methodism, by J. M. Culbreth.
9. That Presidents be urged to hold quarterly executive meetings
10. That the District Secretary in whose district the Conference is held be authorized to appoint some one to report daily proceedings of Conference to papers.

MRS. LEGRAND EVERETT, Chairman,
MRS. HOWARD J. SHOEMAKER, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

Realizing that there is a very great need today for Social Service, and that we as Christian women can wield a powerful influence in ferreting out evils and making our country a safer and better place in which to live, we, the Committee on Social Service, recommend:

1. That as a body of Christian women we go on record as courageously upholding the enforcement of the prohibition laws; that we register our hearty support and approval of the action of our Governor in appointing a committee to promote the establishment of an Industrial School for delinquent negro boys, and that we continue aggressive work for the State Censorship of Moving Pictures.
2. That we stimulate the women of our auxiliaries to join the already established organizations of the community doing Social Service work, such as Civic Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, and the like; that we are proud of the record made by North Carolina in public welfare work, and that we urge our women to co-operate in every possible way with the county welfare boards and the work done by the State Department in the teaching of safety through Safety Leagues.

3. That our Conference Superintendent of Social Service attend the meetings of the State Social Service Conference, traveling expenses to be provided; that where practical, the local Superintendents of Social Service join this body, and thus benefit from their publications.

4. That we heartily recommend the use of the Council Social Service literature, and urge each auxiliary to have the quarterly Social Service meeting. We ask each President to make a special effort to have the auxiliary Social Service Superintendent send a quarterly report to the Conference Superintendent of Social Service.

5. That we recommend the appointment in each auxiliary of the two sub-committees; the Inter-racial and the Legislation Committee.

MRS. F. S. LOVE, Chairman,
MRS. J. G. FEARING, Secretary,
MRS. J. A. HODGES,
MRS. KNIGHT.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BY-LAWS AND STANDING RULES.

1. That our Conference body shall be composed of one delegate from each Adult Auxiliary, one from each Young People's, and Superintendents of Children's Work. These, or their officially elected alternates, shall constitute the voting body of the Conference.

2. The Annual Conference session shall include three days for the transaction of business.

3. That officers shall be elected biennially; the election to follow the opening devotional of the afternoon session of the second day of Conference.

4. That all Corresponding Secretaries of Young People's and Children's Work report to District Secretaries, so that the District Secretaries may be in close touch with these departments.

5. That a Committee on Publication be named by the Executive Committee: Said committee to consist of an editor, a treasurer and Circulating agent. Said committee shall be a standing committee, the treasurer and agent to publish reports semi-annually, and to co-operate with the editor at all times.

6. That the Committee on By-Laws shall be composed of the President, corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary and one member from the body.

MISS ELIZABETH LAMB,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Most sincerely appreciating the many courtesies and gracious hospitality of the people of Washington, we, your Committee, beg to submit the following resolutions:

To the genial pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. J. H. McCracken, we extend our thanks for his cheerful and untiring services, and to the members of the church for their splendid entertainment.

We have greatly enjoyed the splendid music rendered by the choir and soloists of the Washington Church, and the sweet and impressive solos of Mrs. R. P. Watson of Wilson.

Our hearts were thrilled and inspired at the presence and by the instructive and encouraging talks by our beloved missionaries, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis Borchers from Brazil, Miss Sallie Lou McKinnon from China, Deaconess Ellen Gainey, and Home Mission Worker Miss Lil Wilson of Greenville.

Never to be forgotten were the deeply spiritual Bible studies conducted at the noon hour by our beloved and truly faithful Council Officer, Mrs. B. W. Lipscombe, Home Base Secretary. As a member of the Committee on Missionary Literature her forceful expositions and wise suggestions were most helpful, and her very presence a real benediction.

Greatly enjoyed was the inspiring talk on the Centenary by Rev. M. T. Plyler, Presiding Elder of the Durham District.

We would heartily express our thanks to the pages for their quiet efficiency, and to the young ladies who so cheerfully presided over the Conference Literature Table.

We extend thanks to the local press for their courtesy and publicity.

That our sincere thanks be expressed to the ladies of Washington for the use of their automobiles, and the many drives conducted by them.

We also thoroughly enjoyed the splendid program rendered by the Children's and Young People's Societies under the direction of their efficient leaders.

To our hostesses and all others who, in any way, contributed to the comfort and pleasure of our stay in the beautiful town of Washington, we express our genuine thanks, trusting that our association as hostesses and guests has been most pleasant and profitable to us all.

MRS. C. B. MILLER, Chairman,
MRS. T. W. SMITH,
MRS. W. C. GLOVER.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Ellen White Willis, daughter of Thomas White and Susan Wall White, was born in Randolph County, North Carolina, November 7th, 1842, and died in Elizabeth City, North Carolina, early in May 1922.

Between these dates was lived a life of unusual interest and great usefulness. Born of Christian parents, she was given the most careful home training that loving hearts and parental wisdom could bestow. Then, realizing the importance of superior educational advantages, she was sent to Greensboro Female College in 1859, from which Institution she graduated in 1861. Having early consecrated her life to the service of her Heavenly Father, she found there influences helpful to her religious life, especially in her association with a small circle of teachers and students whose habit it was to retire each day just after the dinner hour to a private place for secret prayer. As a result of these sacred hours were developed strong Christian lives, and influences were set in motion which, with ever widening power, shall roll on throughout Eternity. Of this devoted Circle, the writer of this sketch was a member, and, so far as she knows, is the only one living. The others are wearing the fadeless crown promised to the faithful. For Ellen White, it was a preparation for that life of usefulness upon which she was soon to enter.

Her genial, attractive, loving disposition drew to her many friends and admirers, and in 1864, she was married to Rev. R. A. Willis, then a rising young Minister in the North Carolina Conference. As the wife of an itinerant Methodist Preacher, she endured cheerfully and uncomplainingly its hardships, and performed faithfully its duties, finding her greatest happiness in doing so. A large family was given her, to which she gave faithful and untiring service. In every way, a true Mother, her children today "rise up, and call her blessed." As a Pastor's wife, she was ever ready with a sympathetic heart and a helpful hand to render service to others. God saw best to send upon her heavy and trying afflictions, taking from her several children after reaching years of maturity. Through it all, her faith never wavered, believing that "Not in cruelty, not in wrath" did her Heavenly Father take those loved ones to Himself.

The impressions of her College life developed a love for the cause of Missions, which resulted in a devotion to its every interest. So when "Woman's Work for Women" was laid so emphatically upon the hearts and consciences of Christian women, it found in her a ready response, making her one of its most ardent and faithful workers. On the death of Mrs. Lucy A. Cunningham in 1907, she was elected President of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference. Believing it to be a call to higher service for the Master, she entered upon its duties, and so faithfully and efficiently did she meet all its duties and obligations as to make all feel there was "a power unseen guiding her hands and a spiritual influence emanating from her personality" which quickened to zeal and consecration many a heart and life. And when after six years of service in this position, failing health compelled her to resign it into younger, stronger hands, her interest continued unabated. As President Emeritus, she was ready with wise counsel and helpful words to do what she could to advance the work so dear to her heart. And then too, as President of her local Society, she was the leading spirit and inspiration to the day of her death.

Today, my sisters, I am sure she looks down upon us with loving solicitude, and would beckon us to do work for the oppressed womanhood of the world, whose manacles of superstition and ignorance she so loved to lift. May this thought be an inspiration to us for higher and better service!

ELIZABETH M. HENDREN.

Resolutions of Respect

MRS. ELLEN WILLIS

Since it has pleased our Heavenly Father to take from us our beloved sister, Mrs. Ellen Willis, we, the Executive Board of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, wish to place on record:

1st. That although our hearts are sad because we shall see her face on earth no more, yet we would bow in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, rejoicing in the thought that she is now in the presence of that Saviour whom she served so faithfully here, and rendering more efficient service in that higher sphere to which she has been exalted.

2nd. As we hold in grateful remembrance her beautiful example of untiring and efficient devotion to every interest of our work, while for six years she was our President, this interest continuing even after failing health compelled her to retire to a more limited field of service—"faithful to the end" may truly be said of her.

3rd. We extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, knowing well what a vacancy her going away has made in their lives, praying that they may have the abiding presence of the Great Comforter.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, one placed on the minutes of our Society, and one sent to the North Carolina Advocate and to the Missionary News.

MRS. EDGAR LEE HART

Aged 40 years—Aug. 15, 1882-Dec. 28 1922

With the vivid recollection of so many touchingly beautiful and genuinely sincere tributes paid our much beloved sister in the church, the late Mrs. Edgar Lee Hart, of Wilmington, North Carolina, who fell asleep in Jesus, December 28th, 1922, to rise triumphant o'er the grave at the break of eternal day, I deem it a privilege, yet I feel my inability, to speak as my heart bids me speak, and as she richly deserves.

Silently, one by one, God calls us home, and to say that those of us who are left in this instance feel our loss in the truest sense of the word, is but a feeble expression of the grief and sorrow which fills our hearts. When we remember her uplifting influence, her power for good, how she sought for truth and light from above, how her daily walk and conversation was a plea to Almighty God for a higher life, as she realized at an early age, when she became a devout member of the Methodist Church, that everything good in us, everything pure and upright, the love we bear our fellowmen, comes from God, it is little wonder that her devoted consecration and wonderful personal magnetism have proved an inspiration. Mrs. Hart was universally beloved at "Heart-sease," her beautiful summer home at Lake Junaluska, the very name of which is indicative of the serenest peace and tranquillity. The same devotion was lavished even more abundantly in her home city, where she was a leader in all church and philanthropic work, was accounted a splendid housekeeper, the best of neighbors, a sincere friend to all classes of people, a good Samaritan in a Christian community, where she has been, and will be sadly missed, not only by her devoted husband, whose love was deeply entwined about her, but by the entire congregation of her beloved Grace Church, by the church at large, and many dear friends and relatives throughout the State. Mrs. Hart was gifted with a wonderful mentality, the broadest humanitarianism, the kind of religion that denotes activity and the means and opportunity to put these precious agencies at work and keep them so. Ever generous and alert to the needs of her church, at home or abroad, whether it be for money, or for service, hers was the wonderfully responsive spirit that found "Sermons in stones, books in running brooks, and good in everything." To sum up the whole, in the life of this good woman, "mercy and truth met together, righteousness and peace kissed each other." No fitting or adequate estimate can be placed on what she represented, mentally, morally and spiritually, in our Missionary work, as the key note of her life was to help carry out the Saviour's last command. Her name was the synonym of honor, honesty and truth, co-mingled with unselfishness, altruism and all the cardinal virtues that go to make a God-fearing Christian citizen. Her life speaks for itself, and the fragrance of her sweet and blessed memory will rise like incense to Heaven. After all, the passing from death unto life, of a sincere Christian, is but a "home-going," where transcendent joy reigns supreme and illumines the heart and soul of God's faithful children.

Thanks be to God for the beautiful example of our dear friend who has been translated to a higher life, for the benediction of her golden deeds, for the precious memory of one who, having done her part faithfully in this life, has passed over the river and into the Promised Land of everlasting peace and joy and happiness.

Her going was but a surcease from the cares of this world and the crossing on angel wings of the last bridge, beyond which is peace and Heaven. Even now, we hear the echoes from the eternal city:

"All is well."

MRS. HARVEY BONEY.

MRS. E. L. HART

Whereas, God in His goodness, did give to us for a time, our Mrs. E. L. Hart of Wilmington, to be our faithful co-worker in our efforts to advance His kingdom, and by the example of her life so entirely consecrated to Him, to be to us, also, an inspiration in our own daily Christian walk, therefore we, the women of the North Carolina Woman's Missionary Society, do resolve:

1st. That we thank Him for His goodness.

2nd. That we grieve for her untimely passing, but not as those who sorrow without hope, for we know that if we be faithful, as she was, we shall see her again in His day.

3rd. That our heart deep sympathy extends to her loved ones, who long for the touch of her vanished hand, for the sound of her voice that is still; to her friends who miss her genial kindness, her warmth of understanding; to her pastor, losing her fine spirit of co-operation with him in his plans; to her church, her missionary society, and the needy ones to whom she ministered, so self-forgetting in her work for their upbuilding and needs, praying that He whose comfort is as that of a mother for her child, may so comfort and sustain them in their sorrow and loss.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her devoted husband, that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, and that copies be sent to the Woman's Page of the North Carolina Christian Advocate and to Our Missionary News.

Officer's Report

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Another year of glorious opportunities has passed and we, the representatives of a great Conference, come together again to discuss the affairs for the oncoming of God's kingdom on earth. What will the history of the North Carolina Conference record for its forty-fourth year? Have we been found faithful in the tasks committed to our hands? Have we developed the talents God has given us? Standing third among the thirty-nine conferences in the amount of money sent during 1922 to the Treasurer of the Council, we feel inclined to be proud of our record of last year and we might be willing to think that our talents have grown one hundred fold. But, by what standard are we judging the success of the North Carolina Conference? Can it be judged by comparing figures with other Conferences, or can it be rated by statistics? Are we to decide to what extent our stewardship has been faithful? Are our gifts measured by what we have or by what we have left? So as we sit together today as a family circle, may we think of our own Conference as a mission field. Yes, let us begin at Jerusalem. That sounds a little unusual, doesn't it, to mention this great North Carolina Conference with its historic background, with its no real city problems, with rural sections that are unusual in intelligence and culture, with a state that is realizing the need of the best Inter-Racial relationship and a Conference that does not receive one cent of appropriation from the Treasury of the Council; can this, the North Carolina Conference, be called a mission field? With such unusual blessings thrown around us, we are more than highly favored among mortals. But, may we look for a moment at the undeveloped sections of our Conference? There are 240 adult auxiliaries reported last year; there were 763 church buildings reported in the North Carolina Conference last year, so that means that there are 523 churches in our Conference whose women have no organization to give them an enlarged vision of helping to save this world for Jesus Christ. Perhaps you are thinking that some of these churches do not have the number of women to fill the offices of an auxiliary, and that is doubtless true in many of them, but there is no chapel "by the side of the road" that does not need regularly a vital Missionary program. Such a privilege belongs to you of the near-by strong church, and such an opportunity, next to reaching the uninterested woman in the home Church, is our first Missionary duty; for the forces at the home base must be strengthened if we reach, as we should, the unsaved of the world.

Sixty-four counties divided among nine districts, gives us our geographical setting. Can you not look out over that great expanse of our fair State and see those "fields that are white unto the harvest" and not realize that "the laborers are few?" There are Methodist women and young people and children by the thousand who have not caught the vision of what they could do to help carry the story of Jesus into "Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the world."

Women of the North Carolina Conference, the challenge lies before you. God is calling you and me to help make every church in the North Carolina Conference a missionary church, just as clearly as he has called some of our fairest daughters to lands beyond the seas and to the waste places of our Home Land. If we shall "attempt great things for God," we must "expect great things from God." Our challenge before us today is as it was to Barnabas and Saul, "Separate unto me for the work whereunto I have called you," and it leads us to think of our entire consecration as individuals. There must be a line of demarcation between the Church and the world. Is that line in our home Church invisible? But rather, are our lives so hidden in Christ that, like that other disciple, we can go out and bring our sister to follow Jesus? That uninterested woman all of us have heard so much about, is going to be reached only through prayer and the personal touch of some thoroughly consistent Christian life. That little chapel "by the side of the road" is going to be inspired to organized effort by the intensity of your interest in presenting the world as a mission field.

I covet for the splendid womanhood of this great Conference the blessings God has for us if we will but listen to his voice and be led by His will. Would that the members of our entire Conference could feel their responsibilities to the millions of the world who have never known a Christian home, a Christian school or Church. Then we would answer rightly our challenge of today, then we would be willing to lay our own bodies on the altars of His service. The love of our Saviour would shine so intensely from our lives that the light of the Gospel would radiate from this Conference to the darkest places of the world.

To reach every church in every county in every district in the North Carolina Conference,—a mighty task, yea, a glorious privilege. God can do it through us. So may the thought of these beautiful words be the inspiration of our every day life as we attempt these great things for Him,

"If our lives were but more simple
We should take Him at His word;
And our lives would be all sunshine
In the sweetness of our Lord."

MAY EDLA SMITH.

PRAYER SPECIALS

Since making our report at the last annual meeting we have assigned to newly organized auxiliaries that we knew of a Prayer Special, and reported the same to the Secretary of the Bureau of Specials, and through correspondence have given out desired information. We have been made glad as we learned of the interest taken by some auxiliaries in their Prayer Special.

At times the correspondence from Miss Porter has been delayed. To avoid this, the proper address of the auxiliary correspondent should be sent to me at once, if there is a change in this office. Miss Porter is the connecting link between the auxiliary and her Prayer Special, and it is important that every auxiliary receive the information sent to them.

We trust that this department of our work is a two-fold spiritual blessing. May we continue in fervent, intercessory prayer for our work and workers, especially in China.

MRS. S. H. SCOTT.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

It is with a heart of thanksgiving that I bring this report to you, thankful because of the consecration of our Conference officers and district secretaries, because of the loyalty and fidelity of our members to the great missionary cause and because God has blessed our efforts. Gratifying gains have been made in many departments of our work. Special mention was given the North Carolina Conference at Council in total number of new members and in amount of pledge raised.

FINANCES

As a Conference, we hold third place in point of finances in the Council. Our Young People hold fifth place, our Juniors, first place and our Babies, fifth place. Our combined Children's work holds second place. We are happy to report an increase in amount of money sent Council Treasurer. Our pledge is again $45,000.00—divided as follows: Adults, $37,000.00; Young People, $2,250.00; Juniors and Babies, $5,750.00.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Many of our auxiliary women are beginning to realize that just as truly as the beautiful new school building belongs to the town, so does the miserable little sanitary hut in which lives the poorest inhabitant of the town. There is a growing appreciation of our brothers in every rank of life and a desire for cleaner, safer and healthier communities. Our Methodist women are eager to co-operate with the state Welfare organizations for the betterment of individual life.

STUDY AND PUBLICITY

Our study class leaders as a rule are conducting the classes along the new approved lines of class-room methods. May we continue to realize the importance of use of the press to keep the public informed as to what is being done by our missionary women.

OUR SCARRITT SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Olivia Miller was consecrated at Council and received her appointment to the Holston Conference Orphanage, Greenville, Tenn. Miss Elizabeth Bass will complete her two years course at Scarritt and will go in September to John Hopkins Hospital to study nursing in order to become equipped to go into foreign work as a registered nurse.

ORGANIZATION

In 1922 your Extension Committee set as a goal for next quadrennium; (a) 115 new organizations, of which 20 should be adult, 20 Young People, 25 Junior and 50 Baby Divisions; (b) 900 new members, of which 200 should be adult, 150 Young People, 250 Juniors and 300 Babies. We have a net gain of 5 new auxiliaries for the adult and a net gain of 150 new adult members. This will necessitate a greater goal for members on the part of the adult auxiliaries.

The meeting in Raleigh of the Secretaries was a source of inspiration and a period in which definite plans for a greater Conference were laid. For this privilege, I thank the Conference in the name of all the Secretaries.

MEETINGS

The District Secretaries were asked to appoint a Chairman for each county to assist in developing and organizing Missionary Societies in Churches where there are none. This has been most successful. Two counties on the Wilmington District and four counties on the Weldon District hold county-wide meetings quarterly. Some of the districts have held group meetings and all have held one or more meetings. It has been your Secretary's privilege to meet with the Secretaries in Raleigh, to attend special auxiliary meetings at three places on the Durham District, to preside at the New Bern District Meeting in Mt. Olive, because of Mrs. Kendall's illness, to attend the Washington District meeting at Elm City and a special meeting in Wilson; to attend a Federation meeting in Wilmington and three county meetings; to organize one new auxiliary and to make several trips looking to the organization of auxiliaries; to attend three Inter-Racial meetings in Blue Ridge, Raleigh and Atlanta; to visit Brevard School on the trip to Blue Ridge. Was providentially hindered from attending two district meetings that I promised to attend.

WEEK OF PRAYER

126 auxiliaries observed the Week of Prayer this year. For four years Fayetteville District has observed the Week of Prayer 100%. For 1923 the proceeds will go to Laura Haygood Normal Institute, China; and to Bethlehem House, Nashville, Tenn.

The Conference sincerely regrets that for various reasons the Secretary of the Rockingham District, Miss Georgia Biggs, is resigning her office this year. No more faithful and efficient servant of the Lord can be found, and we know that though she is leaving us in an official capacity, we shall still have the benefit of her nine years of experience, and her prayers will follow her beloved work.

We welcome Mrs. W. R. Royall as her successor, and trust that the entire district will rise up and aid Mrs. Royall in keeping Rockingham District's record as high as it has been in the past.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

In attempting to give the annual report of the Young People's Society of the North Carolina Conference for the year 1922, many thoughts come into my mind as to the whys and wherefores, but since I am not able to explain the many things we have or have not done, I am content to leave it in the hands of the Master Workman who said, "That inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me."

I am giving this report different from the usual way, in order that each district, as well as each auxiliary, may be given a place of its own. So alphabetically the Durham District comes first. There are nine auxiliaries with 160 members. Three new auxiliaries added during the year, Purley, Chapel Hill and Leasburg. Memorial auxiliary made the largest financial contribution and observed the Week of Prayer. Roxboro comes second, and Prospect third, and each of these reported every quarter. The other six auxiliaries from one to two times each, and made fairly good reports. Roxboro only reported Mission Study. The district failed in finances $296.18.

The Elizabeth City District has 7 auxiliaries with 155 members. Three new auxiliaries, Plymouth, Concord and Weeksville. Hertford is the leading auxiliary, and having met the requirements is placed on the Honor Roll. Anderson comes second in both interest and work; had Bible Study and sent reports every quarter. The other five auxiliaries reported very well on finances. The district on finances had a decrease of $13.25.

Third comes the Fayetteville District, and the first of three to have a financial increase over 1921. There are four auxiliaries with a membership of eighty. Hay Street, Fayetteville, is the outstanding auxiliary in this district, and having met the requirements, is entitled to the Honor Roll. Each auxiliary has done a good work. Jonesboro and Roseboro made splendid financial increases. Sanford made a small decrease in finances, but taken as a whole, good work was done. The financial increase for the district is $89.44.

The New Bern District has six auxiliaries and 131 members. Two new ones, Vandemere and Oriental. Oriental, Snow Hill and Mt. Olive made good financial reports. The "Lillie Duke" of Morehead City is the strongest auxiliary and leads in finances, with Snow Hill a close second; these two and Mt. Olive observed the Week of Prayer. No Mission or Bible Study work reported. As a district there is a financial decrease of $38.29.

On the Raleigh District there are ten auxiliaries with 203 members. One new auxiliary at Selma. Edenton Street, Raleigh, more than doubled its finances of the year before and made the Honor Roll. Fuquay Springs is entitled to the Honor Roll also. I am satisfied that many auxiliaries did more work than was reported. Benson, Kenly and Clayton made an increase over the year before; Benson, Kenly reported Mission Study and Kenly observed Week of Prayer. The district has a shortage of $11.08.

The Rockingham District is the largest in the Conference, with 13 auxiliaries and 247 members. It has a number of outstanding auxiliaries, Rebecca LeGrand being first in finances always. This year we are indebted to them for $391.95. This auxiliary and Rowland are on the Honor Roll. To Aberdeen, Hamlet, Gibson and Troy, we owe special mention for splendid financial reports. You will remember that in 1921 an extra gift of $500.00 was made by the Rebecca LeGrand Auxiliary for the opening of a baby clinic in Korea. This amount is not included in this report. Total amount for the district is $1073.18, a shortage of $187.17.

Next is the Warrenton District. It has eight auxiliaries and 132 members. Three new ones, Warrenton, Jackson and Ridge-way. This is the second of three districts that made a financial increase over 1921. Weldon is the strongest auxiliary and made the largest financial report. Garysburg won the Honor Roll and increased its finances from $28.50 in 1921 to $69.85 in 1922. Other than these two auxiliaries no Mission or Bible Study was reported.

In the Washington District there are six auxiliaries with 118 members. No new organizations. This is the third district that made a financial increase. Washington, Farmville and Fremont sent splendid financial reports. Fremont more than doubled its finances of the year before and observed the Week of Prayer. Wilson affiliated with the Epworth League and as a result sent only a small financial sum. The difference of $53.90 which is credited in this report is a balance left over from 1921. Spring Hope made a splendid increase over last year, while Nashville failed to get full credit on account of last report coming too late. The district made a financial gain of $58.08.

Wilmington District has four auxiliaries and 75 members. Mayesville, Rose Hill and Rocky Point report a decrease in finances, but Pollocksville went far "over the top" with a total of $30.56 more than in 1921. Rocky Point reported each quarter. No Misson or Bible Study work reported and no auxiliary observed the Week of Prayer. In 1921, the district contributed $432.51 and in 1922 only $77.56. However, at that time the district had nine auxiliaries and that accounts largely for the financial shortage.

Now as a summary, let me say that I have given in detail these facts, not to discourage you, but that you may know; and that in the knowing you may be able to go into the new year's work with a greater determination to win than ever before.

With but few exceptions reporting is very poorly done. Many seem to think that if the money comes, nothing else counts, and so our Standard of Excellence is largely ignored. If you make a study of this standard you will find that Mission and Bible Study is one of the very important requirements to the Honor Roll. You are asked for prompt and accurate reporting, and that representatives be sent to the district and annual meetings; that Social Service be presented quarterly and the Week of Prayer be observed by each auxiliary. Then credit is given for donations sent to the Conference Superintendent of Supplies and a ten per cent increase in membership must be gained. If this isn't enough to hold your interest in the work, see your report blanks and you will find there are a few items not mentioned elsewhere.

In regard to the financial obligations, we failed to reach our full quota; so the budget of $3500.00 has a decrease of $459.46. But watch us go "Over the Top" in 1923.

LILLIE DUKE,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

As we look back over the Children's work for 1922, we find that we can say, "Thank God for a good year." We have had many discouraging things to happen, yet our work has gone forward. I think that where we failed, the Woman's Auxiliary, in most cases, should bear the blame. Thirty-two Baby Divisions and twenty-seven Junior Divisions have had to be dropped for the lack of good women to take charge. This cuts our number of bands down much lower than last year, though we have added fourteen new Baby Divisions and twenty new Junior Divisions.

Our statistical report is as follows:

BABY DIVISION:

Bands -----	65
Enrolled -----	1,098
Enrollment fees -----	$	76.76
Mite Boxes -----		385.67

JUNIOR DIVISION:

Bands -----	152
Members -----	4368
Dues -----		1,792.33
Pledge -----		3,141.75
Week of Prayer -----		275.57
Total -----		$ 5,714.29
Local Work -----		471.09
Grand Total -----		$ 6,185.28

Subscribers to Young Christian Worker, 436.

Two of our best Superintendents have added life members to our Baby Division; Barden Winstead at Roxboro and Martha Scott Dameron at Nashville. Centenary, New Bern, made Mrs. Mary Eliza Bryan a life member of the Junior Division, a fitting tribute to one who, though old in years was young in heart and loved the children. Laurinburg placed on the Memorial Roll, Edward Herbert Gibson, Jr., and Rockingham added Mary Hinson and Mary Franklin Biggs. They sleep but their influence lives on.

The following bands have made the Honor Roll for the year: Garysburg, Rocky Point, Roxboro, Gatesville, Farmville, Gibson, Benson, Oxford, Queen Street Kinston and Centenary New Bern. Only 436 subscribers are reported for the Young Christian Worker. We hope that there are more than this. This paper should go into every Methodist home where there are children. Every superintendent needs it in her work. Indeed, she cannot get along without it. Yet we do not have even one subscriber reported in the majority of our bands.

Forty-six report having observed the Week of Prayer. Prayer is the foundation of our work, and I trust that this year every band will observe this important day.

The banner for raising the most money has been won by Laurinburg, which raised $326.39. Sanford again wins the banner for the most money per member. This will not appear in our statistical tables. The excellent report for that band for the fourth quarter was mailed in ample time to reach me before my books closed for the year, but miscarried in the mail. While this amount does not appear in our statistics for the year, it was thought by the Executive Committee wise and proper to give the band credit for it in assigning banners.

The following bands have raised $100.00 or more during the year: Memorial, Durham, $280; Trinity, $138.65; Roxboro, $125; Elizabeth City, First Church, $109.82; Hertford, $100; Dunn, $118.63; Queen Street, Kinston, $210; Centenary, New Bern, $235; Louisburg, $105; Oxford, $106.73; Raleigh, Central, $101.20; Laurinburg, $326.39; Rockingham, $200.72. Rockingham District remains in the lead, raising $996.50, counting the amount raised for local work, $1,035.20.

Only a comparative few study circles reported, though I feel sure there were others. Only by stressing this important work of training the children can we reach our highest possible usefulness. These little minds are ready for the truth which will inspire them with life long interest in the work of saving the world. This is our opportunity, let us seize it.

Our aim for the new year is to seek to place a Baby and Junior Division in each church, certainly in each where there is a Woman's Missionary Society. There may be rare instances where it may not seem wise to seek to have a Junior Division, or there may not be anyone who can properly conduct such a division, but there can be no reason why there may not be a Baby Division in every Woman's Society. Some woman surely can be found who will enroll the dear little ones and then once in three months secure their mite box offering.

May we not ask the Woman's Auxiliaries of the North Carolina Conference to be more zealously active this new year than ever before in supporting and extending the children's work. See that a Baby Division is provided for in each auxiliary. Wherever it is possible, get a zealous worker to superintend the Junior Division. Let every effort be made to put the Young Christian Worker into all the homes. Let the children be taught in study circles or story circles. Teach them to give liberally and intelligently, and help them to earn that they may give. Help your bands to win their places on the Honor Roll and then see that the reports are full and that they claim and secure proper recognition. Another year calls us. With earnest effort, unceasing prayer and a Holy purpose, let us do our best for our children and for the Children's Christ. Before I close, I wish to record again the deep debt of gratitude which I owe to the splendid body of auxiliary superintendents whose faithful work made our good report possible.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON,
Superintendent Children's Work

MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY, AND PUBLICITY FOR 1922

Thinking people in these days of strenuous effort, admit the necessity of intensive education in all activities, to insure success in them. The call in every vocation is for workers with training, a training that has been gained from special application either in study under experts, or from practical experience in that particular branch, a combination of both being desirable. We find in the catalogues of Universities, Colleges and many High Schools, whole courses planned out for any who desire to specialize in anything, from the professions, through the whole range of occupations open to men and women of to-day.

If the necessity of definite instruction be acknowledged in secular work, how much more essential that it should be acknowledged and provided for in our Lord's work, which is the biggest and most important business of life, as it constitutes our preparation to fit us not only for living for Him here, but for living with Him throughout eternity. Our leaders in His work recognize this need, prepare courses of study upon the vital religious questions of the day, upon the work the Church is doing in all its fields, and bring to us, in most interesting as well as instructive manner, the whole field of Christian endeavor, spending much money, time, thought and prayer in the preparation. They urge us to take advantage of all this, at the individual cost of only a minimum sum in the purchase of a book, and the devotion of a few hours a year out of the hundreds at our disposal, to the study and recitation of its contents, in order that we may through knowledge become workmen worthy of our hire instead of drawing pay we do not earn, that we may be producers instead of consumers, that we may be contributors instead of always receivers.

Interest in Mission and Bible Study is growing slowly but surely, as we individual auxiliary women realize its importance to the development of practical mission, and its value to our own spiritual growth, and to our efficiency as workers in our Master's vineyard. During the year 1922, the adult work showed encouraging increase, both in number of classes studying continuously, and in new classes reported in both branches of study. Some of these were the same groups of faithful women studying one book after another. Of 194 classes in Mission Study reported, 123 were new, more than half the number of adult auxiliaries in Conference, and in the 65 reporting Bible Study there is a gain of 21 classes as against a gain of 50 classes in Mission Study. The Young People and Children do not show up quite so well—the Young People lose 7 classes in continuous study in missions, the Children 17; in new classes in Mission Study the Young People lost 4 classes, and the Children 8; but the Young People show a gain of 4 classes in Bible Study. It is probable that all classes were not reported to me. There is an increase of 18 Reading Circles, 8 Missionary Libraries, 15 reporting to papers, and 3 using Bulletins. According to Mrs. Steele's last report our Conference stands 15th from the top in 37 Conferences reporting Mission Study, and 22nd from the top in 37 Conferences reporting Bible Study, so that even with our encouraging increase, there is still much room for improvement if we care to keep pace with the other Conferences in our educational work as we do in our financial standing. This year has made a good beginning in that it shows a small but decided gain the first quarter over the first quarter of last year.

The books studied were selected among those recommended by Council. Some improvement was made in reporting, in that reports came in more promptly, but many leave unanswered some one or more of the questions asked, which of course cuts down the average of the report your superintendent must send to Council Superintendent.

In September, as a preparation for the Annual October campaign for classes, I sent letters enclosing Mission and Bible Study leaflets and folders, and Enrollment Cards to all the auxiliaries—Adult, Young People and Children—to the presidents, where there were no superintendents of Study and Publicity, and have answered promptly and fully all requests for information upon many subjects which needed explanation.

The Bulletin has gone out promptly every month to every auxiliary which has been placed upon my mailing list.

Copy enough to fill our two columns in the Advocate has been sent regularly every week, and a special effort made to give our women helpful and interesting information.

Sooner or later every month "Our Missionary News" has been printed and sent out to its subscribers, but under many handicaps and discouraging conditions. The Officers, District

Secretaries and Superintendents have been urged to contribute articles as often as they would, exploiting their departments, and the women have been encouraged to write of their work and methods. No article from any woman has been turned down. Feeling that while some of us know our history, many more do not, the December number of our paper was made an anniversary and historical number. I have written to some outside our Conference for special articles, and have subscribed to certain periodicals, hoping to get information and ideas that would be instructive and helpful—in fact the whole work has been constantly in my mind and heart, and nothing has been allowed to interfere with it, and such as its results are, they are before you.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. LEGRAND EVERETT.

MRS. J. LEGRAND EVERETT, Supt.

Madam President and Fellow Members:

Were we to judge the success of the Social Service work in our Conference by the reports that come to the Conference Superintendent, we would have to admit that the work in our Conference as a whole was something of a failure. But however discouraging the reporting is, there are auxiliaries that are doing a splendid type of Social Service work and are making this phase of our Conference work of some account and importance. Out of the 235 adult auxiliaries, the largest number reporting any one quarter was 53; of the 73 Young People's, 7; and of the 153 Children's, 3. During the year, 42 auxiliaries reported more than once, 46 just once. The majority of the auxiliaries have the Social Service Committee, and about three-fourths of the auxiliaries use the Social Service topics. Most of the auxiliaries do the more familiar forms of Social Service, such as friendly visiting, ministry to the sick, shut-in and stranger, relief work of various kinds and many services of varied sort in public institutions. There are legislative committees at work informing the women of proposed legislation, doing work on school boards, assisting in elections. One auxiliary observed Negro Health Week, one organized a community club for the negroes, one held a mass meeting for negro women and one secured workers for putting on a financial drive for a negro hospital.

Nearly every auxiliary co-operates with other agencies already at work, such as the Red Cross, Traveller's Aid, Y. W. C. A., Parent-Teacher Associations, Civic Leagues and Welfare Boards. One auxiliary has a member on the Social Service Committee of each civic and welfare organization in the city. Other auxiliaries furnish lunches to school children, layettes for poor cases, hold community singings, make community sanitary surveys, take ladies from the Old Ladies' Home to Church, do night school work, promote health demonstrations and assist county nurse with her work among tuberculosis patients.

Out of over 100 Inter-Racial Questionnaires mailed out, only five were returned, and only three auxiliaries reported having an Inter-Racial Committee. It would be impossible to estimate the number of letters that have been written during the year, or the amount of literature that has been sent out. As far as possible, where a name was known, Social Service Literature has been sent to the auxiliaries. Right here, may it be said, that the Conference Superintendent does not handle the material for the regular Social Service programs, and has never been able to secure a supply with which to supply auxiliaries that call for it. This material is sent out with the other program material to the auxiliary presidents by the Superintendent of Literature.

Over fifty letters were written to members of the last Legislature, urging their support of the Mother's Aid Bill.

Several calls have come to the Conference Superintendent to present the Social Service work at meetings of various kinds, which it has been impossible to do because of other duties.

May the coming year find a great army of Auxiliary Social Service Superintendents touching the lives of the different communities for good, showing the women of the Missionary Society what it means to "Make a clean, white highway for the King of Kings."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. S. LOVE,

Superintendent Social Service

Committee Reports

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION OF WORK

We recommend:

1. That we set for our goal for the year a net gain of 10 new Adult Auxiliaries, 5 new Young People's Auxiliaries, 10 new Junior Divisions and 20 new Baby Divisions. For members, 200 new adult members, 75 new young people, 150 new junior members and 200 new baby members.

2. That the women, young people and children of the Methodist Churches in each county be federated and hold at least one meeting during the year; and that the County Chairman assist in developing and organizing societies in Churches where there are none.

3. That sections 4 and 6 of the committee report on Extension of Work, page 38 of the 1922 Annual Report, become Standing Rules.

4. That the Belle H. Bennett Memorial be presented at all the county, group and District Meetings; and the need of a Greater Scarritt be explained and each Auxiliary and individual member urged to make a contribution.

5. That the "Missionary News" be continued with renewed support from the Conference and that each auxiliary strive to send in ten renewals by the first of June.

6. That the delegates wear a small bow of gold ribbon enroute to Conference. That invitations for the next Conference be given during the last business session.

7. That the statistical reports of the Conference officers and district secretaries be printed in leaflet form and distributed to the delegates during the first business session of Conference, in order to save time for inspirational talks, and that delegates may take an accurate report back to the auxiliary.

8. That each auxiliary observe Council ruling concerning the Standard of Excellence Poster, which is that each auxiliary possess a poster.

MRS. HARVEY BONEY,

Chairman

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

We, your Committee on Finance, recommend:

1. Acknowledging with prayer that "The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," and believing that the system of tithing which God in his wisdom gave the early Church is the very best financial plan in all the ages, we urge that each auxiliary do all in its power to further the growth of the stewardship of our money; that the subject be presented quarterly by illustrated talks, personal testimony and reading.

2. That a tithing roll be kept and that our best efforts be used to teach our children and young people to tithe, that the Church of the next generation may be a Church of tithers.

3. That we adopt the budget of twenty-five cents per member, covering dues, Conference Expense Fund, and Retirement and Relief Fund.

4. That the Auxiliary President urge the quarterly payment of all dues and funds. Failure to do this forces the Council to borrow money on which interest must be paid.

5. That during the first week of December, or as near as practicable, one day be observed as "Harvest Day" by each auxiliary.

6. That each District Secretary, Conference Superintendent of Young People and Superintendent of Children's Work shall send all reports to Conference Treasurer by the 10th of the month each quarter.

7. That special attention be given the payment of $4.00 annually by each auxiliary for the support of our Scarritt Endowment Fund.

8. That the need for trained workers is so great, that we continue to increase our gifts to the Scarritt Scholarship Fund for the training of our North Carolina girls, and that this fund be raised the second quarter.

9. That our Conference financial goal of $50,000 be raised by a ten per cent increase, and that the $25,000 voted by the Conference for the Belle H. Bennett Memorial, be pro rated among the districts on the present basis of pledge paid.

MATTIE L. PULLIAM, Chairman

MRS. FLORA M. KENDALL, Secretary

5. That Good Friday be observed as Young People's Day.

6. That for Social Service or local work the girls organize a Nursery Committee to keep the babies while mothers attend Church.

8. That we work faithfully for the support of the Young People's Specials for 1923,—Korea and the Orientals on the Pacific Coast.

9. That the Belle H. Bennett Memorial be presented to the Young People with enthusiasm and that they be urged to co-operate in the campaign.

10. That the Auxiliary Superintendent of Young People with a Committee from the Adult Auxiliary, give special attention to the social life of the Young People.

LILLIE DUKE, Chairman,

EMMA BOOTH BARCLIFT, Secretary

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That the women of our auxiliaries take a greater interest in the Children's Work.

2. That our District Secretaries and the Presidents of Auxiliaries seek to organize Baby Divisions and Junior Divisions in every Church; certainly in every Church where we have a Woman's Auxiliary.

3. That where the children of junior age are already working in some other Church organization and it does not seem wise to undertake the organization of a Junior Division, that the Superintendent of Children's work for that auxiliary be urged to organize a Baby Division.

4. That our children may be informed about Missionary work and conditions, we strive harder to organize Mission Study Circles.

5. That a campaign for the Young Christian Worker be made as soon as possible in every auxiliary.

6. That every Superintendent strive to put her band on the Honor Roll.

7. That District Secretaries try to get the Superintendents of Children's Work to attend the District Meetings, and also bring with them a delegate from the Bright Jewels.

8. That as prayer must be the foundation of our work, we emphasize it more in our regular meetings, and that Children's Day in the Week of Prayer be observed in each Society.

9. That the women of our auxiliaries be urged to co-operate more sympathetically with the Superintendents of Children's Work.

10. That all Bright Jewels be organized in both Junior and Baby Divisions, and that the Superintendents report on them separately as called for in the blanks.

6. Superintendents of Study make special effort to accumulate Missionary Libraries.

7. The strong classes adopt and help the weaker ones nearby, and the Superintendents of Adult classes encourage and aid the young people and children in their study, if desired.

8. Especial effort be made to increase the number of Mission and Bible Study classes among young people and children.

9. In order to insure prompt and accurate reporting, every auxiliary be urged to hold a quarterly executive meeting.

10. Missionary items be sent regularly to local and Church papers.

11. A Superintendent of Study and Publicity be elected in every auxiliary, as provided for in our constitution.

MRS. R. L. BELL, Chairman,

MRS. MARY F. NIXON, Secretary

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

We recommend:

1. That as a body of Christian women, we heartily approve the action of our recent Legislature in strengthening the effectiveness of prohibition in our State by making our laws conform to the Volstead Act, in passing the Mother's Aid Bill, and the act raising the age of consent, thus further protecting young girls. That we continue aggressing work for the State Censorship of Moving Pictures.

2. That we urge the women of our auxiliaries to co-operate with the already established organizations of the community doing Social Service work, such as Civic Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, and others. That we are proud of the record made by North Carolina in Public Welfare Work, and that we urge our women to co-operate in every possible way with the County Welfare Boards and the work done by the State Department in the teaching of safety through Safety Leagues.

3. That our Conference Superintendent of Social Service attend the meetings of the State Social Service Conference, traveling expenses to be provided; that where practical, the local Superintendents of Social Service join this body, and thus benefit from their publications.

4. That we heartily recommend the use of the Council Social Service literature and urge each auxiliary to have the quarterly Social Service meeting. We urge each President to make a special effort to have the auxiliary Social Service Superintendent send a quarterly report to the Conference Superintendent of Social Service.

5. That we recommend the appointment in each auxiliary of the two sub-committees; the Legislative Committee and the Inter-Racial Committee, and that each Inter-Racial Committee appoint a sub-committee to investigate conditions in negro homes, to find negro leaders and work with them to better conditions when necessary.

Resolutions of Thanks

The Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, having received from the City of Henderson a most beautiful and gracious hospitality, and feeling in our inmost hearts a sincere appreciation of the same, we beg to offer the following resolutions:

To the Pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. T. G. Vickers, and his wife, for their many helpful courtesies, we extend our heartfelt thanks and also to the membership of the Church at large for their delightful entertainment.

We thoroughly appreciate the warm words of welcome extended by the ladies of the local society in the name of the departments they severally represented; Mrs. R. J. Corbett, Mrs. J. H. Bridgers, Miss Julia Thomas and winsome little Mary Yarborough.

We will carry to our homes lasting memories of the splendid talks it has been our privilege to hear. It would be a pleasure to mention some of these by name, but it would be impossible to give space to them all.

We would ask the choir of the church to accept thanks for the beautiful music given at our opening service; and to Mrs. Wesley Foreman for her solos of tender pathos, also to Miss Russo, the talented young Italian of Louisburg College, we are especially indebted.

The Bible studies of the noon hour impressed indelibly on our hearts their lessons of help, courage and consecration.

At the Armory, which we have been told was kindly offered by Capt. James Cooper, splendid luncheons were spread for our enjoyment. For these we are grateful, as well as for the lovely reception given at the beautiful country place of Mrs. Peace.

We appreciate most sincerely the generous hospitality of the other churches of the City, and we acknowledge with pleasure our obligations to the Henderson Dispatch for its courtesy and kindness. We trust that we may not have been the only recipients of good during the week. We pray that on all the homes that have opened to these Christian workers the blessings of "Our Father" may rest in full measure.

MRS. E. L. PRINCE,
MRS. J. E. MALONE,
MRS. FANNIE NIXON.

'Twas given you from other hands, you know.
'Tis only yours to keep it burning bright,
Yours to pass on when you no more need light.
For there are little feet that you must guide,
And little forms go marching by your side;
Their eyes are watching every tear and smile,
And efforts that you think are not worth while
May sometimes be the very help they need;
Actions to which their soul would give most heed;
So in turn they'll lift it high and say:
'I watched my mother carry it this way.'
If brighter paths should beckon you to choose,
Would your small gain compare with all you'd lose?
Then lift the torch! You did not light its glow;
'Twas given you from other hands, you know.
I think it started down its pathway bright
The day the Maker said, 'Let there be light.'"

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"Each Annual Meeting means a retreat or an advance. We cannot retreat, we must go forward."

These are the words once spoken by our beloved leader, Miss Belle H. Bennett. Shall we not make them the clarion call of the Conference of 1924?

As we review the work of another year in the North Carolina Conference, as we face the reality that there has been a little retreat along some lines, even if we have gone forward along other lines, may we stop awhile, yea, may we listen and catch the meaning of similar words of ages ago,—“Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward.”

No less to us as workers in His kingdom today, does God speak those words than He did to Moses. We cannot retreat: we must go forward. We face a crisis on the Mission Field.

Now, as an organization that has erected great buildings, opened new institutions, expanded old institutions, and sent out new workers in large numbers, we have come face to face with the real question: After the Centenary, What? The answer to that question is for us, a great Conference, to give. How shall we answer our part of the mightiest challenge ever flung out before us?

Many of you have thought and have expressed the thought during the past five years, how shall we “carry on” when Centenary payments have stopped? Now we can see that the post-Centenary period must have an increased budget. Can it be that we must consider an increased budget in the Missionary Society to be added to the Bennett Memorial Fund, to the Super-annuate Fund, in some case to unpaid Centenary and Christian Education pledges, besides the financial obligations to our local churches? Only the comparative few, who have practical real self-denial can afford to ask that question, and yet they will be the Auxiliary member of the North Carolina Conference, who will more readily answer such a question in the affirmative.

We learn to give by giving, just as we learn to do by doing. Do we call it self-denial when we return to our Lord just a few of the gifts with which He has bountifully blessed us? “Lest we forget”—are we grateful to Him for the multitudinous blessings that He has bestowed upon our beloved State? To quote from the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce: “No State in the Union has made such rapid progress, industrially, agriculturally and educationally as North Carolina during the recent years. Her growth sounds more like a fairy tale than it does real facts. No section of the State has made greater progress along any line than the Eastern part of the State.” It is a fact, too, that North Carolina paid more income tax than any state in the Union last year. We who are called Methodists and live in the Eastern half of the State have shared in our proportionate part of material prosperity. To a greater extent God has increased His gifts to us. How much have we increased our gifts to Him?

If we must go forward again, I bring to your attention the great unorganized portion of the North Carolina Conference. Not in any one particular section do we find it, but, we find churches here and there scattered over our Conference to the number of 519, whose women are not organized for missionary work. We find particularly all of the 244 Adult Auxiliaries where the membership does not correspond with women who are church members. Such a gigantic, intensified Home missionary program this presents to us!

That unorganized church, that disinterested woman, how are we to reach them and impress them with the truth Jesus means that they, too, must tell the Gospel to every creature.

As I see it there is no other possibility quite so great in reaching the unorganized, or to make the church of to-morrow missionary, as the best development of our Children's Work. Words are utterly inadequate to try to express what missionary training means to the life of the child, or what a Children's Missionary Society means in the really spiritual development of a church. The mind of the child so eager to think on something; so responsive to act on the rightly guided impulse; so plastic to be moulded into character with a world-wide vision, and who has naturally such a genuine faith in God, to direct. Can a more wonderful privilege come to any woman in the great realm of God's service, than to have a part in leading His little ones.

Ever dear to the North Carolina Conference will be the record made during the past 44 years by our Bright Jewels. No estimates or no statistics can be placed on the actual accomplishments, but, because we have done well, we should know how to do better. We will not do better, however, until you, as adult members of the Auxiliary, until you as mothers of these children, pray more and study more and work with your Conference Superintendent of Children's Work, and with your Auxiliary Superintendent.

There is no more genuine test of our love for Jesus than His own words prove; "If ye love me, feed my lambs." "If you love Him," will you not as adult members of the Auxiliary begin to pray more earnestly for the Children's Work of our Conference? Will you not express a deeper interest in what our boys and girls are doing to help save this world for Jesus Christ. Will you not see that every church in your County has its Children's Missionary Society. There are very few churches in our Conference so weak that it cannot afford a Missionary Society for its children. If the men and women of tomorrow are to be missionary in thought and action, the child of today must have missionary training.

To make of the church a missionary church is one of the supreme aims of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Another wonderful possibility for development in our Conference is the work with our young people. Have they not the same claim upon us as the children? Have they not suffered neglect, too, in your prayers and study and interest? During the recent Council session in Tampa, there hung in the church a large banner with these words: "Give us the young and we can create a new mind and a new world in a single generation." How true and yet how few of us absolutely believe that truth. If the more than seven thousand adult members of our Auxiliaries did actually reach after the young people with an earnest enthusiasm, a different responses would come from them. The conservation of the energies, the enthusiasm and the talents of our young people, would indeed create a new world.

That our Conference made the largest cash payment in the Council last year for the Bennett Memorial, gives evidence to the fact that we are interested in the best for our young people. For as the Bennett Memorial is the great incentive to "The Greater Scarritt," as Miss Bennett's leadership was to the establishment of Scarritt, so our College for Christian Workers is a wonderful embodiment of the highest and best training for young people in helping them to choose the highest and best service. May there reflect from this consecrated training center a new incentive into the life of each church for the best training for our young people. A call to service is a call to preparation. May we as a Missionary Society of a great Conference help each boy and girl, each young man and young woman, to be fit for the highest and best service to God.

Yet another way we must improve our effectiveness if we are to "go forward" and if we are to increase our gifts to Him. Our study of world conditions, our knowledge of the needs and sufferings of the women and children of the world must be increased before we can expect to have a desire to help change such conditions. Through mission study, missionary research and worldwide reading, we alone can give a clear insight into the heart of so much humanity that is in darkness today, because they know not the light. Into all the world we must help the church of God on its triumphant march of redeeming mankind through His name.

Study missions together, read missions together, discuss missions together, then we will learn in a new way to pray for missions together. Then and then only will we eagerly and gladly give our lives and gifts into His sacred keeping.

Yet another opportunity to help us "go forward," to quote Mrs. W. A. Newell, Council Superintendent of Social Service. "We want to know that Christian women are not unmindful of the great areas of want and wrong neglect, of meager living for bodies and souls," Home Missions intensified is a really social service. Have our communities caught a gleam of the possibilities that a Social Service Department can render? Verily, we can hear those holy words, as the Master reads: "The spirit of the Lord is upon me because He hath anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor, he hath sent me to heal the broken hearted to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering sight to the blind, to sent at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Such opportunities in such a wonderfully organized place for service!

"We cannot retreat, we must go forward!" You have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, go ye, therefore, and teach all nations."

With hearts burning with a deeper love for Him; with lips ready to speak His praise; with hands willing to do His bidding; with feet ready to run His errands, yea, with lives given into entire consecration to His will, the North Carolina Conference will "go forward."

VICE-PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Prayer Special

It is gratifying to note that interest in the Department of Prayer Special is growing and we take great pleasure in replying to all enquiries relative to this phase of the work. Several names of new Missionaries sent out by the Council last year, have been assigned. We had hoped ere this every Auxiliary would have received her Certificate of Membership, but there has been a change made in the handling of Prayer Specials. Miss Porter had charge of it as a Centenary enterprise, but it has been turned over to the Woman's Department into the regular channels, and is under the supervision of Miss Mabel K. Howell, to whom all communications in the future should be addressed.

We believe this to be a vital part of our work and trust every Auxiliary will cultivate her Prayer Special.

MRS. S. H. SCOTT.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

The Centenary cultivation period did much to awaken a missionary conscience and with this has come an appreciation of the value of the Woman's Missionary Society in bringing to fruition the program of the church. This has magnified our work at the same time increased our endeavors many times.

Creditable work was done in 1923 by officers and members as results will show. It always seems to me, however, that an especial laurel belongs to the district secretary who carries as her own all of the problems of her district.

Organization

An effort was made to set our goals so that there would be but a normal increase and could be met without any real strenuous work. The adults were the only ones who met the two goals of net increase in auxiliaries and membership. The adult goal was 10 new auxiliaries. We have a net increase of 11. The goal for new adult members was 200; we have a net increase of 292. The conference has a probation list of new auxiliaries that will be counted as active organizations when they have sent in a financial report to the District Secretary.

Departmental Work

No department of our work is more important than the training of our young people and children. We realize the many problems that confront those who are engaged in training these groups; especially are there many problems peculiar to young people. There is such a demand upon their time from other church organizations working with young people, and also the difficulty of finding efficient and enthusiastic leaders. These young people are responsive to calls for service, and from their ranks are to come those who are to be our missionary volunteers for home and foreign service.

Interest in Mission Study has increased every year. Women want to know conditions more fully that they may serve more perfectly. We urge that our periodicals, "The Missionary Voice," "Young Christian Worker," and "Our Missionary News," may be used more generally. To be intelligent missionary workers we need to know the latest from our fields of work.

Mrs. Johnson has injected more inspiration into our Social Service department than we have ever had before.

The Department of Supplies shows a gain both in number of donations sent and in value.

Stewardship and Week of Prayer

There was an increase of 22 auxiliaries presenting stewardship and of 41 auxiliaries observing Week of Prayer. Fayetteville District adult auxiliaries observed Week of Prayer 100 per cent. Rockingham District led in number of new members, in number of subscribers to "Voice," amount of money to Council Treasurer and in amount of money paid on Bennett Memorial. Raleigh District reported more auxiliaries on the Honor Roll than any other. Weldon District reported more auxiliaries than any other district and paid its proportionate part of Bennett Memorial in full. Washington District reported more auxiliary members.

Honor Roll Societies

Durham District—Burlington, Mary Hambrick.

Elizabeth City District—Hertford, Minnie Wilson, Philadelphia, Stumpy Point.

New Bern District—Elizabeth Hendren, St. John, St. Paul, Snow Hill, Queen St.

Raleigh District—Cary, Edenton St., Henrietta Thomas, Maria Brown, Mary Pescud, Oxford, Sadie P. Spiers.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S REPORT—1923

Glancing over the year 1923, in the interest of the Young People's work, I find that while there is nothing new or startling to report, there is a real cause for gratitude. Many of the Auxiliaries, in spite of seemingly insurmountable difficulties, having put their hands to the plow and refusing to turn back, have been able to go forward, with faith and enthusiasm in this great cause. This to my mind and heart is the most stupendous task of the church.

Realizing, more and more, the great need and importance of trained leaders, the good women of the Southern Methodist, in their wonderful faith and inspired vision, are offering through this channel of the church splendid opportunities to our young people for preparing themselves for the larger service that awaits them. Now, with "Greater Scarritt," and its wonderful possibilities at our door, our joy will be in seeing multitudes of trained workers going to battle for righteousness.

A missionary society has the advantage and is unique, in that it differs from all other organizations in its message of love, peace and good will to all men. Therefore, women of the Conference, I urge that you do all in your power to keep the young people and children of your church "Missionary," for therein lies the secret of power for the salvation of men.

In our organization, with every phase of the work so splendidly outlined, it seems that we should be able to meet every requirement; yet how often we fail. The weakest points in our young peoples work, is in our mission study and social service.

During the year, 12 mission, and 10 Bible Study Classes were reported. Only by a very few was Social Service reported at all. Three Auxiliaries had reading circles. The Missionary Voice had 32 subscriptions.

The year closed with 57 Auxiliaries and 1043 members. 12 new Auxiliaries were added, but 19 disbanded. A total amount of $2,349.40 was sent to Conference Treasurer. 12 Auxiliaries observed the Week of Prayer. 8 Auxiliaries reported as using secular press. 4 boxes of supplies were sent. 8 Auxiliaries made the Honor Roll, namely: Hertford, Hay Street, Oxford, Edenton Street, Rebecca LeGrand, Nashville, Farmville and Warrenton.

Having missed the Honor Roll by only a few points, the following Auxiliaries deserve special mention for having done splendid work: Memorial, Anderson, Camp Grounds, Morehead City, New Bern, Benson, Plank Chapel, Fuquay Springs, Conway, Fremont, Rideway and Severn.

We have, as you know, been somewhat handicapped in our work, by the overlapping of League activities. This is a very discouraging fact and many Auxiliaries were lost because of it. We must, however, be true to our obligations. This is no time for retreat. There is work for everybody, and so long as there are many unreached girls and boys to be won, there is great hope, and an assurance that our time, love and energy spent for the Master's Cause is never lost.

The overlapping of activities of the young people is, an unsolved problem with other denominations as well as own own.

I want to close my report with this paragraph from our Council Superintendent: "No matter how small an Auxiliary is, all could do something along all lines of organized work. They could all have a mission study class or Bible class. They could all do some line of local Social Service work, or send a box of supplies as directed, and be taking the Voice and using the Bulletin of Social Service topics. They would be able to report on all the organized lines of Auxiliary work. This done would mean a larger percentage of Auxiliaries attaining the Honor Roll."

Respectfully submitted,

LILLE DUKE.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

Our statistical report shows for the year 1923 the following summary: Baby Divisions reporting during the year, 71. Of these 11 were new. As five failed to report and were dropped from our list, we report a gain of six Baby Divisions. Junior Divisions reporting during the year, 149. Of these 21 were new, but as 23 were dropped because they sent no report, we report a loss of two. On the roll of the Baby Division, we have 968 names. There are 4221 members of the Junior Divisions. Amount raised by the Baby Divisions: Fees, $74.27; Mites, $379.30; Life Membership, $20.00; Memorial Roll, $10.00; Belle Bennet, 25c; Total $483.82. By the Junior Divisions: Dues, $1713.97; Pledge, $300.68; Week of Prayer, $164.64; Life Membership, $35.00; Belle Bennett, $123.70; Memorial Roll, $7.98; Total, $5,053.81. Eunice Boney, the little daughter of our Corresponding Secretary gave three gold dollars from among her treasures for the Belle Bennett Memorial Fund, which when sold brought $15.00. Then a friend gave through the children for this fund, $100.00. The total sent by the Bright Jewels of the North Carolina Conference to the Conference Treasurers was $5537.73. Amount reported as raised for local work, $378.63. Subscribers to the Young Christian Worker, 503.

Laurinburg keeps the banner for the largest amount raised and Sanford keeps the banner for the largest amount per member. Sallie Lou McKinnon gave me, while she was at home, a red satin Chinese baby blanket. This I shall use for a banner for the best Baby Division. This goes for the year to Queen Street, Kinston. The Rockingham District leads in the amount of money raised; Elizabeth City, second. Elizabeth City the largest number of Baby Divisions; Raleigh, second. New Bern the largest number of babies enrolled; Elizabeth City, second. Weldon has the largest number of Junior Divisions; Elizabeth City, second. Elizabeth City the largest number of Junior Division members with Weldon second. Elizabeth City is, therefore, the banner district for 1923.

Our superintendents need the co-operation of the women of the Auxiliaries to help them to the best success in their work. Therefore, I ask that Article 2nd of the recommendations of the Council on Children's Work be accepted by this body and loyally carried out in every Auxiliary: "That a standing committee on Children's Work be appointed in each adult Auxiliary, the Superintendent of Children's Work to be chairman of the committee."

If such a committee, consisting of the very best women in each Auxiliary, is formed and they will see to it that negligent superintendents are awakened or removed, that faithful superintendents have the co-operation of the Auxiliary and, especially, that new superintendents have assistance and support, I have no doubt that the year 1924 will be better than any year in our history thus far.

Each Children's Society should consist of both a Baby and a Junior Division and these should be reported separately, showing the enrollment in each, the moneys raised by each, and the other items called for in the report. Our Conference suffers in comparison with other Conferences, I am sure, by the failure of our superintendents to fill out the report blanks fully. I request that the matter of full and accurate reports be stressed.

The plan provided by the Woman's Missionary Society of our Church for its children's work is so fine that where carried out it will meet the varied needs of the children of the Church. I am afraid that in some cases some parts of this plan are neglected. We must stress Bible Study, Prayer, Mission Study and Social Service. And we must not forget that the children themselves have social needs. We urge the women of the Auxiliaries to help the superintendents to carry out every part of this plan.

Our Standard of Excellence must not be neglected. More bands should try to make the Honor Roll. Only nine were reported as making this roll last year: Gatesville, NewBern Queen Street, Kinston, Benson, Ququay Springs, Louisburg, Oxford and Farmville. I feel sure that other societies were worthy of being so enrolled but they did not report.

We are grieved that the year 1923 showed a falling off, but I think that I can promise that the Auxiliary superintendents of the North Carolina Conference are determined to make the year 1924 the best year of our history. We ask the women of the Conference to stand behind us, to help us with your prayers, your sympathy and your earnest efforts in our behalf. Do not, we beg you, be indifferent to the great work of training the children for the Master's service.

For the first time in our history, we have the honor this year of having with us our Council Superintendent of Children's Work, Miss Althea Jones. We extend to her a hearty welcome and hope that she will be at home in our Conference. We pray that her coming to us will be both a joy to her and a blessing to us and to our work.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY AND PUBLICITY FOR THE YEAR 1923

Great stress is everywhere being laid upon Stewardship and Tithing. We are being warned through the press and from the pulpit and platform, that what we have of money and personal property, is not our own, but God's; that we hold it in trust to be used for Him; that certainly a tenth of it, if we would be faithful and just must be returned to Him as His part by right, and that if we would make an offering, it must be given from the remaining nine-tenths.

Of our time, more than a tenth belongs to Him. A seventh of our time is His, "The Lord's Day," to be spent in worship, in hearing of Him, in reading and studying and teaching His Word, in meditating upon His greatness and goodness and in communion with Him.

In the parable of the Talents, Christ teaches us that our natural endowments are gifts from Him, and must be used for Him. Therefore, as one's mind, as it searches into and discovers, studies out and applies, directs and controls the resources and affairs of the world, under God's will, is His investment in us, not only should the worldly goods accumulate as a result of mental ability governing physical effort, be used for Him, but the mind itself should be used in a special and definite way for Him.

As we realize this more keenly, we admit the justice of it, and an increasing number of us every year, are dedicating our minds to definite and special work for Him—some leading, some organizing, some teaching, some writing, and many studying for Him.

1923 Increase in Classes

The growth in the number of classes in Mission and Bible Study during the past year, was encouraging, and the interest in both, manifested by Auxiliary superintendents of study and members of classes, in many letters received, together with their fine spirit of co-operation in adopting suggestions as to books for study and methods of conducting classes, have been gratifying and inspiring. There was an increase of 17 in reporting and of 17 in new Adult Mission Study classes; of 5 in reporting and of 7 in new Young People's Mission Study classes; a decrease of 6 in reporting and of 5 in new Junior Mission Study classes; increase of 4 Reading Circles, 2 Missionary Libraries, 30 Adult and 2 Young People's Bible classes, of 53 papers used for disseminating missionary news. Our Conference is still far down on the list of Conferences in the department of study, but we believe we can and will climb up nearer the top as we continue to enlarge our recognition of the importance, the necessity almost, of information to the success of our work, as applied equally to us for our own growth, and to ourselves for what we may do for the work.

Books Used

The Books studied were selected from among those recommended by Council. The Inter-Racial subject was not a popular one, but our women who used the books on this subject, put aside prejudice and personal distaste, to do so, and many expressed enjoyment of the course after it was finished.

Reporting

There has been decided improvement in reporting, but there is room for still greater improvement, both in promptness and in the use of the latest report sheets. Many times several questions on one sheet will be unanswered in anyway; frequently the name of the Superintendent will be omitted, and oftener than not, the name of the Auxiliary too, so that many times I have had to guess of the identity of the class. It should be remembered that all these questions must be answered in the report sent in to Council Superintendent, and the questions you leave unanswered, are counted in the negative, and pull down your Conference average.

Literature Distributed

In September, as preparation for the annual October campaign, I sent letters, enclosing Mission and Bible Study and Publicity leaflets and folders, Enrollment Cards, pamphlets explaining the Church School of Missions, our own Conference Study Honor Roll and Honorable Mention folder, and Prayer Circle leaflets, to all the Auxiliaries—Adult, Young People, and Junior—to the Presidents where there were no Superintendents of Study and Publicity. I mailed, also, at Mrs. Boney's request, a copy of our Circle Plan to every member and officer of Council. I have answered promptly and fully many requests for information upon many subjects which needed explanation.

Standard Work

Last year at Henderson, you endorsed and adopted my plan for organizing Standard Work as defined by Mrs. Hume R. Steele, so I formulated it, had it printed as folder and mailed it with the other study literature in September. This plan looks to Conference Credits and Certificates of Proficiency as an aim for individual members and classes as a whole, and is modeled after those of the schools and other organizations which give credit for work done to requirements. It has been endorsed and accepted as "a fine plan" for our Conference Standard, by Mrs. Steele, who expressed herself as being quite pleased with it. There are women in our Conference, and the number is increasing, who can and are willing to do real study with some definite aim before them. As an evidence of this there were two Auxiliaries which once formed classes for Standard Work, the Jane K. Meadows of New Bern, and Minne P. Gates of Graham. Owing to not quite a clear understanding of the requirements for Conference Credit, the Minnie P. Gates did not quite succeed, though some of its members did fine work. The Jane K. Meadows, with Mrs. W. W. Millett, its efficient Superintendent, is the first class to receive individual and Class Conference Credits. Both these Classes are working for Certificates of Proficiency this year, winning their first Credits on it in the first quarter. To get a report upon this new work, I had printed on the back of the December Bulletin, a questionnaire, with the request that it be filled out and returned. The response was small. Eleven returned the answered questionnaires.

Meetings

It gave me genuine pleasure to attend meetings at Faison, Nashville, Zebulon, Jackson, Lumberton, Hamlet and Laurinburg.

Correspondence

The Correspondence has constantly grown heavier, but it has been the real pleasure of the year, and I have grown to depend largely upon the letters from the women for encouragement and stimulus, always answering them fully and as promptly as possible.

Publicity

The Bulletins have gone out promptly to every Auxiliary which has been placed upon my mailing list.

An earnest effort has been made during the year, through the columns of the Advocate and "Our Missionary News," to give you the helpful and interesting information you need in carrying on our work. I have subscribed to periodicals, bought books, and provided myself with other literature, whenever I have seen it mentioned, from which it has seemed something might be gotten which would be helpful to you in any way.

Your decision last year to have "Our Missionary News" printed by the Advocate Company, has resulted in giving you a much better looking paper.

Having realized for sometime that our paper was not nearly so self-supporting as it could be made to be if the circulation were pressed systematically, and all the back subscriptions collected, and that I had neither the time nor the mental equipment necessary for such a task, I requested the Executive Committee to appoint Mrs. W. S. Snipes of Dunn, Business Manager. This they were pleased to do, and Mrs. Snipes graciously consented to accept this hard job. She plans to put on a vigorous campaign for subscriptions and to collect unpaid ones. We cannot offer a per cent of amount collected on subscriptions as the Advocate offered "the good women" sometime ago, but surely we may expect them to do for their own, through love and loyalty, what they would do, for pay, for another not so peculiarly their own.

A New Superintendent of Publicity

At its meeting last year in Mobile, Council separated the Publicity from the Study Work, creating the office of Superintendent of Publicity, with increased and definite duties. The new Superintendent will be elected by our Conference this year, and as a medium for her exclusive use in carrying on her publicity work, I recommend to the Executive Committee which appoints the editor of the Woman's Page, that the new Publicity Superintendent be appointed to edit our columns of the Advocate Woman's Page. I have asked for these changes for two reasons: The work as I have been attempting to do it for three years is too much for one woman to do unless she were at liberty to devote her whole time to it, and there are many able women amongst us who would delight in the service as I have, for it has been a great joy to me, and I thank you for the opportunity, which I consider a real privilege, of spending myself in this service.

MRS. J. LEGRAND EVERETT,
Conf. Supt. Study & Publicity.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SOCIAL SERVICE

In summing up to the Social Service Work of the year, your Superintendent comes to its close with a sense of gratitude and regret. I am truly grateful for the privilege of serving you in position which I occupy—and regret deeply I could not accept every invitation to meet with and present the work fully to our women, who are anxious to know and to do.

In spite of weak places in our work the reporting has greatly increased. The reports never cover all the study and never fully represent the actual work being done. There is a deepening sense of the meaning of Social Service throughout the Conference. The social conscience of our women is being aroused and they are seeking to bring the spirit of Christ into their communities through efforts to make them a better place in which to live.

It is gratifying to note the growing tendency to federate the Social Service Superintendents by Districts and towns. This gives support of ordinances for legislative work, for any measure civic or social that concerns the larger community. When we speak unitedly there is so much power.

We are functioning along the lines given by the Interracial Commission, making efforts to bring about better community conditions. I am sure all of their work could not be reported, because much of it has been personal study by their committees in their efforts to find a way by which all could reach an attitude in keeping with the Christian responsibility which is upon us.

Our women are growing in experience with social problems and all organized for more complex forms of Social Service work. It requires courage and tact as well as knowledge for a woman to summons her forces in pursuit of some work for the good of a whole community—but this is being done, as shown by the reports from many Auxiliaries of clean-up campaigns, clinics held, work done in school and visits and petitions to County and Town Commissioners in the interest of law enforcement. Our women are really touching fundamental social problems—working in cases of need, delinquency, defectiveness, or neglect. Great emphasis has been put upon work for the Children—in school, in the family, play grounds, and in institutions for the crippled and tuberculous. This being a special charge for the department of Social Service. Quite a number of our Auxiliaries entered heartily into the movement to support the Child Labor Law—passing resolutions endorsing the Federal Amendment. They, too, have borne their responsibility in supporting the Woman's Committee on Law Enforcement by the sale and study of "Save America." Two hundred and fifty copies have been sold in our Conference.

The work done by the Committee of 100 in Prison Legislation and the publicity is reflected in the work of our Auxiliaries for prison camps and jails. Our women are reporting great activity among these unfortunate beings.

In addition to visits and religious services, we recommend that the Social Service committee make investigations into the cleanliness, decency, moral condition and humanity of treatment accorded the inmates of County Institutions and co-operate with the other forces of the community for needed reforms.

To carry forward these and other purposes, we recommend federation of Social Service Superintendents in the Districts and Cities. Only two-thirds of communities reporting, acknowledge receipt of literature, and just half prepare and present the program.

Your Superintendent begs that you will remove all obstacles that stand between the Social Service literature and a well prepared program.

Out of the 240 adult Auxiliaries the largest number reporting last quarter was 88; of the 66 Young People's 9; and of the 150 children 6; making a total of 103 reports. 13 legislative and 17 Inter-racial committees reported.

Most of the Auxiliaries co-operate with governmental and voluntary agencies. All Auxiliaries do the more familiar form of Social Service, visiting the sick, shut in, and strangers.

ACTIVITIES SINCE LAST CONFERENCE

Your Superintendent has attended a 10 day Conference of Temperance and Social Service, Junaluska. One Executive Committee in Goldsboro, one State Social Service Conference; three District Meetings; 14 County Meetings.

250 reports blanks sent out the 4th quarter—trying to induce our women to report—250 circular letters sent out in December, 1923—giving suggestions for the work for the new year 1924—distributed each quarter 250 Social Service Working Plans. It would be impossible to estimate the number of letters that have been written during the year—and the amount of literature sent out.

Quite a number of our women have been truly interested in the work—many excellent reports have been received from the Superintendent of Social Service and I wish that I might have time to enumerate all of their splendid work. May I take this opportunity of thanking my co-workers for their splendid support and co-operation which has made the success of this department.

Remember that upon the well doing of each one of us depends the welfare of our immortal souls, as well as human bodies. May God bless our efforts and enable us by His presence to do a greater service in 1924.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. LEE JOHNSON,
Superintendent Social Service.

REPORT OF SUPT. OF SUPPLIES

I am glad to be able to report another year's work in the Supply Department. I am also glad to say that it seems with the general prosperity that has come to our people our preachers are better paid and taken care of than has been before, our women have responded to every call that has come to us and still the amount sent Preachers is very small. In response to Mrs. Wilson's suggestion of a shower for Miss McKinnon, her own letters have told you how generous the shower proved to be and how much enjoyed and appreciated was each article sent. In that far off land no doubt in using and seeing the beautiful things sent for her comfort her heart goes out in love and communion with the dear women of the Missionary Society who gave her this token of their love.

From all reports the Super-annuate Fund is an assured thing and we rejoice to look forward to the day when there will be no "forgotten man" within the bounds of Southern Methodism, but as they reach the retiring age or condition our beloved Preachers will be assured of a competency in their declining years and boxes and barrels of old clothes will have become a thing of the remote past.

Donations have been sent as follows:

Sent Sallie Lou McKinnon for Virginia School	$306.78
Sent Preachers	150.00

Sent Schools -----	53.00
Total -----	$509.78

MRS. IDA T. WATKINS,
Supt. of Supplies N. C. Conf. Society.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF LITERATURE

Number of packages of literature sent during the year at stated intervals, 2,386. About 100 have been sent out to new Auxiliaries or to replace those lost in transit. Quite a number of letters have been written in answer to inquiries about program literature. The expenses of this department have been $89.79. This does not include the mailing of Council minutes as Superintendent of Literature was in a hospital at that time and Mrs. Boney got them out.

The Superintendent will be glad if the leaders for the June Meeting will notice that the June program literature is not free and is not sent out through this department. Any one wishing the leaflets will have to order them from Nashville and send money to pay for them. This refers to the Social Service programs. Any member reporting a new Auxiliary will greatly assist the Superintendent if she will state the district to which she belongs, thus making it easier to list the Auxiliary.

MRS. W. F. MURPHY.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION OF WORK

We recommend:

1. That we enter heartily into the membership contest recommended by Council in which every auxiliary is to do its part to help our Conference make a larger net gain for 1924 than the Western North Carolina Conference, and in order to do this, that the Executive Committee of each auxiliary secure list of women who are member of their local church, and plan for a systematic effort to reach the uninterested women.

2. That our Conference select a theme for our annual meetings, using the same theme that Council uses when practical.

3. That each District select a slogan which will be used for period of one year.

4. That the women, young people and children of the Methodist Churches in each county be federated and hold at least one meeting during the year; and that the County Chairman assist in developing and organizing societies in churches where there are none.

5. That attention be called at county federation meetings to lack of willing leadership among our women, and that they be entreated for entire consecration of life, that a call to service may be considered a privilege and an obligation.

6. That we co-operate in every way with the editor of "Our Missionary News," to make our conference organ of greatest benefit to the auxiliaries members, and to make an effort to secure subscription in proportion to membership.

7. That Week of Prayer be stressed in our Conference, not only for finances, but for inspiration which it brings.

8. That at each business meeting of the auxiliary, or at circle meetings, reports from the Conference minutes be presented by a three minute speaker.

9. That the district making greatest percentage of increase in finance, members and auxiliaries, have privilege of sending its secretary to the Council meeting, the expenses to be met from the Conference Expense Fund.

10. That statistical reports of Officers and District Secretaries be printed in leaflet form and distributed to the delegates during the first business session of the Conference in order to save time for inspirational talks, and that delegates may take an accurate report back to the auxiliary.

11. That each auxiliary observe Council ruling that each auxiliary possess a Standard of Excellence poster.

MRS. HARVEY BONEY, Chairman.

MRS. W. R. ROYALL, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

1. Acknowledge with prayer that "The Earth is the Lord's and the Fullness Thereof," and believing that the system of tithing which God in His wisdom gave the early church is the very best financial plan in all the ages, we urge that each auxiliary do all in its power to further the growth of the stewardship of our money, and that the subject be presented quarterly by illustrated talks, personal testimony and reading.

2. That a tithing roll be kept and that our best efforts be used to teach our children and young people to tithe, that the church of the next generation may be a church of tithers.

3. That special attention be given the payment of $4.00 annually by each auxiliary for the support of our Scarritt Endowment Fund.

4. That the need for trained workers is so great, that we continue to increase our gifts to the Scarritt Scholarship Fund for the training of our North Carolina girls, and that this fund be raised the second quarter.

5. In view of the great enlargement of our work in mission fields through the Centenary, and the consequent need for increased maintenance fund, we recommend that an appeal be made to the membership of the societies to continue as a special annual contribution for the Woman's Work the whole or a part of their Centenary subscriptions, and that the money thus given shall be called "The Carrying-On-Fund."

6. That our Conference pledge be raised by a 25 per cent increase, making a pledge of $56,250; and that the $25,000 voted by the Conference for the Belle Memorial Fund be paid in yearly installments until completely met.

MRS. F. B. McKINNE, Chairman,

MRS. A. M. GATES, Secretary.

2. That the work of the young people be stressed to a greater extent in District and County meetings.

9. That every auxiliary present demonstration, "The Life Transcendent," and take collection for the Bennett Memorial.

MISS LILLIE DUKE, Chairman,
MISS HAZEL WILLIAMS, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That the adult societies take a more sympathetic interest in the children's work.

2. That, according to the action of Council, "A standing Committee on Children's Work" be appointed in each adult auxiliary, with the Superintendent of Children's Work as chairman.

3. That the adult auxiliaries use these committees to help the Superintendent of Children's Work in every way in which she may need help.

4. That the adult auxiliaries see to it that both Baby Division and Junior Division are organized in each church.

5. That as prayer must be the foundation of our work, the auxiliaries and superintendents of children's work co-operate in seeing that children's day in the Week or Prayer be every where observed, and that prayer and Bible study be stressed at every meeting.

6. That Mission Study classes be formed and every effort made to teach missions to the children.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON, Chairman,
MISS SADIE MATTHEWS,
MRS. E. V. WEBB.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

1. We recommend the prompt study of "Save America" by auxiliaries, and the co-operation in the enforcement of all laws making for the betterment of the people and the stability of Government.

2. We recommend the federation of auxiliary Social Service Committees for the study of local conditions and of Council Social Service plans and for the promotion of Christian Community Service.

3. We recommend a more intensive study of the young people's social life and social service by auxiliary superintendents of Social Service in co-operation with the Social Service standing committee on Young People's Work.

4. We recommend that Social Service Committees shall visit county institutions, jails and convict camps for religious and friendly services, and shall take steps to relieve any conditions found to be unsanitary, inhuman, or in any way below the level set by a trained Christian conscience.

5. We recommend that auxiliary committees make themselves familiar with the provisions made by the state for the Negro in health and welfare programs, and that they lend their influence in creating public sentiment vital to the securing to all classes a rightful share in the benefits of such agencies.

6. We recommend that Social Service Superintendents take membership in their State Conference for Social Service, and that where no other provision is made, a sum be set aside by vote of the Auxiliary from local funds to provide such memberships as are desired, and to meet the incidental expenses necessary to carry on the work of the Social Service Committee.

7. That we seek opportunity for our members to serve as "Big Sisters," by cultivating sympathetic acquaintance with girls whose attitude or circumstances indicate the need of guidance.

8. That the Superintendent seek to bring about larger co-operation between the auxiliary and the church Social Service Committee.

9. That the auxiliary committee on Social Service continue the formation of inter-racial sub-committees according to the plans set forth in the "Handbook for Inter-racial Committees."

10. We recommend the study of the quarterly working plans and a report on same, and preparation and presentation of a Social Service program in June and December.

MRS. J. J. BROADHURST,

MRS. C. W. MARTIN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY

Realizing the vital importance of information, to the success, in every department, of the work undertaken by the Woman's Missionary Society, we recommend:

1. That our slogan continue to be "A Study Circle in every auxiliary and every member a member of the Study Circle."

2. That a Superintendent of Study be elected in every auxiliary, as provided for in our Constitution and By-Laws.

3. That the Superintendent of Study and the Superintendent of Social Service arrange together for a quarterly lesson and lecture on that phase of our social service work most prominent at the time, such as Inter-Racial Relations, Law Enforcement, Child Labor, etc. The Conference Superintendent of Study will receive such study, allowing an additional five points on the year's course for either Study Honor Roll or Honorable mention.

4. That, as next year is to be "Young People's Year," a stronger and more definite effort be made to form Mission and Bible Study Classes in the Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries.

5. That the Superintendents of Study in the Adult Auxiliaries encourage and foster Mission and Bible Study in the Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries, by teaching classes, holding "Story Hours," or co-operating in any way desired, with the Superintendents of these departments.

6. That the president of every auxiliary stress the importance of Mission and Bible Study, and co-operate with the Superintendent of Study in forming and conducting such classes, if necessary and desired.

7. That campaigns for Mission Study be put in October for the study of the Foreign Missions subject; in January for the Study of the Home Missions subject; and in April for a Standard Class in Bible Study, by Adult, Young People's and Junior Auxiliaries.

8. That every class—Adult, Young People's and Junior—complete the study of the book it selects, on the Foreign Missions subject in the fourth, the Home Missions subject in the first and the special Bible subject in the second quarter, thus making the course in Missionary Education complet for that year.

9. That in addition, whenever possible, every auxiliary, as such be organized for continuous Bible Study—the importance of Bible Study cannot be over emphasized.

10. That the books used for study shall be selected from among those latest recommended by Council, and in the order named above, the new foreign in the fourth, the new home in the first, and the Standard Bible Class in the second quarter.

11. That Standard Work in all classes be constantly urged; that "Our Class shall be a Standard Class and our goal shall be the Study Honor Roll," be the aim of every class and its Superintendent of Study.

12. That where it is impracticable to work for the Study Honor Roll, an earnest effort be made for Honorable Mention.

13. That strong classes adopt and nurture weaker ones nearby, by passing on used books, and helping in any way needed; that they try to organize classes in auxiliaries where there have been none before.

14. That an especial effort be made to accumulate and use Missionary Libraries and to form Reading Circles and Prayer Circles in every auxiliary.

15. That County Superintendents of Study be elected in the County Federations, to co-operate with the Conference Superintendent of Study in reaching the auxiliaries unorganized for study, and in presenting Mission and Bible Study at the Federation meetings in the absence of the Conference Superintendent.

16. That every class be promptly reported by Enrollment Card to the Council Secretary in charge of Missionary Education.

17. That the quarterly reports to Conference Superintendent of Study be made promptly and fully, the latest report forms being used.

18. That all auxiliaries hold quarterly Executive Committee Meetings as an aid to prompt and correct reporting in all departments.

19. That the Superintendents of Study take the initiative in planning for a "Church School of Missions" in their congregations.

20. That Superintendents of Publicity be elected in every auxiliary and their names sent at once to Conference Superintendent of Publicity.

MRS. J. S. BATTLE, Chairman,
MRS. W. W. MILLETT, Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS

The Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, having received from the city of Goldsboro a most beautiful and gracious hospitality, and feeling in our inmost hearts, a sincere appreciation of the same, we beg to offer the following resolutions:

To the Pastor of St. Paul M. E. Church, Rev. C. L. Read, and his wife for their many helpful courtesies, we extend our heartfelt thanks, and also to the membership of the church at large for their delightful entertainment.

We thoroughly appreciate the warm words of welcome extended by the District Secretary, Mrs. F. M. Kendall and Mrs. J. B. Davis, the President of the Auxiliary.

We would express our appreciation to the visiting members of the Council, Miss Esther Case, Miss Emily Olmstead, Miss Althea Jones, and Mrs. R. L. Kirkwood, for the help, the information and the inspiration with which they have enriched our conference.

We would ask the choir of the church to accept thanks for the beautiful music given at our evening services, and to Mrs. W. S. O'B. Robinson for her sweet solos, which have prepared us daily for our Bible hour.

To the different committees of the church, the stewards who assisted the reception committee.

We appreciate most sincerely the kindness of Mr. B. G. Thompson, who has provided for us the delicious luncheon, served in the Women's Club.

We acknowledge with appreciation the generous hospitality of the other churches in Goldsboro. We are under especial obligation to the Baptist Society, who tendered us not only their homes, but their Church building as well and to the young people who presented the beautiful pageant, "The Striking of America's Hour."

We acknowledge with pleasure our obligations to the Goldsboro News, the Daily Argus, for its courtesy and kindness in furnishing such full reports of the Conference, and also thank the pages for their work.

We trust that we may not have been the only recipients of good during the week.

We pray that on all the homes that have opened to these Christian workers the blessings of Our Father, may rest in full measure.

MRS. A. M. GATES,
MRS. W. M. HIBBS,
MRS. E. T. WHITE.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BY-LAWS AND STANDING RULES

1. That our conference body shall be composed of one delegate from each adult auxiliary, one from each young people's auxiliary and superintendents of Children's Work; these, or their officially elected alternates, together with the Executive Committee, District Secretaries, and County Chairman, shall constitute the voting body of the conference.

2. That a registration fee of $1.00 be sent with the name of each delegate, this amount to be applied on the delegates luncheon two days of the conference. All delegates who fail to send their names at least five days before the opening day will not be assigned a home by the local committee; they must look out for their own entertainment.

3. The Annual Conference session shall include three days for the transaction of business.

4. That officers shall be elected biennially; the election to follow the opening devotional of the afternoon session of the second day of conference.

5. That all Corresponding Secretaries of Young People's and Children's Work report to District Secretaries, so that the District Secretaries may be in close touch with these departments.

6. That a Committee on Publication be named by the Executive Committee: said committee to consist of an Editor and a Business Manager of "Our Missionary News."

7. That the Committee on By-Laws shall be composed of the President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, and one member from the body.

8. That we adopt the budget of twenty-five cents per member, covering dues, Conference Expense Fund, and Retirement and Relief Fund.

9. That the Auxiliary President urge the quarterly payment of all dues and funds. Failure to do this forces the Council to borrow money on which interest must be paid.

10. That during the first week of December, or as near as practicable, one day be observed as "Harvest Day" by each auxiliary.

11. That each District Secretary, Conference Superintendent of Young people and Superintendent of Children's Work shall send all reports to Conference Treasurer by the 10th of the month each quarter.

ELIZABETH LAMB, Chairman,
VARA L. HERRING, Secretary.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

Women's Missionary Society

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE

M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH

Held in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church
Greenville, N. C.
April 20-23, 1925

A PRAYER

O Lord of all Creation, to Thee we pray,
The field is wide, and we are weak,
Show us the way.

We grope so blindly Lord, and often stray,
Be Thou our guide, that we might tread
The Christian Way.

For faith and strength we pray, Savior of Men,
Take Self away; fill us with Love
And zeal, and then—

Choose then for us our work, Savior Divine,
The field where we shall toil, The Sheaves
Shall be all Thine.

—Mrs. J. T. McPherson.

The Women's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet in our Conference in 1926.

Will not each member of the North Carolina Conference pray and work that it may be the best session of the years?

Our entire Conference will unite with our delightful Capital City, in being hostess to that great body of Christian women.

EVENING SERVICES

Seldom, if ever, have the evening services of a Conference been more worth while from every standpoint.

The first evening was a "Get-to-gether" meeting for the District Secretaries to meet their delegates, for Committees to meet, and finally a social hour in which old friends greeted each other and new friends made.

Tuesday evening Dr. J. L. Cunningham led the worship after which the young people of the Greenville Church presented the pageant, "The Transcendent Life," depicting the life story of Miss Belle Bennett, which was very much enjoyed and appreciated.

Mrs. Hume R. Steele delivered a splendid address on the subject, "Building a Christian World Society."

Wednesday evening the opening worship was conducted by Miss Daisy Davies, who always brings a vital message whenever she speaks. Rev. H. C. Ritter of Nanking University, China, delivered an illustrated lecture on "Our Work in China." Mr. Ritter showed a splendid set of pictures, and his lecture was one of the most instructive ever given of foreign mission work.

Thursday evening the opening worship was conducted by Mr. Ritter, followed by an address by Miss Daisy Davis. Miss Davies was a wonderful power and help all during the Conference.

MUSIC

It would be impossible to name in detail the lovely selections of music rendered by the choir and especially the solos, which were so much enjoyed, all of which added so much to pleasure and good of the Conference.

At the close of the service Thursday evening resolutions of thanks and appreciation were read and adopted by a rising vote of the Conference. Thus closed one of the best, if not the best session that the North Carolina Conference has ever had.

OFFICERS' REPORTS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We have been privileged to come together again as representatives of our beloved Conference, to dedicate ourselves anew to the Christian Way of Life and thereby to make greater plans towards helping God's Kingdom come on earth.

It seems to me that an annual meeting is always an occasion of looking forward, of seeing visions of greater endeavors that we may attempt in His name, rather than a realization of past achievements. Yet, "We build on stepping stones of our dead selves to higher things," and so rich has been our heritage of past years and so deeply was our structure laid in love and faith and prayer by those who made the way for us, that there has been the greatest incentive for the North Carolina Conference to leave a record for each year that should make of the forty-six years a perfect whole. But have we built each year as strongly as we were capable? I leave the answer with you.

Our increases have been encouraging, however, for in number of auxiliaries, Adult, Young People and Children, in the last ten years we have grown from 287 to 554; in membership from 7079 to 15000; in finance from $26,775.91 for all purposes to $117,000 for all purposes in 1924. In increase in membership for last year we led the Council. North Carolina's gain in auxiliaries was the largest, twenty-two in number. In the words of Mrs. Lipscomb's report, "The leader of the leaders is North Carolina." In finances we had a gain of $5,028 in amount sent to Council Treasurer. In largest number of increases in Children's Work, North Carolina leads with the Virginia Conference. In cash paid to Bennett Memorial North Carolina leads. In winning the Council meeting for 1926 North Carolina was the victor.

I have not given this little review of some of our victories that we might become proud boasters, but to encourage this great conference to attempt still greater things for our Lord. Grateful we should be for the faithful membership of our conference that has made such a report as last year's possible. But are we satisfied with our attainments? Have we done our best? Have we reached, even yet, a definite knowledge of the "Christian Way of Life" and a real acquaintance with self denial for our Lord? Out of the abundance with which God has blessed Methodism in Eastern North Carolina, we have sent our gifts each year into the Council treasury. Not one penny have we asked to be returned to us to develop Mission work. Why should we? There was no need for it in the North Carolina Conference, and I doubt not that there is another conference with such a record.

With the smallest percent of foreign population of any state in the Union; a state that is doing more for the education of the negro than any other state; with an unexcelled rural population; with no congested city problems; with a state Welfare program that is attracting the attention of the Nation,—Home Missions is indeed Foreign Missions so far as our personal contact is concerned. On the other hand, there is an intensified Home Mission program before us, that of making every church in the North Carolina Conference a missionary church; that of seeing that a Missionary program is before every woman, young person and child in our conference. We must admit failure when we think of the 758 churches in the North Carolina Conference and only 266 Adult Auxiliaries. There are some churches that have Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries without the adult, but not many. Is the field white unto the harvest? Is there not work that we must do if we are to help in the largest way possible to help save this world for Jesus Christ.

Approximately our Districts have made the following records: The Durham Districts has 45 churches with no organization of the Woman's Missionary Society; the Elizabeth City District has 46 unorganized churches; the Fayetteville District has 84 churches without Missionary Societies; the Newbern District has 70 more church buildings than it has Adult Missionary Societies; in the Raleigh District 50 churches have no Woman's Missionary Societies; the Rockingham District has 41 unorganized churches; there are 43 more churches than Missionary Societies in the Washington District; the Weldon District has 31 churches whose women have no Missionary Societies; the Wilmington District has 68 unorganized Churches. Such a wonderful opportunity for service and such a challenge to test our love and obedience to our Savior lies at our very doors. Are we willing to send our daughters into the "far flung battle line" of heathen lands; are we willing to give for others to go? Are we willing to pray for those who serve "off yonder" and not be consistent enough in our Christianity to leave neglected the forgotten churches of our Conference? Oh, the hypocrisy of a woman who is willing to give a little of the Lord's money back to Him, who will pray for others on the field, and yet who is unwilling to give herself for service in her own church and community. When will all of us, as members of the Missionary Society, and who call ourselves Christians, be glad to give up personal pleasure and comforts to help some one find the way to our Savior?

More of America today is eager to learn of an easy way of life than it is to know of the "Christian Way of Life." Miss Bertha Conde rightly said in one of her wonderful Bible talks at the Tulsa Council, that "there would not be enough diversions in Heaven like we Americans have been used to" and that "many of us are making ourselves miserable because we are not following Christ but half way." Again Miss Conde said that "Jesus has been living in one room of our house, when other rooms of our house are comperative strangers to Him." So can we not all see that the Woman's Missionary Society needs first of all entire consecration if we follow the Jesus Way of Life. We are as a "Light set on a hill" in the Church of God, trying to make of the church a deeper spiritual power, and thereby a stronger missionary force. Every woman in every community has calls into almost every phase of activity, and one can only choose the best. No one person can answer every call; but life is a matter of choice. "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve", God or the world? Each must decide her own way of living, but, after all, is there any life but the "Christian Way of Life?" All of us attending this conference have tried to find the "Christian Way of Life", yet some have found it far more easily than others. Some of us have only been playing at being Christians. The only way that all of us and our entire conference can know of the Christian Way is to learn again and again, each day and each hour of our lives that love is the essential truth of Christianity. The more we love, the more we can serve; the more we love each other, the more we love our Heavenly Father; the more we love Him, the more we are going to give of ourselves in every way to tell those who have never heard of Him. And St. Paul tells us that "Though we give our bodies to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth us nothing", for "The greatest of these is Love" and John tells us "God is Love." Henry Drummond says that "You can take nothing greater to the heathen world than the impress and the reflection of the love of God upon your own character", for, after all, the language of love is the only one intelligible to all races of all lands. Do we always speak such a language in our own Auxiliary and community? Are we living the Jesus way, or our own way of life? Does "What we do speak so loudly that no one hears what we say?" Oh, members of the North Carolina Conference, it is no new message that I bring to you today, but the same thought that I have brought again and again, and it is one that is stamped indelibly on my heart and mind as the supreme need of this splendid conference. The dependence of all our aims on the consecration of each individual member to bring to pass the missionary organization of every church in our conference.

The gifted speakers on this week's program will present to you the outstanding needs of the world today. We must as a Conference be prepared to meet our very large part of relieving those needs.

In order to effectively reach the nearly 500 churches that have no missionary organizations, we must see that each county is organized. That the Weldon District has the smallest number of unorganized churches tells the true story that it is the District that has developed most the County organizations, and it reminds us also that it is the effective work of another link to connect the Auxiliary with the District. A 100 per cent Conference this year. Is it too much to expect from God if we attempt it for God?

For the first time the Woman's Missionary Council is to meet in the North Carolina Conference in 1926. Each auxiliary in the Conference should feel that it is joint hostess with our splendid Auxiliaries of Edenton St. Church, Raleigh, in giving our sincerest welcome to that splendid body of Christian leaders from around the world. May the Council session be an extra incentive this year for us to make a 100 per cent record. As each of us can have the privileges then of catching the vision of a world wide mission field and its need each one of us will be made so happy if we have aided our Auxiliary to its 100 per cent and has thus helped the North Carolina Conference to attain its goal. A 100 per cent Conference for 1925. If we are 100 per cent Christian, how easy it will be to accomplish. God meant for us to work with Him. Are we doing our part of the work? In our work for Him may you and I get a broader vision of what He would have us do, as we try day by day to find new paths He would have us tread with Him on "The Christian Way of Life."

MAY EDLA SMITH EARLEY,

President.

REPORT OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

PRAYER SPECIALS

Some one has said "Prayer is the God given implement with which we may accomplish the impossible." Are we remembering this fact, and by means of it taking an active part in the work of our Prayer Specials?

I cannot go to China, Japan, Korea, or Africa, but, by the way of the throne, I can have a real, a vital share in the "labors abundant" of those who have gone.

One striking attribute of Christ's praying was power. He has passed that power on to us. He said "Ask, and it shall be given you," also "If two of you shall agree as touching anything, it shall be done." The only limit, then, to our power of accomplishment is the limit which we ourselves put upon our asking. What a blessing we could be if we would reach out across the miles and stand shoulder to shoulder with out "Special" as she stands in the dark places of the earth and holds up the Christ that all who see may live. We may do this, if we will, by the way of the "mercy seat." Shall we not remember her in a special prayer at our regular meetings? Will not the membership of each society make the Prayer Special the subject of personal private prayer? "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Then suppose we send a letter, with words of cheer and encouragement, telling her that we are praying for her at every meeting, and also that she is remembered daily by the members of the society which has adopted her as their special.

Our missionaries and institutions are in need of our sympathy and cooperation through intercession in these critical days of our mission work, when opportunities multiply and dollars are with held.

Practically every adult auxiliary in the North Carolina Conference has been given a Prayer Special. What are we doing for them? Will you not, when you return to your auxiliary find out who your Prayer Special is? Will you not become interested personally and then interest every member of your society in making that "Special" doubly efficient by your continued, earnest, powerful prayer?

Since our last annual meeting three auxiliaries have adopted new missionaries as Prayer Specials as follows: Carthage Young People, Miss Mary Bell Winn, Language School, Soochow, China; Enfield Adult Auxiliary, Miss Clara Howard, Holston Institute, Songdo, Korea; Conetoe Missionary Society, Miss Cornelia Crozier, Soochow, China. The opportunity of adopting a Prayer Special has been presented to a new auxiliary, where no assignment has as yet resulted.

It has also been the privilege of your Vice President to present this most vital phase of the work at two District Meeting and at one County Federation Meeting, where addresses on other topics were made. Besides these meetings addresses have been made at one District Worker's Council and at a Quarterly meeting of a local auxiliary.

I do not wish to over-reach my province, but since we have no conference leader for the Belle Bennett Prayer League, May 1, in closing cite the following from the Council minutes of 1924?

PRAYER LEAGUE

At our annual session in Mobile Miss Annie Carlton, an invalid in the Harmon Home for Incurables of that city, was greatly stirred by the reports of the plans for the Memorial which she read in the daily press. She longed to throw herself into the work as she had more than thirty years ago when the Scarritt Bible and Training School was established. Upon the initiative of some of her friends a group of our women visited her. It was then that she made her pledge to the Memorial, promising to pray for its success. When her story was told in the Council meeting Mrs. Mary Bruce Alexander, a long-time fellow worker of Miss Bennett's pledged to give herself in the same manner. From this incident there grew the thought of a Prayer League for shut-ins, who should give themselves to the ministry of intercession. Mrs. R. W. MacDonell was selected as the leader and asked to outline its plans. These plans are simple and comprehensive. Any person who joins lists her name with the leader, pledging to continue daily supplication for the Council, Conference, District, and Auxiliary Campaign Committees, for the gifts with which the Scarritt College is to be enlarged and for the development of the work, that it may be according to God's will.

That there may be unremitting prayer, members are requested to fix certain hours for daily petition. The great ideal of Mrs. MacDonell is that society members in the foreign fields should add their names to the League, thus girdling the globe with a continual supplication. Requests for prayer are sent to Mrs. MacDonell, which she in turn transmits to the members of the League. Fourteen Conference societies have cooperated in this work of intercession by appointing conference leaders or making this feature a part of their larger program of development of religious resources. It is greatly hoped that the Belle H. Bennett Prayer League may become permanent, representing more truly the life purpose of the one whose life we seek to perpetuate than any other feature of the Memorial.

MRS. F. F. STEPHENS, Chairman,
MISS ESTELLE HASKIN, Secretary.

Even though we should lead all Southern Methodism in increase in membership and in finance, and should fail in prayer, then would the work of the year fall far short of our power of accomplishment.

If you have not organized a Prayer League among the shut-ins of your society, will you not have a leader appointed to do this work, and so enable them to become "the Lord's remembrancers" on behalf of this beloved cause, like Miss Annie Carlton, who has gone to receive her reward?

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. A. M. GATES, Vice President.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

A testing time has come to the North Carolina Conference. We have two splendid young women graduating from Scarritt College for Christian Workers in June; Ruth Merritt, commissioned to Brazil, and Euline Smith to Korea. Yet because there are some who have not stood the test of discipleship and Christianity as these girls have stood it, there is not money to send them. Through faith in you and the glorious achievements of your past, your Council representatives dared to pledge your support as long as Ruth Merritt and Euline Smith witness for Christ as our representatives in the foreign fields. The test is to pay these salaries over and above our pledge. We believe that the N. C. Conference will stand the test.

ORGANIZATION

The net gain of adult organizations was most gratifying. Elizabeth City's gain exceeded Weldon and Rockingham Districts' by one. The net gain in adult membership was 447, leading the Missionary conferences of Southern Methodism. Our three largest districts by enrollment are; Rockingham, with 1104 members, a net gain of 76; Newbern with 899 members, a net gain of 99; Elizabeth City District had a net gain of 112 members.

STEWARDSHIP AND WEEK OF PRAYER

Elizabeth City District's increase in presenting Stewardship was 15 per cent; Newbern District's, 6 1-4 per cent and Rockingham District's 3 per cent. We urge each Corresponding Secretary to see that Christian Stewardship is presented or discussed in her auxiliary at least quarterly and reported to the District Secretary. "There must be a great new conception of our stewardship to God if we have fellowship with Him in service," —Miss Bennett.

Fayetteville District with the exception of one auxiliary reported observing Week of Prayer. Newbern District's percentage increase in Week of Prayer observance was 20 per cent. Rockingham District's was 20 per cent and Washington District's was 22 2-9 per cent.

SPECIALS AND WEEK OF PRAYER SPECIALS

The Baby Division special shall continue to be the Kindergartens at home and abroad. The Junior Division specials shall be; Foreign, Work in Brazil; Home, work in New Orleans. Young People's Specials; Home, Sue Bennett Memorial School; Foreign, Bennett College in Rio de Janeiro. The Week of Prayer funds will go to Sue Bennett Memorial School for the erection of a gymnasium, in the Home field; for the foreign field it will go to Carolina Institute Seoul, Korea, to provide a High School building as a memorial to Mrs. Josephine Campbell, who established our work in Korea and was the founder of Carolina Institute.

GOALS

Our goals for this quadrennium were 350 Adult Auxiliaries; 93 Young People's Auxiliaries; 183 Junior Divisions, and 133 Baby Divisions; 7133 adult members; 1284 young people members, 5036 Junior members, and 1439 members of Baby Division. At the close of the third year we have 267 Adult auxiliaries, but we have gained more adult members than our goal called for. We have 7788 members. We have 59 Young People's organizations and 1004 members; 152 Junior Divisions and 4350 members; 71 Baby Divisions and 1146 members.

FINANCES

Amount of money sent to Council for 1924 for dues and pledge, $47,948.97, and $6,379.44 for Bennett Memorial, making total sent Council Treasurer $54,328.41. Our pledge for 1925 is $48,500.00 dues and pledge; $2,000 for Ruth Merritt's and Euline Smith's expenses in Brazil and Korea, making total amount of pledge $50,500, and we are due $13,000 on Bennett Memorial. The total amount of money due Council for 1925 is $67,328.00.

HONOR ROLL

Durham District led in percentage increase of auxiliaries on Honor Roll; adding six new auxiliaries, which gave increase of 250 per cent. Elizabeth City District made 100 per cent increase, and Rockingham made 57 per cent increase. Rockingham, according to our ruling of "District with greatest number of adult Honor Roll Auxiliaries receives the Korean Urn. Ever since we have used the urn for award Raleigh District has held it, with Rockingham a close second. This year Raleigh has 7 Honor Roll auxiliaries, Newbern 7, Durham 8, and Rockingham 11. The Honor Roll Auxiliaries by Districts areas follows:

Durham: Brooksedale, Front St., Burlington, Memorial, Minnie P. Gates, Mary Hambrick, Oak Grove, Trinity and Gregson.

Fayetteville: Alice Green and Roseboro.

Elizabeth City: First Church E. City, Gatesville, Hertford, Minnie Wilson, Philadelphia, Stumpy Point.

Newbern: Elizabeth Hendren, Morehead City, Jane K. Meadows, St. John, St. Paul, Smith's Chapel and Queen St.

Washington: Ayden, Nashville and Farmville.

MRS. HARVEY BONEY,

Corresponding Secretary.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S REPORT, 1924.

In presenting this report of the Young People's Work for 1924, I ask the Conference to consider the confusion resulting from the change of officers in mid year, the handicap of the new superintendent's inexperience and other ever present difficulties, and I am sure all will agree that while the Young People have made no sensational advance, neither have they retreated.

The overlapping of activities of the young people is still an unsolved problem and the report of the committee appointed by Council to serve with a like committee from the Epworth League "to consider on what ground there may be close co-operation, or unification, and to devise ways and means for such procedure" is on the face of it discouraging. However, please consider carefully items one and three of the report.

Item 1. The Epworth League will not consider any plan of correlation or exchange. Your committee does not consider organic union wise at this time when changes in relationship of Boards may be made by the General Conference in session next year.

Item 3. The Constitution under which the Woman's Missionary Council works was given it by the General Conference. Under this constitution the Council has a responsibility for the missionary training of the youth of the church, which it should neither shirk nor transfer to another organization.

If we women could be brought to realize that youth is life's glorious seed-time, that it is the time when the great choices of life are made, we would also realize that the chief problem of the Kingdom of God is the problem of winning and holding the young life of the world to God and the Church. If we fail in this we ultimately fail in all else. Someone has said that a Christian cannot be indifferent to the welfare of the boys and girls who are growing up about him, and Dr. Frank Crane said, "The most important people in the world are the boys and girls in their teens." How, then, can we women, believing that to be truly Christian we must be missionary, neglect to train and keep our young people missionary?

The year closed with 59 auxiliaries and 1004 members. Nine new auxiliaries were added but 7 were disbanded. A total amount of $1973.56 was sent to conference treasurer. As an indication of growth in Social Service, 13 auxiliaries reported presenting Social Service topics, and $260.64 was spent on local work. Nine boxes of supplies were sent, valued at $211.20.

During the year 15 Mission Study and 12 Bible Classes were reported. 20 Auxiliaries presented Stewardship and 17 observed Week of Prayer. The Missionary Voice had 52 subscribers and the "News" 7.

Seven auxiliaries made the Honor Roll, namely: Farmville, Hertford, Troy, Roseboro, Oxford, Milwaukee and Severn. The following deserve special mention for excellent work accomplished, some of them missing the Honor Roll only by failing to send in their reports promptly: Hay St., Memorial, Warrenton, Seaboard, Providence, Maxton, Yancyville, Plank's Chapel, Mt. Gilead, Camp Ground, Carthage, Durant's Neck, Roxboro, Prospect, Fremont, Anderson and Jonesboro.

In closing my report I plead with the Young People to strive hard to make 1925 a wonderful Young People's Year in the N. C. Conference, and to aim high, remembering these words of Wesley, "Not failure, but low aim is crime," and may we all, young people and women of the Conference, learn the obligation of duty, the pleasure of working, the power of duty, the influence of example, the virtue of patience, the blessing of giving and the success of perseverance.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. D. RIGSBEE,

Supt. of Young People.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY

The importance of mission and Bible study was stressed, the formation of classes for both was urged as strongly and continuously as possible by letter and by articles in our Conference columns, and the subjects and books, recommended by Council, advertised in the Advocate and Our Missionary news at the proper times throughout the year, but I missed, and I believe that my words missed the personal contact of Conference Superintendent with auxiliary Superintendent as it was not my privilege to attend any of the district or group meetings, except in my own district. Every letter, with however small a request for information, was answered as promptly and as fully as it was in my power to answer.

PREPARATION FOR OCTOBER CAMPAIGN

Following my usual custom, the Mission and Bible Study books recommended by Council for the year's work, were ordered as soon as they were off the press, for my summer's reading until they were completed, so that I might be ready to add my personal opinion to the recommendation of Council when the questions of "what shall we study?" should begin to come in from my superintendents.

Early in September, my annual study letter, enclosing one from our new Council Superintendent, Mrs. B. W. Lipscomb, with Mission and Bible Study leaflets and the new text books folders, Enrollment Cards, and Prayer Circle leaflets, was mailed to every auxiliary—Adult, Young People, and Junior.

Standard Work.

In 1923 you endorsed my program of Conference Credits for study, accepting it as the Conference Schedule in this department and it was presented by letter and folder with the Council leaflet defining standard classes, at the beginning of the fourth quarter of that year. Two auxiliaries reported standard classes that quarter, and after taking examinations, members of both classes qualified for Conference Credit for standard work, and one received also the Class Conference Credit.

Believing that a settled and systematic schedule of study is just as necessary for successful work in our auxiliary study as it is in any school work, I have been trying to settle our schedule of study by urging the use of all classes of the Council recommended books at definite times—the foreign subject in the fourth quarter, the home subject in the first or second quarter, and the Bible study in the second or third quarter. This order, in mission study particularly, is required of all classes working for any Conference Study Honor—the Study Honor Roll, Honorable Mention, Conference Credit, or Certificate of Proficiency—as a surer method of accomplishing the task set us by Council, and the response from my superintendents has been whole heartedly in accord with my request.

While stressing the value of Standard Work and urging the organization of Standard Classes, I have stressed also the vital importance and the almost absolute necessity of information concerning missions, to secure the best results in carrying on our missionary work, and so have urged the formation of classes for study even if they could not be standard classes.

Decreases and Increases

My report shows a decrease in numbers in almost every item: In Mission Study there is a decrease of 14 Adult Classes in reporting, but an increase of 11 new classes; a decrease of 3 Young People's Classes in reporting, and of 2 new classes; a decrease of 5 Junior Classes reporting and of 1 new class. In Bible Study there is a decrease of 1 Adult Class reporting, but there are 36 new classes (the first time new classes in Bible study have been called for); an increase of 1 Young People's Class; 1 Junior Class reported which is an increase of 1; a decrease of 15 Reading Circles, and an increase of 7 Missionaries Libraries. Three Districts—Durham, New Bern and Wilmington—report no Young People's Mission study classes; two Elizabeth City and Fayetteville—report 1 class each. Four Districts—Elizabeth City, Fayetteville, Rockingham and Wilmington—report no Junior Mission study classes; Two—Durham and Weldon—report 1 class each. Three Districts—Durham, Fayetteville, and Wilmington—report no Young People's Bible study; three—Elizabeth City, New Bern, and Raleigh—1 class each. Eight Districts, all except Durham, report no Junior Bible Study. Durham reporting 1 class. Three Districts—Raleigh, Washington and Weldon—report mission study classes of both Young People and Juniors. For the whole Conference for 1924, 19 mission study classes, 13 of which were new, and 15 Bible study classes, 2 of which were new, were reported to me from the Young People's; and 9 mission study classes, 4 of which were new, and 1 Bible study class, it new, were reported to me from the Juniors. My annual letter enclosing study literature, in which there was an especial appeal for Young People and Junior classes was sent to every Young People's and Junior Auxiliary as well as to the Adults, and every letter received from them was given promptly and fuller attention, if possible, than to those from the Adults.

To offset this general decrease in numbers, there was an encouraging increase in the number of standard classes, and a decided improvement in the quality of work done in all classes. Eleven adult classes—Stantonsburg, Elizabeth Hendren, Troy, Louisburg, Oxford, Fayetteville, Gatesville, Mary Pescud Jane K. Meadows, First Church Elizabeth City and Minnie P. Gates—and two Young People's—Farmville and Marion Allison (Raleigh)—reported standard work, totalling 33 standard classes, divided between Bible subjects, and books on the Home and Foreign Missions subjects recommended by Council for 1924.

In addition to the two Study Honor Roll classes, and the five, making Honorable Mention, there were sixteen—Sadie Puckett Spiers, Minnie P. Gates, Philadelphia (Corapeake), First Church Elizabeth City, Woman's (Oxford), Stantonsburg, Woman's (Severn), Woman's (Weldon), Young People's (Farmville), Woman's (Troy), Young People's (Maxton), Louisburg, Gatesville, Brooksdale, Mary Hambrick (Roxboro), and Front Street (Burlington)—which held Bible classes, and Home and Foreign Missions study classes using books recommended by Council for 1924, several of them lacking only five points of gaining the Honorable Mention certificates. This improvement in quality of work done, while comparatively small, is most gratifying for the short time this schedule has been in operation.

Books Used

In nearly every class the books studied were those recommended by Council for 1924, there being only a few hang-over classes from 1923, and a little confusion in several classes in selecting the foreign book of the fourth quarter 1923 instead of the home book for the first quarter 1924. The classes have been glad to co-operate with me in my effort to establish a fixed or definite order of study, seeing, perhaps, the value from a psychological as well as a spiritual standpoint of the whole Church studying the same subject at the same time. "Save America" was used by a goodly number of classes.

Reporting

The blanks from the Corresponding Secretary's New Record and Report Book, are being more generally used, and they have so simplified the matter of reporting that many of the puzzling features of the old system have been eliminated, and a more correct estimate of the standing of our Conference in Mission and Bible study can be gained from the answers to the questions Council asks on their new sheets. Greater attention should be paid to sending them in on time.

Questionnaire.

To get returns upon quality and quantity of work done by all the classes, for the purpose of awarding the Conference Credits for study, I formulated a questionnaire designed to bring out such facts as were needed. This was printed and mailed in December, classes during the year, to be filled out and returned January 1st, to every adult and young people's auxiliary, which had reported and 56 of them were returned properly filled out, as against 11 of the year before.

The result of the year's work does not satisfy, but the desire is to leave behind those things that are past, looking with renewed zeal and strengthened purpose to those of the future, that failures may be made stepping stones to successes.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. LeGRAND EVERETT,

Conference Superintendent of Study.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLICITY

The office of Superintendent of Publicity creates a vital relationship between the auxiliaries and our missionary world. It also furnishes a medium of communication for the auxiliaries.

Each auxiliary should receive regular information concerning the investments made in foreign fields and those made in the homeland.

Though the majority of the members of our missionary society are debarred from personal contact with our workers in their respective fields, still it is possible through this office for all auxiliaries to come in touch with our representatives and to follow them through the years as they develop the work in its many phases. Through a knowledge of our trained workers and their work, a keen interest is developed and progress is assured.

There is also great benefit obtained by the auxiliaries keeping informed concerning the work of our own conference society. To know that a small auxiliary of a certain country church is conducting a study class the year round, with the exception of the three summer months, and at the same time meeting the requirements of the Honor Roll, must necessarily stimulate the larger auxiliaries in the towns. Furthermore, when the smaller auxiliaries see the goal set for the conference society, they at once, realize that this can only be obtained by each auxiliary doing a full share.

In consideration of these facts, as your Superintendent of Publicity, it has been my effort to reach every auxiliary and to secure from each some bit of news for dissemination. This has been rather a difficult undertaking, but after continued effort I have succeeded in securing practically a complete mailing list.

Of the 560 Bulletins received each month for distribution, there was not an extra copy left for the April issue for my own use. Owing to an incomplete mailing list, there were extra copies left from other issues, which I distribute at churches where there are possibilities of an organization.

Apart from the information to be obtained from the Bulletin and the inspirational value of learning about the achievements of our numerous auxiliaries, there is much to be gained by cultivating each other and discussing among ourselves the growth of the kingdom.

Our limited space in the Advocate is an impediment, and the fact that our material must be sent in fully a week ahead also detracts from the interest of our editorial column.

While many have failed to avail themselves of the opportunity and privileges of this department, yet the majority of the women have shown a genuine loyalty in keeping me informed concerning the various enterprises of the conference society.

MRS. M. T. PLYLER,

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SUPPLIES

Early in the year a request came from Mrs. Lipscomb that the Missionary Auxiliaries assist in the Superannuate Drive. I sent report blanks to all whom I knew how to reach, but received reports from very few. Later she asked me to report separately all boxes sent orphanage, which I tried to find out, but the number reporting this was small.

We have given some very material aid to emergency calls, and every application I have received the work, and the ladies responded so beautifully to my requests that I felt very much encouraged, and I am very sure that what has been done in this department has been appreciated and rightly applied.

Donations have been sent to the following institutions and persons:

To Preachers and their families, 14	$547.85
To Brevard, Check	15.00
To Scarritt, Canned Goods	10.00
To Missionary, Box	5.00

Total , Seventeen Donations $577.85

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF LITERATURE

Since appointed to the office of Superintendent of Literature last September, the program literature has been sent our promptly each quarter to the auxiliaries, also programs for Week of Prayer, and many packages to new auxiliaries and prospects.

The changing of the Superintendents necessitated considerable correspondence, besides many letters of inquiry pertaining to the work at large. It is most important that the Superintendent have a correct mailing list by December 1st in order that the literature for the first quarter be sent to the proper address; otherwise, there is delay in the Presidents getting their program material on time, an unnecessary expense is incurred in sending out literature the second time. Am glad to state that only three auxiliaries failed to receive second quarters' literature. This, I believe, is due to the fact that each parcel had been stamped: "From Superintendent of Literature."

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

Our Children's Work has not advanced as much during 1924 as we had hoped. Many of the Junior bands have suffered by having all the children over eight years of age taken from them and placed in other organizations. That affected our finances, helping to bring down our financial report. Nineteen Baby Divisions and twenty-one Junior Divisions failed to report and were dropped during the year. Usually in such a case the fault lies with the adult auxiliary. Our children's work is the very foundation of the Woman's Work and we can never grow as we should as long as we neglect these little ones. Some one has said: "As long as we fail to train our children in intelligent organized service, we are training them for irresponsibility and inaction in the face of the need of the world."

Only ten bands made the honor roll: Graham, Gatesville, Harrells, Roseboro, Kinston, Centenary New Bern, Louisburg, Oxford, Edenton St., Raleigh and Farmville. Forty-eight report having observed the Week of Prayer, though I hope that others observed the Week even if they did not report it. The following have been made life members: Junior Division: Nell Hurley and Moselle Hurley, twin sisters, Troy. Baby Division: Mary Louise Parks, St. Paul Church, Goldsboro; Myrtilla Gill Harvey, Kinston; Alton Wells Thomas, Farmville (made by the Pitt County Federation); Grace Evelyn Satterfield, Concord Church, Parson Circuit; Eleanor Burton Winstead and Ned Thomas, Roxoboro. There were 41 Mission Study Classes reported and 52 Social Service Committees. We had reported 583 subscribers to the Young Christian Worker, a very small list.

Sanford has again won the banner for the largest amount per member, raising $4.90 per member. The Centenary New Bern Juniors raised the largest sum, $218.84, receiving that banner. Our Kinston Babies carry off the Baby Banner for the best all round Baby Division. We are proud of these banner societies but there are others which did such excellent work that they deserve almost equal honor. Please look at our statistical report which will appear in our Conference Minutes, that you may see what fine work they are doing. Our children deserve your encouragement and co-operation in their work. And the good women who superintend them both need and deserve your help and your prayers. Without such faithful and skillful workers as my co-workers, the auxiliary superintendents of children's work, our splendid work were impossible. I give them my love and hearty thanks for all that they have done.

The totals of our statistical report, the details of which will appear in the Minutes, are: Baby Divisions, 1923, 71; added during 1924, 25; lost, 19; divisions reporting during 1924, 77; members enrolled, 1146. Enrollment fees, $100.60; Mite Box Fund, $489.48; Life Memberships, $40.00; Total, $630.08. Junior Divisions, 1923, 151; added, 22; lost, 21; Divisions reporting during 1924, 152; members 4350. Dues paid, $1503.35; Pledge, $2523.21; Week of Prayer, $73.38; Life Memberships, $20.00; Memorial Fund, $20.90; Scarritt, $13.00; Belle Bennett, $71.17; Total, $4425.01. Sent to the Conference Treasurer for Baby and Junior Divisions, $5055.09. Local, $338.02. Grand Total, $5391.11.

I would earnestly urge all the women of our auxiliaries to awake to their great opportunity and responsibility in regard to the children's work. Please help us to make 1925 our best year. May God add His blessings to you in this and in all your other work for Him.

Yours in His service,

MRS. W. H. D. WILSON.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION AND FINANCE

We recommend:

1st.—That we make our financial goal for 1925 an increase of 15 per cent. This will make our pledges to the Council of $48,500.00, and also pay the expenses of the two outgoing Missionaries, Misses Ruth Merritt and Euline Smith, $2,000.00; making a total for all purposes, $50,500.00.

2nd.—That a special effort be made to raise this year the $13,312.00, which is the balance still due on the Belle Bennett Memorial Fund.

3rd.—That special emphasis be placed on life memberships and the placing of names on the Memorial Roll.

4th.—That the Auxiliary Corresponding Secretaries present stewardship quarterly by leaflet, pageant, demonstration or in some effective way.

5th.—That increase of pledges and gifts for the support of the work be secured from the new members and organizations and by the continued appeal for the "Carry-on-Funds."

6th.—That every Auxiliary enter heartily into the membership contest recommended by the Council, and strive to add new members to their roll every month.

7th.—That special effort be made to enlist the women of the rural churches where it is not practicable to organize a Woman's Missionary Society, into the Gibson Auxiliary.

8th.—That the District Secretaries continue to stress the organization of the county work in their districts.

9th.—That we heartily endorse the plans for Young Peoples Year, and urge the Conference and Auxiliary leaders to give the fullest co-operation in making these plans entirely successful.

MRS. F. B. MCKINNE,

Chairman,

MISS VARA L. HERRING,

Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That we express with gratitude our appreciation of the act of the Council by which a field worker for the Young People's Department has been allowed. We ask for a similar co-operation on the part of the Conference Executive Committee and District Secretaries by which the efforts of the field worker may be far reaching and effective, and that Conference be given the privilege of sharing the expense of travel.

2. Trusting that the results of "Young People's Year" will be a marked increase in this department, and recognizing the fact that our District Secretaries are already overburdened, we recommend that wherever practicable one woman in each district shall be secured as an assistant to promote Young People's Work.

3. That each auxiliary place a more decided emphasis on missionary educational features and on stewardship.

4. That each auxiliary include in the program of work:

- a. The Honor Roll.
- b. Quarterly Executive Meetings.
- c. Daily prayer for Volunteers.
- d. Daily prayer for Specials.
- e. Tithers among the members.
- f. Observing Week of Prayer.

5. That each auxiliary make an effort to reach all unreached young people in its community.

6. That, as Honor Roll ribbons have now been in use for five years or more, we ask that a certificate be prepared and issued to all who have been awarded five Honor Roll ribbons, with provision for a seal when ten such awards have been received.

7. That we fix our Conference pledge at $2,000.00.

8. That we continue our support of the Bennett Memorial Campaign.

9. That Conference Superintendent of Young People's Work attend Conference for Young People's Superintendents at Lake Junaluska, the Conference bearing expenses.

10. That we, the Young People, co-operate in every way with the Editor of "Our Missionary News."

11. That the Young People's Specials for 1926 shall be: Home, Sue Bennett Memorial School; Foreign, Bennett School in Rio de Janeiro.

12. That we ask again for a more loving and sympathetic understanding and cultivation of our young people on the part of the women.

MRS. C. D. RIGSBEE,

Chairman,

MRS. J. B. STEPHENSON,

Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That as we have 250 Adult Societies, and only 152 Juniors and 77 Baby Divisions, that we urge the other societies to organize both Baby and Junior Divisions.

2. That the Superintendent of each auxiliary should have the hearty co-operation of the women of the Adult Society.

3. That earnest prayer be made at each meeting of the adult auxiliary for the Children's Work.

4. That a standing committee on Children's Work be appointed in each auxiliary with the Superintendent of Children's Work as chairman, as recommended by Council.

5. That during the summer vacation the women of the auxiliaries co-operate with the Superintendents of Children's Work in raising money for the children's pledge.

6. That we increase our subscriptions for the Young Christian Worker and aid in organization more Mission Study Classes.

MRS. CHAS. SUMMER,

MRS. D. D. BRUTON,

MRS. J. H. JUDD,

Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

1. We recommend the federation of Auxiliary Social Service Committees for the study of local conditions and of Council Social Service plans and for the promotion of Christian Community Service.

2. We recommend a more intensive study of the Young People's social life and social service by Auxiliary Superintendents of Social Service in co-operation with the Social Service Standing Committee on Young People's Work.

3. We recommend that Social Service Committees shall visit County Institutions, jails and convict camps for religious and friendly services, and shall take steps to relieve any conditions found to be unsanitary, inhuman, or in any way below the level set by a trained Christian conscience.

4. We recommend that auxiliary committees make themselves familiar with the provisions made by the state for the Negro in health and welfare programs, and that they lend their influence in creating public sentiment vital to the securing to all classes a rightful share in the benefits of such agencies.

5. We recommend that Social Superintendents take membership in their State Conference for Social Service and that no other provision is made, a sum be set aside by vote of the auxiliary from the incidental expenses necessary to carry on the work of the Social Service Committee.

6. That we seek opportunity for our members to serve as "Big Sisters," by cultivating sympathetic acquaintance with the girls whose attitude of circumstances indicate the need of guidance.

7. That the superintendent seek to bring about larger co-operation between the Auxiliary and the Church Social Service Committee.

8. That the Auxiliary Committee on Social Service continue the formation of inter-racial sub-committees according to the plans set forth in the "Hand Book for Inter-racial Committees."

9. We recommend the study of the quarterly working plans and a report on same, and preparation and presentation of a Social Service program in June and December.

10. That inasmuch as the Woman's Missionary Council endorses the Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and since any state which fails to ratify it may reverse its decision, a special study should be made of the purpose of the amendment in order that the misconceptions concerning it may be cleared away and the real value of its privileges may be apprehended. We suggest that a method of study, forums or discussion groups in Auxiliaries Districts and Conference Meetings.

11. We recommend that Auxiliary superintendents and committees continue efforts to uphold the prohibition laws of State and Nation:

a. By creating public sentiment.

b. By endeavoring to secure convictions of those engaged in manufacture or sale of intoxicants.

c. By public approbation of Sheriffs, Officers and Courts, that are efficiently carrying out the law.

12. That Auxiliaries participate in community meetings in behalf of the entrance of the United States into the Permanent Court of International Justice.

MRS. A. M. GATES,

Chairman,

MRS. SARAH WHITE,

Secretary,

MRS. P. M. MEEKINS,

Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY

1. That our slogan continue to be "A study circle in every auxiliary and every member a member of the Study Circle."

2. That the Superintendents of Study in the adult auxiliaries encourage and foster Mission and Bible Study in the Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries by teaching classes, holding "Story Hours" or co-operating in any way desired with the superintendents of these departments.

3. That the president of every auxiliary stress the importance of Mission and Bible Study and co-operate with the Superintendent of Study in forming and conducting such classes, if necessary and desired.

4. That campaigns for Mission Study be put on in October for the study of the foreign mission subject, in January for the study of the Home Mission subject, and in April for a standard class in Bible study by Adults, Young People's and Junior auxiliaries.

5. That every class complete the study of the book it selects on the Foreign Missions subject in the fourth, the Home Mission subject in the first, and the special Bible subject in the second quarter, thus making the course in missionary education complete for the year.

6. That the books used for the study shall be selected from among those latest recommended by Council and in the order named above, the foreign in the fourth, the home in the first, and the Standard Bible class in the second quarter.

7. That standard work in all classes be constantly urged; that "Our Class shall be a Standard Class and our Goal shall be the Study Honor Roll," be the aim of every Superintendent of Study and her class.

8. That where it is impracticable to work for the Study Honor Roll, an earnest effort be made for Honorable Mention.

9. That strong classes adopt and nurture weaker one nearby, by passing on books and helping in any way needed; that they try to organize classes where there have been none before.

10. That an especial effort be made to accumulate and use Missionary libraries and to form reading circles and prayer circles in every auxiliary.

11. That care be taken to promptly report by enrollment card every new class to the Council Secretary in charge of Missionary Education.

12. That quarterly reports to the Conference Superintendent of Study be made promptly and fully, the latest report sheets being used.

13. That the Superintendents of Study take the initiative in planning for a "Church School of Missions" in their congregations, doing all in their power to hold such schools.

14. That the Superintendents of Study, wherever it is possible to do so, attend the Summer School of Missions at Junaluska, July 21 to August 3rd.

MRS. J. LeGRAND EVERETT,

MRS. E. C. FEW,

MRS. J. F. MARQUETTE,

Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BY-LAWS AND STANDING RULES

1. That our conference body shall be composed of one delegate from each adult auxiliary, one from each young people's auxiliary and superintendents of Children's Work; these, or their officially elected alternates, together with the Executive Committee, District Secretaries, and County Chairman, shall constitute the voting body of the conference.

2. That a registration fee of $1.00 be sent with the name of each delegate, this amount to be applied on the delegates luncheon two days of the conference. All delegates who fail to send their names at least five days before the opening day will not be assigned a home by the local committee; they must look out for their own entertainment.

3. The Annual Conference session shall include three days for the transaction of business.

4. That officers shall be elected biennially, the election to follow the opening devotional of the afternoon session of the second day of conference.

5. That all Corresponding Secretaries of Young People's and Children's Work report to District Secretaries, so that the District Secretaries may be in close touch with these departments.

6. That a Committee on Publication be named by the Executive Committee: said committee to consist of an Editor and a Business Manager of "Our Missionary News." That every District Secretary be requested to secure an agent on her District, said agent to co-operate with the auxiliary agent, and by prayer and work help to make it a blessing.

7. That the Committee on By-Laws shall be composed of the President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, and one member from the body.

8. That we adopt the budget of twenty-five cents a month per members, covering dues, Conference Expense Fund, and Retirement and Relief Fund.

9. That the Auxiliary President urge the quarterly payment of all dues and funds. Failures to do this forces the Council to borrow money on which interest must be paid.

10. That during the first week of December, or as near as practicable, one day be observed as "Harvest Day" by each auxiliary.

11. That each District Secretary, Conference Superintendent of Young People and Superintendent of Children's Work shall send all reports to Conference Treasurer by the 10th of the month each quarter.

12. That a Worker's Council be held on the morning of the third day of Conference.

ELIZABETH LAMB,
Chairman,
VARA L. HERRING,
Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

The Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, in its thirteenth annual session, having received from the City of Greenville a most kindly and gracious hospitality, and feeling a very deep appreciation of the same, begs to offer the following resolutions:

To the Pastor, Rev. W. P. Watkins, and members of the Jarvis Memorial Church, we wish to extend our sincere thanks for their many courtesies and delightful entertainment.

We wish to thank the choir and special singers for the inspirational music that has so enriched the sessions of our Conference.

We feel a great debt of gratitude to the visiting speakers, Mrs. Hume R. Steele, Miss Daisy Davies, Mrs. M. E. Tilley, Miss Mary Pescud and Miss Elizabeth Lamb for their outstanding messages and great calls to service.

We acknowledge with pleasure our obligations to the Daily Reflector for its courtesy and kindness in furnishing such full reports of the Conference.

We especially thank the pages for their material assistance and courtesies to the guests of the Conference during these days.

To the ladies of the Christian, Episcopalian and Presbyterian Churches we express our appreciation for their splendid service and delicious luncheons.

We are grateful to the decorating committee and florists for the beautiful flowers in the church. Quinn Miller Company has added materially to the comfort of the ladies by furnishing a rest room in the Church. The merchants of Greenville delighted the ladies on their arrival by presenting each with a bag containing toilet articles and souvenirs.

The Woman's Club has greatly added to our pleasure with the delightful automobile ride and informal Tea given at the Country Club.

The pageant, "The Transcendent Life," was well presented, and was not only a credit to the young people who gave it, but deeply impressed the Conference with the great spirit that guided our Miss Belle Bennett.

It has been a pleasure and a blessing to attend this Conference, and we pray God's richest blessings on their Church and the homes opened to these Christian workers.

MRS. GURNEY P. HOOD,
MRS. GERTIE MATTHEWS,
MISS MARY PESCU,
Committee.

Officers' Reports

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Since last we met another year has passed, another quadrennium has ended and a new year has dawned.

What has our Conference wrought during the year 1925? Can it be said that 15,000 members paying $57,732.67 into the Council treasury and the thousands of dollars into the local work can write our history for last year? No, far from it, but rather if one could look into the hearts of the 15,000 members and see there the real consecration and new dedication and self-denial that have grown in the lives of us, as individuals, during the past year, then the real growth of the North Carolina Conference could be determined. Dr. D. J. Fleming so wisely says, "Not the number of missionaries nor the annual expenditures of societies, but the character of life that is lived by those who profess Christ will determine success or failure of missions."

How can we as a body of women, young people and children answer that mighty challenge to our Christianity? How much of self have we given to the cause of Christ? Not how many dollars did we report last year through our auxiliary is the real test. Is there danger that the dollar might get so close to the eye of even an American Missionary Society that we can't see beyond it? On the other hand, the dollar will always come from the life that knows real self-denial.

We think first of all of self-denial in relationship to dollars and cents, when in reality the most vital self-denial is of strength and time. Have we members who pay gladly all financial obligations expected of them and use a petty excuse for not attending the missionary meetings? Would we be so inconsistent as to freely give some of God's gold and silver back to him and withhold our own hands from serving the little ones and the weak ones of our own communities?

As we think of our last year's record shall we not remind ourselves of the actual self-denial in connection with our first and most important work, that of our children. I wish that it were possible to march before you this morning that most beautiful, most truly glorious asset and duty of the North Carolina Conference—the leaders of our church of tomorrow—those 6000 beautiful children enrolled in the Junior and Baby divisions.

I wish, too, that each of us of the adult membership could see marching back of this lovely array of our "Jewels" the 171 women who are trying, too much alone, to lead these little ones to Christ. They are too much alone, for in many instances the mothers are not standing with them nor are the members of the Adult auxiliary going with them as they should. That is why the Conference Superintendent of Children's Work and the auxiliary superintendents are so often overburdened with the thought that "nobody cares."

If only enough of self-denial could be practiced by praying more for the children and by word and deed encouraging them. Does not the same thought come to us as we think of our young people's work? Too much time is spent these days criticizing young people and not enough time working with them. There is too much fault finding and not enough sympathy expressed.

Oh, that the love of Christ could be vividly portrayed in our lives, that we could through this love lift up those who are stumbling along the untried pathway of life. Has the zeal and consecration of self-denial of an adult auxiliary led any of our young people to see the world as a mission field and have thereby caught the vision of service? Have we as adult members taken the time to even attend a young people's missionary meeting?

Another conspicuous example of the lack of self-denial is demonstrated in the work of mission study. So little do we know of world conditions and comparatively little does the average member of the missionary society realize the great duty she owes herself to study and to read from the best authorities on missions. It is impossible to work effectively unless we know what we are working for. We have to feel the actual need of our Heavenly Father's guidance before we can really pray. We do not give more because we do not see the urgent requirements of "the fields that are white already unto harvest."

Does it not also require a great denial of strength and time to go out into one's own community and to try to meet even some of the vital issues that arise among social service problems and to try to improve community life? We love to think of those few women on that first beautiful Easter morning who went away from the empty tomb to tell others that Jesus had risen. So through all these hundreds of years that line of women has grown longer and longer as it reaches around and around the world, and they are still telling the old story of Jesus and His love.

Thus I love to think of these four departments of our work—each one so important, each one so dependent on the other and each one so worth while, if our conference goes out to express the love and life of Jesus as we should.

The record of 1925 is closed. We can never know its opportunities again, but may we as individuals live this year as we wished we had lived last year. As we consider our conference for the quadrennium, we are happy in the thought of the progress that has been made. During the past four years we have sent into the Council treasury $206,548.90. There has been a substantial increase each year over the preceding year from the $45,188.06 of 1922 to the $57,732.67 of 1925. Our membership has increased over 1500 in the same period of time. But let us turn from the work of the past year and of the quadrennium and face the year 1926, the first quarter of which has passed. Not alone are we building on these four years, but on the 45 years of prayer and faith that the womanhood of North Carolina Conference would render the best of love and strength and time to the cause of Christ.

Put first things first in this very busy day of ours, when everything cannot be done. "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." A larger financial budget is before us this year; our pledge on the Bennett Memorial is to be completed; other financial claims will be pressing on the North Carolina Conference.

How are we to meet all of them? It will all be so easy to do through renewed devotion to Him who has chosen us to do this.

work for Him. Let us not forget our goal of trying to put a missionary society into every church in the North Carolina Conference. To make of every church a missionary church, to keep the missionary society missionary, to help save this world for Jesus Christ, isn't that the highest aim for which we can work?

Let no discouragement cause us to fail, for we may plant and we may water, but God gives the increase. The needs of our homeland and the world will be clearly brought before us on this conference program by efficient workers from the home and foreign fields. Plans for the conference to meet these needs will be presented to us by our faithful conference officers who stand at the head of the departments of our work.

Through this year so glorious in opportunities, may we prove faithful to every trust. Shall we not deny ourselves to follow the Christ?
May Edla Smith Earley.

MESSAGE OF VICE PRESIDENT

"PRAYER SPECIALS"

There exists at the present time a situation which constitutes an imperative call to prayer. We are threatened with a real catastrophe in our missionary work and in the work of our churches at home as well. No disguise is made of the seriousness of the situation. It is a crucial hour. If there was ever a time when our workers at home and abroad needed our prayers it is the present.

Our leaders tell us that our program in the rural churches is inadequate and lacking in force, and that our town churches are not producing missionaries, ministers or workers. In a recent letter one of the oldest and most prominent missionaries in Japan writes: "I feel that the bottom has dropped out of our work here in Japan, because the church at home is withholding the necessary financial help."

A member of the School of Religious Education of Duke University recently stated that in the seven years during which he has taught in that institution an average of only one out of every five student volunteers has actually gone to the field for work. Why? Not because the remaining four withdrew their lives, but because the church could not send them for lack of funds.

Do not these facts and the condition of the world today call us to prayer with a great compelling voice? Mrs. Helen Montgomery says: "If we can only unite the hearts of the Christian women of America in an outpouring of their souls to God, we may help mightily in these times of crisis."

We know that positive results do come from intercessory prayer and that throughout the history of the church the leaders and those who have brought things to pass have been women and men of prayer.

Mr. Charles G. Finney tells in his autobiography of a cripple, always confined to his bed, who used to note in his diary that on such a day he had a great impression to pray for some distant parts of the mission field and for each place very definitely. It was discovered by a comparison instituted after his death that revivals, in the places for which prayers were offered, were simultaneous with his intercessions.

We remember that Paul and Timothy and perhaps others were perpetually pleading with God for their friends far away in the heart of Asia Minor. In the Epistle to the Colossians Paul requests the churches at Colosse to pray daily for him that amid the perplexities and difficulties of Rome he might be able to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ. Who shall say how much of the success of Paul was due to the prayers offered in his behalf at Ephesus, Colosse and elsewhere?

Our workers in China tell us that during the terrible experiences, through which they passed last spring, they were conscious of our prayers and the strength and courage which came as a result of them."

Some one has said that just as the pressing of an electric button releases power which floods a room with light, so our prayers release the power of God upon the subject of our intercession. Dr. F. B. Myers says:

"Prayer is the raw material of God's answers.

Little prayer, little blessing!

Much prayer, much blessing!

No prayer, no blessing!

Oh, let us pray more! Let us wait before God till the Holy Spirit has time to rise in our hearts like the hot geyser spring, fresh from the heart of God leading us to pray for the things he longs to give, but awaits our requests!"

Sisters, let us pray! Let us be like Paul and labor in prayer; that is, let our prayers cost us something. If we will pray for our prayer specials in this way, there will be no limit to the power of God which we shall release in this needy, sin-cursed world.

During the year it has been the privilege of your vice president to assign thirteen "prayer specials." With each assignment there has been an appeal to the women to engage constantly and earnestly in intercessory prayer for their "special," so that her power might be increased and they might have an active share in her labors.

Unfortunately many of the assignments in our conference were made during the Centenary period and included whole districts about which we have no means of securing definite information. This situation makes specific and intelligent intercession exceedingly difficult. Your chairman, after consulting with Mrs. B. W. Lipscomb, our Council supervisor, wishes to recommend to this Conference that a reassignment be made in all cases where the "special" is not working under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Council. While we wish to avoid being narrow, at the same time we desire to be definite and intelligent. With this recommendation in mind, your chairman has requested Miss Mabel Howell to list the "field address" of each foreign worker in the Council Minutes, as well as the conference and home address. Miss Howell replied that she would be happy to do so. This practice is already followed in the lists of home missionaries and deaconesses.

In order that information may be easily available to every auxiliary president, your chairman would further recommend that the list of all Council workers, both home and foreign, with home and field addresses be incorporated in the Minutes of our own Conference, and that these lists be corrected and verified each year by the official Council finding list.

"More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friend?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

"O Thou, by whom we come to God,
The Life, the Truth, the Way:
The Path of prayer Thyself hast trod:
Lord, teach us how to pray!"

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. A. M. Gates, Vice President.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY'S REPORT

The long talked of event has occurred. Council has met and adjourned and in its wake is renewed interest, and awakened enthusiasm and inspiration. The meeting was what we hoped it would be and our women attended. They came from the mountains to sea to the meeting; they came through the snow and surely we shall feel the influence of this interest and wonderful meeting and with prayer shall make greater progress than ever before.

In 1918 we had 167 adult auxiliaries, 4,227 members; 50 young people's auxiliaries, 850 members; 117 junior divisions, 3382 members; 52 baby divisions, 634 members. We now have 284 adult auxiliaries, 8170 members; 71 young people's auxiliaries, 872 members; 171 junior divisions, 4646 members; 87 baby divisions, 1341 members. In 1918 Durham district had 22 auxiliaries, now 33; Elizabeth City 18, now 32; Fayetteville 10, now 19; New Bern 16, now 26; Raleigh 21, now 26; Rockingham 23, now 37; Washington 18, now 27; Weldon 22, now 59; Wilmington 17, now 25. Total amount of money sent to Council treasurer $26,690.22. This year we sent $50,780.93, not including Bennett Memorial or Mrs. Vann's legacy. For the quadrennium the net increase in adult auxiliaries was 18 in Weldon district, 5 in Durham, 5 in Elizabeth City, 5 in Fayetteville, 14 in New Bern, 1 in Washington and 2 in Wilmington.

Meetings and New Members

The programs for monthly meetings are becoming more interesting as they are being given more careful preparation in the discussion method. The county meetings and district meetings were well attended and far-reaching in their influence.

Each district gained new members; the net gains over last year were 86 Weldon, 77 New Bern, 74 Fayetteville, 68 Durham, 62 Washington, 38 Elizabeth City.

Stewardship and Week of Prayer

One hundred and thirty-four adult auxiliaries reported stewardship presented, 180 observed week of prayer, an increase of 21 over last year. Fayetteville again observed week of prayer 100 per cent.

Finances

We are happy to report our Council pledge paid in full. The salaries of our N. C. missionaries provided for, but our percentage gain is not as much as some of our sister conferences, and our fourth place in Council finances is in considerable danger. Another conference is pushing hard and has pledged for another year more than we pledged at Council. We can and must hold our place. Let us be busy about our Master's business.

Bennett Memorial

The Council goal is $5.00 per capita paid on Bennett Memorial. This entitles us to enrollment on the bronze tablet in the Bennett Memorial building, and enrollment of each auxiliary on Bennett Book of Remembrance. The payment of $100 places your own name or that of another in whose honor or memory the gift is donated in the Book of Remembrance.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE

The year 1925, Young People's year, has passed and the North Carolina Conference should feel that while it did show an advance over 1924, it was just proof of what the sympathy and interest of the adults can mean to the young people.

The responsibility still rests upon us and we must give ourselves afresh to our task of providing missionary training and culture for our young people, with an enlarged program and equipment and with the Council sympathetic and co-operative behind it; then, if the time ever comes for a unified program to be put on by all the agencies dealing with the young life of our church, we shall have made our contribution to it, and all the while we shall be turning over the adult auxiliaries better trained and larger groups of effective workers to "carry on." Let us make every year "Young People's Year."

We wish to thank Council and our Conference for the great privilege of having Miss Bess Combs with us. She visited every district, in some of them speaking at two different places. It has been said of her, "Like a mighty rushing wind she swept from one district to another with a message so appealing and compelling that young people have listened spellbound, and many have seen the beauty of the high ideals of service and fellowship."

The great event of Young People's year in which we shared was the Memphis Convention. That meeting strengthened my faith in youth and its ability. It was an experience for which I cannot find words to express and an experience which I shall never forget.

A total of seventy-one (71) auxiliaries and eleven hundred twenty-nine (1129) members reported during the year. Twenty-three (23) new auxiliaries were organized, but eleven (11) old ones disbanded.

There has been an increase in all the listed activities of the auxiliaries:

Mission Study classes sixteen (16). Increase of one (1).

Bible Study classes thirteen (13). Increase of one (1).

Presenting Stewardship twenty-four (24). Increase of four (4).

Observing Week of Prayer nineteen (19). Increase of two (2).

Presenting Social Service seventeen (17). Increase of four (4).

Subscribers to Missionary Voice ninety-eight (98). Increase of forty-six (46).

Four hundred and eighty-four dollars and fifty cents were spent on local work this year and five (5) boxes of supplies valued at $138 were furnished.

Because we failed to raise the amount we had planned to raise I thought we had failed to raise our Council pledge, but a letter from Mrs. Cobb, our Council Superintendent of Young People, says we overpaid our Council pledge, and I am proud of our young people for this and for all the other increases.

We have an increase of about fifty-seven (57) per cent in Honor Roll auxiliaries, having eleven (11) for 1925 compared to seven (7) of 1924.

Honor Roll auxiliaries are: Brooksdale, Farmville, Milwaukee, Marion, Allison, Roseboro, Roxboro, Rowland, Hertford, Severn,

Oxford and Warrenton. The Della Shamburger auxiliary of Hertford is for the second time the banner auxiliary of the conference, the Troy auxiliary being second in amount of money raised and just missing Honor Roll by a few points. I feel sure that among those deserving mention are some that would have made Honor Roll had their reports been more full. These are Troy, Conway, Anderson, Kittrells, Prospect, Sallie Lou McKinnon, Providence, Lumberton, Mt. Gilead, and Vandemere.

Let us this year strive harder to occupy unorganized territory and to strengthen the work we have in hand.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. C. D. Rigsbee.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

It gives me pleasure to report a slight but hopeful advance along almost all lines in the children's work in the North Carolina Conference for the year 1925. During the year we received reports from 87 Baby Divisions, a gain of 14; reporting enrolled, 1341, a gain of 210. In the Junior Division, 171 divisions, gain 18; reported 4646 members, a gain of 278. The Baby Division raised: fees, $98.05; mites, $465.26; life members, $25; Memorial, $2.00; week of prayer, $1.25; total $591.56. The Junior Division raised: dues, $1716.57; pledge, $2518.06; week of prayer, $232.18; life members, $40; memorial roll, $13.75; Belle Bennett Memorial, $20; total $4540.56. The Baby Division fell slightly behind 1924, but the Juniors made advance sufficient to carry the total sent to our conference treasurer to $5132.12, a gain of $77.03.

Those made life members during the year were: Baby Division: Margaret Maud Peacock, St. Paul, Goldsboro; Alice Harper Parker and Grace Gibbon Slaughter, Farmville, and Jane and James Smith, Greenville. Junior Division: Stella Heath and Anne Sutton, Kinston, and John Lee Best, Jr., and Helen Garrett Daniel, St. Paul, Goldsboro.

The amount raised for local work, $228.91, shows a decrease and there is a marked decrease in the number reported as subscribing for the Young Christian Worker, only 351. I hope that another year will see a great improvement here. After seeing and knowing Miss Haskins I am sure that our women will make a much greater effort to secure subscribers for her excellent paper.

Only 45 report as having observed the week of prayer. I trust that the adult auxiliaries will take notice of this and will see that the children's day in the week of prayer is observed this year and that a good collection is taken for the children's special. Most of our children are doing social service work in some form and are getting deeply interested in it.

Queen Street, Kinston, which has such a live Baby Division, gets the Baby Banner again. St. Paul, Goldsboro, gets the banner for the largest amount raised and Fremont gets the banner for the largest amount raised per member.

One respect in which our conference falls woefully behind some of the others is the number who get on the Honor Roll. The Western North Carolina Conference, for instance, had 40 on the Honor Roll while we had only nine. I can only beg the auxiliary superintendents to begin at once a definite effort to attain the Standard of Excellence for Juniors, which they will find in the conference minutes. This standard contains nothing which a well organized and successful society should not strive after. Then be sure when you have reached the standard report this fact to your conference superintendent. The following is our splendid honor roll for 1925: Candor, Rowland, Fremont, Gatesville, Harrells, Kinston, St. Paul, Goldsboro, Oxford, Edenton Street, Raleigh.

The New Bern District is the leading district in the Baby Division work, though the Elizabeth City District has the largest number of Baby Divisions. In the Junior Division the Weldon District has the largest number of divisions and the largest number of members, but the Rockingham District leads in the amount raised. In total amount raised the Rockingham District stands first and the New Bern District second. In the amount raised the ranking societies in the district are as follows: Durham District: Duke Memorial, $109.21; Roxboro, $93.28. Elizabeth City District: First Church, $77.19; Hertford, $75. Fayetteville District: Hay Street, $156.48; Dunn, $84.43. New Bern District: St. Paul, Goldsboro, $245.42; Kinston, $215; Centenary, New Bern, $182.75. Raleigh District: Edenton Street, $119.15; Oxford, $111.02. Rockingham District: Laurinburg, $239.49; Hamlet, $72.91. Washington District: Washington, $104.73; Fremont, $96.10. Weldon District: Weldon, $145; Littleton, $46.18. Wilmington District: Grace, $66.69; Trinity, $57.

I cannot close this report without again calling attention to the fine work being done by your auxiliary superintendents of Children's Work. Several of them have helped organize bands in nearby churches and have helped weaker bands. They have also helped in district and county meetings. This is our most important office and these are among our best women and deserve our gratitude and our help. We ask once more for the prayers and the co-operation of all the women of the North Carolina Conference. May He who loves the little children give His blessing to our work.

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, Conf. Supt.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY

In telling the story of the Department of Study for 1925, it seems to be the same old story of letters written, literature sent out, talks made wherever there was opportunity, the department written up every month in Our Missionary News, and occasionally in the Advocate, thinking, reading, studying, planning, praying for the work, in addition to the usual October campaign for classes, in preparation for which the books for the study year 1925-26 were bought and read, and the necessary literature secured for distribution.

It was my privilege, one which I valued highly and for which I thank you heartily, to attend the Summer School of Missions at Lake Junaluska in July, as your representative. I joined the classes, "New Days in Latin America," taught by Miss Estelle Haskin; "The Social Teachings of Jesus," taught by Dr. J. B. Matthews; "The Missionary Message of the Bible," taught by Dr. Ed F. Cook, and "Papal Paganism," taught by Dr. J. A. Phillips, doing the studying in Miss Haskin's and Dr. Cook's classes, but not trying for credits. It was a great help to me in every way to be a student and learner in all these classes, and I believe it has enabled me to give you better service.

A number of requests came to me from other conference superintendents of study for our system of conference credits for study, after the paragraph about it in the "Council Bulletin of Missionary News," and I was glad to send it to them, with cordial letters. Only one of them acknowledged the receipt of it, and she said she "was sorry, but she could not use it, as it was much too ambitious for her women," which really rather filled me with pride, since my women, in increasing numbers, are using it and not finding it too ambitious for them!

I attended meetings at Goldsboro, New Bern, Troy, Ellerbe, Hoffman, and Whiteville, where I was glad to speak in the interest of our work, especially in that of missionary education through the mission and Bible study classes of the woman's missionary societies.

By reference to my statistical report it will be seen that a numerical loss is shown almost everywhere. This is most disheartening, but as every cloud is said to have a silver lining, even so has my cloud of gloom over the decrease in number of classes reported, its bright rays of gratification over the very real improvement in all the work that has been done, the fine spirit of the women engaging in the work, and the belief that our conference is gradually adjusting itself to the definite schedule of study recommended by Council with a better quality of work, even in classes that are not standard, and I accept all this as indicating that our conference auxiliary women are acknowledging their possibilities in this department, and will soon begin more rapidly to strive to make them certainties.

The following auxiliaries reported standard classes: In the Home Mission study—Minnie P. Gates (Graham), West Durham, Jane K. Meadows (New Bern) two, Elizabeth Hendren (New Bern) two, Mount Olive, Mary Pescud (Raleigh), Woman's (Oxford), Gibson, Spring Hope, Milwaukee, Winton, Enfield; in Bible study—Minnie P. Gates (Graham), West Durham, Elizabeth Hendren (New Bern), Jane K. Meadows (New Bern), Mount Olive, Mary Pescud (Raleigh), Woman's (Oxford), Young People, Edenton Street (Raleigh), Young People (Rowland), Mary Steele (Rockingham), Gibson, Woman's (Rockingham), Milwaukee; in Foreign Mission study—Memorial (Durham), Minnie P. Gates (Graham), West Durham, Hertford, Elizabeth Hendren (New Bern), Central (Raleigh), Young People, Edenton Street (Raleigh), Mary Pescud (Raleigh), Woman's (Oxford), Mary Steele (Rockingham), Mount Gilead, Gibson, Milwaukee, Enfield, Richlands, Whiteville—43 in all.

In addition to two—Mary Pescud (Raleigh) and Elizabeth Hendren (New Bern)—making Study Honor Holl, and seven—First Church (Elizabeth City), Edenton Street (Raleigh), St. Paul's (Goldsboro), Woman's (Rowland), Young People (Rowland), Woman's (Rockingham), and Moyock—making Honorable Mention Certificates, there are 23 auxiliaries—Maria Brown (Oxford), Young People (Farmville), Hookerton, Milwaukee, Leasburg, Mount Gilead, Troy, Sadie Puckett Spiers (Smithfield), Stumpy Point, Queen Street (Kinston), Grace Church (Wilmington), West Durham, Farmville, Stantonsburg, Gregson (Durham), Mount Olive, Severn, Minnie P. Gates (Graham), Woman's (Oxford), Young People (Roseboro), Central (Raleigh), Hamlet, Whiteville, making 32 in all—which held Bible, Home and Foreign Mission study classes, using books recommended by Council for 1925, several of them lacking only five points of gaining Study Honor Roll, or Honorable Mention Certificates. These classes all did real study, most of it standard, with the exception only of the length of time taken to present the book, in that it was not done in daily or weekly lessons.

I wish to commend, also, with all my heart, those other auxiliaries which held as many classes as they could, in the best way they could; because of local conditions they could not meet often or do standard work—I am proud of them for doing the best they could.

Three Foreign Mission Study classes—Front Street (Burlington), City Road (Elizabeth City) and the Woman's (Wilson)—were reported to me too late to get into either my quarterly or yearly report, much to my distress, so I record them here in this way.

There is always some confusion at the beginning of the year, incident to changing officers, in consequence of which in a few instances the wrong book is selected, but this condition is becoming better every year, and nearly all the classes have used the books recommended by Council for current year and season. There were only a few “hang over” classes from 1924, and they were soon disposed of, to be replaced by the class using the book recommended for that quarter.

Reporting is still a very weak link in the chain of our work, but even that improves gradually if slowly. It is certain that all classes are never reported to the Conference Superintendent of Study.

The work never ceases to be a joy, the women in their letters to be an inspiration to me, and I pray earnestly that I may be enabled to give to both just what both need in the development of the great program committed to us.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. J. LeGrand Everett. Conf. Supt. Study.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLICITY

"For none of us liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself." The truth of the foregoing statement was never so apparent as it is today.

No corporation or business enterprise or organization of any kind would think of maintaining an existence without crying its wares before the public, and the louder the cry the greater evidence there is of the life and activity of the organism.

The public has learned to look for daily news and startling manifestations of great activities; consequently the organization that gives out nothing to the thousands of news-seekers is doomed to oblivion. People grow interested in the live issues and trouble little to hunt up dead scores.

The Woman's Missionary Society has by no means occupied all the territory within the bounds of the North Carolina Conference. There are yet many charges where the women are not organized at all and a large number of congregations in which there are only a few women enlisted in this work.

Hundreds of women live from day to day amidst the ordinary rounds of domesticity; others are occupied with community life and have never turned aside to investigate what the organized forces of the Methodist church are doing for missions.

The membership of the conference society keeps working at the various tasks assigned, little realizing what an agency publicity is in gaining the attention and securing the interest of those on the outside.

This is a day of clubs of various kinds and naturally the work of the Missionary Society would make a strong appeal to the majority of women, if they were informed, since enlightened womanhood has ever been the guardian of the spiritual forces.

The eyes of Moses had been accustomed to look at the sky, the pastures and the flocks, but when they looked upon a bush burning and yet not consumed, Moses exclaimed: "I will now turn aside and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt."

Even so it is the privilege of those engaged in missionary effort to bring the wonderful things accomplished before the minds of those unconcerned that they may stop and consider what missionary service means to the world.

There are two hundred and eighty-seven on my mailing list who receive the monthly Bulletin.

It has been my effort to provide for the woman's page of the Advocate short paragraphs of inspirational value, news items from the auxiliaries and general missionary information on different phases of the work.

Mrs. M. T. Plyler,
Conf. Supt. of Publicity.

SOCIAL SERVICE REPORT

Under the enthusiastic and efficient leadership of Mrs. Lee Johnson, my predecessor, the Social Service work of our conference was progressing in every way. It was being better understood. Better and more numerous reports were being sent in. A larger number of the committees were preparing and presenting the Social Service working plans and leaflets. It was with deep regret that our conference had to give up Mrs. Johnson from this work.

Feeling my inability to follow so capable a leader, I hesitatingly took up the work the latter part of the second quarter of 1925. The work has been handicapped because of this change. During the year 118 Adult, 10 Young People, and 14 Junior auxiliaries sent in reports. Quite a number of these reported only once during the year.

It is with a sense of humiliation that I give this statistical report, for it shows so little of the splendid social service activities of our auxiliaries. The very weakest point in our work is the failure to report. Many of our strongest and most active auxiliaries didn't report at all last year. I attended several district and county meetings where ninety per cent of their auxiliaries were represented and reported splendid social service work and called it "social service work" and yet only one-third of them sent in a single report for the year. Who is to blame for this? I know that if the officers of the adult auxiliaries would come together at the end of each quarter and then and there make out their reports for the conference officers, the problem would be solved. Instead of 118 adult reports I would get 275; instead of ten young people's reports I would get 60; instead of 14 junior reports I would get 150.

Having been a district secretary, I am accustomed to getting pretty near 100 per cent reports, and I shall not be satisfied until I get 100 per cent of social service reports. I beg the adult auxiliaries to help me get these reports.

Most of the auxiliaries that did report are doing splendid work; many of them doing outstanding work in bettering their communities by promoting and co-operating with other agencies in the establishing of playgrounds, community clubs, clinics for crippled children, tubercular hospitals, clean-up campaigns, better housing for whites and blacks, sanitation and street improvement in negro sections, securing employment for the unemployed, furnishing milk for the undernourished, etc. Most all of them reported having done relief work such as giving of clothes, food, coal and wood, and all reported visits to the sick, shut-ins and strangers, flowers and trays sent, papers and magazines distributed.

Many of the social service committees seem indifferent toward preparing and presenting the Working Plans sent out by Mrs. Newell, Council Superintendent of Social Service. They seem not to realize the importance of this, nor to understand how to go about it. Here again the adult auxiliary can be of service. There seems to be a lack of understanding about the social service leaflet which is sent with the program literature each quarter to the auxiliary president by the conference superintendent of literature. This leaflet is marked "social service" and is for the program of the third month in each quarter. It should be given to the social service superintendent at least one month before the regular meeting so that her committee can prepare it and present it and the working plans for that meeting.

Our Aims:

1. Every Adult auxiliary with a social service committee preparing and presenting the Working Plans and leaflet in the auxiliary meeting the third month of each quarter.

2. A Social Service report from every adult, young people's and junior auxiliary every quarter.

Social Service Aims as determined by the policies adopted by the Council:

- I. We are pledged to two great causes and have been for years:
 1. Higher standards for state and federal control of child labor.
 2. Greater opportunity for education and justice for the negro in the South in health, morality, recreation and in living conditions.
- II. State welfare legislation and better law enforcement by the best officers possible.

Vara L. Herring, Supt. Social Service.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SUPPLIES

N. C. Conference Society, year ending January 1, 1926:

Amount of money sent preachers and families, $190.50; sent Brevard, $18; sent Scarritt, $16.50; total $225.00.

This is a very small report, but we have responded to every call received. One superannuated preacher asked for $25 with which to buy a suit of clothes. As soon as this was known $75 in checks was sent to me by different auxiliaries. Of this amount the preacher received fifty dollars and his wife who is the bread winner of the family received twenty-five dollars. This was deeply appreciated. There is no way to find out when our preachers need help unless they ask for it, which they do not seem inclined to do.

A call for canned goods for Scarritt received little response, as it was not practical to send glass jars of fruit that far. Books for one of our mission fields were asked for, but none have been reported to me. Many auxiliaries report contributions sent our orphanage, but these I am not allowed to report. Many contributions of clothing and other necessities are also made to the unfortunate, but they are reported in the department of social service. For this reason the work done in the supply department seems very small.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Ida Wilkins, Supt. Supplies.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF LITERATURE

It is gratifying to note the increased interest manifested by the many requests for literature that come to the office, and it is with pleasure that all orders are filled promptly. We consider this one of the most important departments of our work, and our women realize that without the proper information their auxiliary work will lag.

A separate mailing list is kept of the new auxiliaries, and simplified literature is mailed to the auxiliary presidents regularly for the first year. Each president was requested to notify me when she had finished package number four of the simplified literature, that her address might be sent to Mrs. Lipscomb, who would write them a letter and send a promotion certificate.

The second year the auxiliaries are promoted. Regular program literature is sent to them quarterly. Literature for Gibson members has also been supplied. Especially would we call attention to the effort made by Mrs. D. K. Taylor, Oxford, who has enrolled the largest number of members in her district.

We must again stress the importance of having a correct mailing list by December first, if possible, for economy's sake. Since postage rates are much higher, and an ever increasing demand for literature of various kinds, besides a heavy correspondence, you will see the expense account is much in excess of that of last year.

Owing to a recent ruling of Council, two of the monthly leaflets are to be furnished to each auxiliary. If additional copies are desired, they may be secured at the rate of three cents each.

We greatly appreciate the co-operation of our constituency and wish to thank each one for the aid they have rendered in our effort to carry on this work.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. S. H. Scott, Supt. Literature.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION AND FINANCE

We recommend:

1. Grateful for the measure of success we have attained, we pledge ourselves to more earnest prayer and faithful effort in this new year of the quadrennium, to reach our goals in all departments: 76 new adult auxiliaries, 20 new Young People's, 50 new Juniors and Baby Divisions, with 10 per cent increase in our membership.

2. That we make an effort to increase attendance at auxiliary meetings, especially on Pledge Day and Harvest Day.

3. That adult auxiliaries manifest more sympathetic interest in the Young People's and Junior auxiliaries under their care.

4. That efforts be made to explain the Gibson Auxiliary and to enlist every isolated woman as a member.

5. That the probation law for both individuals and auxiliaries be more carefully observed.

6. That two banners be offered this year, one to the district gaining the largest number of auxiliaries in all departments, and one to the district securing the largest per cent of new members.

7. That all auxiliaries throughout the conference elect their officers in November.

8. That we adopt the new Standard of Excellence.

9. That our superintendents of departments be sent to any conference within bounds of our state that will be beneficial to our work. That the Superintendent of Social Service be sent to the Welfare Institute at the University of North Carolina.

10. That a representative be sent to each district conference to advocate the Missionary News.

Realizing that the command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation," is just as true today as it was two thousand years ago, and is the fundamental principal of our missionary work; therefore we recommend:

1. That it be the goal of the Woman's Missionary Society to enroll every member as a tither.

2. That the executive committee of the auxiliary extend to every woman of the church not a member of the missionary society at least one definite opportunity each year to make a gift to our work.

3. That the district secretaries keep in close touch with the financial condition of each auxiliary, keeping them informed as to how they stand and urging quarterly payments.

The failure to raise only a little more than half of the Belle Bennett Memorial pledge is especially grievous. This report demands that we give special attention to this part of our work the coming year. We cannot afford to let our share of the work of our Lord's kingdom suffer. Now that we have until December 31, 1926, in which to redeem our pledge to the Bennett Memorial fund, we must find a way to complete this important piece of work well within the allotted time. We suggest to the auxiliaries who have paid their pledge in full that they make a special gift to help the weaker auxiliaries in paying theirs in order that our conference may be placed in the Bennett Book of Remembrance.

Let us pray for a new vision of the privilege of service that will help us to realize that our Father should have the best that we can give, and He will bring to pass through our glad service even more than we can ask or think of the things that go into the building of His kingdom.

Miss Amma Graham, Chairman.

Mrs. H. B. Armentrant, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That we wish to express to Council our sincere appreciation for the visit of Miss Bess Combs to our conference. We feel that her appealing message reached our hearts and the results have been most favorable.

2. Realizing that the increase during the young people's year was not what we had hoped, and we do recommend again that wherever practicable one woman in each district shall be secured as an assistant to promote young people's work.

3. That we strive to raise the type of work in a larger per cent of our young people's auxiliaries to that required for the honor roll, thus preventing the great losses through weak organizations.

4. That we ask the secretary of the Young People's Department to issue a list of books, or a suggested reading course in leadership training, for the help of conference superintendents and others interested in young people's work.

5. That each auxiliary include in the program of work:

- (a) The Honor Roll.
- (b) Quarterly executive meetings.
- (c) Daily prayers for volunteers.
- (d) Daily prayers for specials.
- (e) Tithers among the members.
- (f) Observing week of prayer.

6. That each auxiliary make an effort to reach all unreached young people in its community.

7. That we fix our conference budget at $2000.

8. That we continue our support of the Bennett Memorial campaign.

9. That conference superintendent of young people's work attend conference for young people's superintendents at Lake Junaluska, the conference bearing expenses.

10. That we, the young people, co-operate in every way with the editor of "Our Missionary News."

11. That the young people's specials for 1926 shall be: Home, Sue Bennett Memorial School; Foreign, Bennett School in Rio de Janeiro.

12. That we ask again for a more loving and sympathetic understanding and cultivation of our young people on the part of the women. (a) That the president, superintendent of young people and superintendent of social service in the adult auxiliary shall choose two others to act with them as a standing committee on young people's activities. This committee shall be specially charged with the direction of the social life and the social service work of the young people's auxiliary, but shall also assist the superintendent in every possible way.

Mrs. C. D. Rigsbee, Chairman.

Mrs. Carl M. Huffman, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

Your Committee on Children's Work recommend:

1. That mission study classes be formed in every band.
2. That whereas we have now a membership of 4646 in the Junior Division and only 351 report taking the Young Christian Worker, that a strong effort be made to put this little paper in every home where there are children.
3. That as there were reported the past year only nine bands which made the Honor Roll, a strenuous effort be made to put every band on the Honor Roll this year.
4. That the adult auxiliaries take a deeper interest in the children's work, seeing that both Baby and Junior divisions are organized in each church.
5. That our women in the churches where we have work for children help organize societies in nearby churches where they do not have them.
6. That our adult auxiliaries see that Children's Day is observed during the week of prayer and that a liberal collection is taken for the children's week of prayer special and reported to your conference superintendent.
7. That every woman pledge herself to pray for the children and their work during 1926.

Mrs. Purser,
Mrs. Nicholson,
Mrs. T. G. Moore,
Mrs. Robert E. Steven,
Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

1. We recommend the federation of auxiliary Social Service committees for the study of local conditions and for co-operation with all organizations engaged in the promotion of Christian community service.

2. We recommend that Social Service committees shall visit county institutions, jails and convict camps for religious and friendly services, and shall take steps to relieve any conditions found to be unsanitary, inhuman or in any way below the level set by a trained Christian conscience.

3. That we strive to make all voluntary agencies and the governmental provision for the protection of life, health, education and property serve the negro citizen just as they do the white citizen.

4. We recommend that Social Service superintendents take membership in their state conference for Social Service and that where no other provision is made for the membership fee of $2.00, a sum be set aside by vote of the auxiliary from the local fund necessary to project this enterprise.

5. That we seek opportunity to serve as "big sisters" by cultivating sympathetic acquaintance with girls whose circumstances indicate the need of guidance.

6. That we support the legislative program which is sponsored by the Woman's Legislative Council of North Carolina, as follows:

Bills Introduced

1. A state-wide Australian ballot law.
2. A law limiting the working day of children under 16 to eight hours in industrial and mercantile pursuits.
3. The establishment of a farm colony for women offenders older than those received at Samarcand.
4. A law requiring that marriage banns be published two weeks before marriage.
5. An appropriation of $15,000 for the Reformatory for Colored Girls.

Measures Endorsed

1. The program of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.
2. The program of the committee of 100 on prison reform.

4. Educational program:

 - (b) Compulsory school term of eight months fixed by constitutional amendment.
 - (c) Attainment as well as age made the basis of compulsory education.
7. We recommend that our conference society link itself with the organized forces of our state through membership in the Legislative Council of N. C. Women; that a committee of four, consisting of the president of the conference society, the superintendent of social service and two members at large living near Raleigh, be appointed to represent this body in a state-wide and national program of social service reform.
8. That the Social Service committee adopt the book, "The Basis of Racial Adjustment," by T. J. Woofter of the General Commission on Inter-Racial Co-operation (409 Palmer Building, Atlanta, Ga.) for study groups, and that we study the leaflet, "Church Women and Christian Citizenship" (Literature Headquarters) and adopt the methods therein presented for securing candidates who will stand for law enforcement and other phases of reform and welfare.
9. That this body pass a resolution against any modification of the Volstead Act, and also voice our sentiment against the rapid spread of the propaganda of Mormonism so widely distributed in our state. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our representatives in Congress.

Miss Vara Herring, Chairman.
Mrs. A. M. Gates, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY

1. That our slogan continue to be "A study circle in every auxiliary and every member a member of the study circle."

2. That the superintendents of study in the adult auxiliaries encourage and foster mission and Bible study in the young people's and children's auxiliaries by teaching classes, holding "story hours" or co-operating in any way desired with the superintendents of these departments.

3. That the president of every auxiliary stress the importance of mission and Bible study and co-operate with the superintendent of study in forming and conducting such classes, if necessary and desired.

4. That campaigns for mission study be put on in October for the study of the foreign mission subject, in January for the study of the home mission subject, and in April for a standard class in Bible study by adults, young people's and junior auxiliaries.

5. That every class complete the study of the book it selects on the foreign mission subject in the fourth, the home mission subject in the first, and the special Bible subject in the second quarter, thus making the course in missionary education complete for the year.

6. That the books used for the study shall be selected from among those latest recommended by Council and in the order named above, the foreign in the fourth, the home in the first, and the Standard Bible class in the second quarter.

7. That standard work in all classes be constantly urged; that "Our class shall be a Standard Class and our goal shall be the Study Honor Roll," be the aim of every superintendent of study and her class.

8. That reading circles be formed in every auxiliary, using the current mission study books, "Women and Missions," and Mrs. Butler's "History of the Woman's Missionary Society," in the manner of a circulating library.

9. That prayer circles for definite daily prayer for our work and workers be formed in every auxiliary, the method of organization and functioning being left to the auxiliary superintendent of study.

10. That where it is impracticable to work for the Study Honor Roll, an earnest effort be made for Honorable Mention.

11. That strong classes adopt and nurture weaker ones nearby, by passing on books and helping in any way needed; that they try to organize classes where there have been none before.

12. That an especial effort be made to accumulate and use missionary libraries.

Mrs. Reed,
Committee.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

The Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference in its fourteenth annual session, having received from Elizabeth City a most kindly and gracious hospitality and feeling a very deep appreciation, beg to offer the following resolutions:

To the pastor, Rev. F. S. Love, and all members of First Church, Elizabeth City, we wish to extend our sincere thanks for their many courtesies and delightful entertainment; also to the pastor and members of City Road Church for their splendid co-operation.

The organist, Mr. U. G. Davis, and members of the choir have greatly enriched the spiritual value of this session of our conference by their faithfulness at all sessions and for their unusually splendid programs rendered at night.

For the beautiful vocal solos given each day at noon by Mrs. Wesley Foreman, and for the song, "Everything I give to Jesus," by her small daughter, Marian Cook Foreman, we express our thanks.

We would not forget to express our appreciation to Helen Sasser of Goldsboro, who received the Chinese banner in such a beautiful way for her society and for her song, "Bearing Fruit for Jesus."

We feel a great debt of gratitude to our visiting speakers, Miss Bessie Oliver and Miss Estelle Haskins, for their wonderful message from both foreign and home fields and the great inspiration their presence has been to us.

To Mrs. H. B. Branch for her noon-day Bible lessons, which have been so full of spiritual power.

We acknowledge with pleasure our obligations to the Daily Advance for the presentation of copies of the paper to each member of the conference and to the Independent for paper for ballots, and also to Mr. Ralph Poole, who has been so faithful in attendance as reporter for the paper.

To the ladies of the church it is hard to express our deep feeling of appreciation. They have been so thoughtful and courteous in every way that Elizabeth City and especially First Church will always have a warm spot in our hearts.

Mrs. Leigh Sheep, the president of the auxiliary, has been always on hand and someone has said if we wanted anything, all we needed to do was to tell Mrs. Sheep and she would press a button and that which we desired was handed us.

We are grateful to the decorating committee for the beautiful flowers in the church and also dining room.

To Mrs. J. G. Fearing, chairman of the hospitality committee,

Mrs. L. R. Foreman of the transportation committee, Mrs. B. L. Banks and assistants of registration committee, Mrs. Thorburn Bennett, Mrs. Maurice Pappendick, Mrs. H. G. Kramer and assistants, and to Mrs. Calvin Twiddy, who have so delightfully and efficiently served the luncheons we extend thanks. To the Pasquotank County Federation for their hospitality, and the Minnie Wilson Auxiliary of Hertford for souvenirs, we also express thanks.

We are also grateful to Mrs. William Peters in charge of the rest room, and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mrs. Martin Simpson and Mrs. W. M. Davenport for giving their services at the literature table.

For the banquet, given by the young people of First Church to the visiting young people and their superintendents, and to the Savings Bank and Trust Company for souvenirs we are also grateful.

To Mr. C. H. Brock for the delightful boat ride, and to Messrs. Weatherly and Winekreau for their generous refreshments we express thanks for the conference. They have greatly added to our pleasure. The other denominations have welcomed us into their homes and we appreciate their courtesy. We would not forget the janitor of this church, who has been so faithful and efficient.

The pageant given by the Young People's Missionary Society, directed by Mrs. Margaret Foreman and Mrs. Wesley Foreman, was not only a credit to the young people but deeply impressed our conference, and we thank them for this inspiration and entertainment.

We feel that this conference has been a great blessing to all of us and we pray God's richest blessings on this church and city.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Kendall Street,
Mrs. T. H. Sutton,
Mrs. W. C. Chadwick.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS FOR ADULT AUXILIARIESConstitution

Any number of women may form an Adult Society auxiliary to the Conference Woman's Missionary Society by adopting the following Constitution and By-Laws and electing the officers herein provided:

1. This society shall be called the Woman's Missionary Society of the ——— Church, auxiliary to ——— Conference Society of the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

2. The object of this auxiliary is to hasten the coming of the kingdom of God throughout the world by enlisting the women, young people and children in a study of the needs of the world in active missionary service; by raising funds for the evangelization of mission fields at home and abroad, for the maintenance of the institutions supported by the Woman's Missionary Council, and for the betterment of civic and social conditions.

The auxiliary shall engage in definite personal missionary work in its own community, such as systematic friendly visiting, Bible teaching, cottage prayer meetings, and other lines of missionary effort with the unchurched, the foreigners, and the negroes.

3. Anyone may become a member of this auxiliary by giving prayer, service, and a contribution to the annual auxiliary budget.

The auxiliary shall assume the responsibility of payment of a budget, the total amount of which shall include annual dues of $2.40 per member, a contribution to the Conference Expense Fund from each member, and to the Retirement and Relief Fund from each member, and a pledge from the auxiliary. The dues, pledge, and any other undirected funds shall be prorated by the Council, forty per cent for the home and sixty per cent for the foreign work. Opportunities shall be given for offerings to be directed by individual donors for the support of special work. These special offerings by individuals shall not be prorated.

6. A name may be placed on the Memorial Roll by the gift of twenty-five dollars for this specific purpose.

7. Every auxiliary member shall pay toward the Relief and Retirement Fund and the Conference Expense Fund.

8. The auxiliary shall carry on local work, which shall consist of the care of the parsonage and the charity work of the church. This work may be done through a committee, the funds to be raised as the auxiliary directs.

A Worker's Council was then held by Miss Vara Herring. Many difficult points were discussed and helpful suggestions made.

Miss Althea Jones made an interesting talk on the Jubilee celebration.

The District Secretaries were then asked to make their pledges and place them in the Korean Urn. The result was as follows:

Durham District, $4,000; Elizabeth City District, $4,000; Fayetteville District, $3,500; New Bern District, $6,000; Raleigh District, $6,500; Rockingham District, $9,000; Washington District, $6,500; Weldon District, $5,000; Wilmington District, $4,000; Young People, $2,000; Children's Work, $5,000; making a total of $55,500.

Mrs. C. D. Rigsbee, Superintendent of Young People's Work, read her annual report, and presented badges to those attaining the Honor Roll.

The report of the Committee on Young People's Work was read and adopted.

Miss Francis Burkhead spoke on the work of the Moka Garden Embroidery Mission at Soochow, China.

Mrs. H. F. Makepeace then sang "The Plains of Peace."

Rev. C. A. Upchurch, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, spoke on "The Church in Action Against the Liquor Traffic."

Miss Ethel Sugg, of Louisburg College, who is preparing for Medical Missionary Work, spoke a few words and led in an earnest prayer for consecration.

Mrs. W. A. Wilson, a missionary to Japan for many years, spoke in regard to her work in Japan.

Miss Althea Jones spoke a few words of farewell.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions of Thanks was read by Mrs. A. B. Love, and was adopted by a rising vote of the conference.

Mrs. R. P. Watson of Wilson sang, "Face to Face."

Rev. W. W. Peele brought the closing message of the series on "Results that might be expected from the life that is indwelt by Christ Jesus."

The conference closed with prayer and the benediction by Mr. Peele.

MESSAGE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

We gather tonight with a deep sense of loss in the absence of our beloved President. We miss the able leadership which she has so generously given through the years. We miss her genial personality and her consideration, which made each of us feel that our leader could be counted on as a personal friend, as well as a capable guide in our work for the Master.

However, there is mingled with our sorrow a great joy that there has come to her the crowning honor of womanhood, and our hearts unite in prayer that the precious little life that has been entrusted to her care may not only prove a joy now, but may be used of God to bless the world in the years to come.

We have cast off our old moorings of 1926 and are launched on the voyage of 1927. Already we have measured our speed and found its gauge. Whither are we bound? Have we definite goals or are we like vast numbers of individuals, who are found year after year jogging along in the land of things as they are? With organizations as with individuals, the ideal life finds fresh goals challenging one's highest powers. The best-test of a growing life is the steady dawn of new ideals.

We did a splendid piece of work last year. Are we content, as an organization, to let the success of last year be the measure of our aspirations for this? Often a well earned success gives so much satisfaction that we are content to settle back and enjoy the fruit of our labor.

Are we saying to ourselves now that the Belle Bennett Fund is complete and the Lucy Cunningsim School has its "new hat" we will not pray and work so hard as we did last year?.

Success, instead of providing an easy chair, should be a trumpet call to every society in the North Carolina Conference to greater effort and more hazardous triumphs.

Specialists in hygiene tell us that every person could add to his stature, if he would learn to stretch. When we stretch, we register the limit of our physical reach. One of the results accomplished by a certain set of exercises is to put the stretch into the reach, to bring the largest possible length of every muscle into action.

Paul applies this principle, when he says, "Forgetting the things which are behind and stretching forward to the things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Notice he says, "I press toward the mark," not for the mark but "toward" it. The mark tells us how far we have gone towards the goal.

As an organization we have set our goals high. Our personal goal is "the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ." Our social goal is that "the kingdom of this world shall become the kingdom of our Lord."

How far did we press toward the mark in 1926? What shall be the measure of our accomplishments in 1927?

The Bennett Memorial

In the completion of the Bennett Memorial Fund, the North Carolina Conference has realized the truth of Mrs. Stephen's statement regarding the Council, namely, "that there has been no better example of whole-souled unanimity of effort. The result is a triumph of teamwork. Many women working together have done a large thing."

The beautiful thing about the Bennett Memorial both in our Conference and in the Council is the fact "that there were few large gifts. The total amount is the aggregate of thousands of small donations "many of which represent real sacrifice on the part of the giver."

The Lucy Cunningsim Fund

In raising the nine thousand dollars toward the ten thousand required for the "new hat" for the Lucy Cunningsim School, the North Carolina Conference achieved what seemed almost impossible, when added to our other obligations. But, as we review the work of the year, we are grateful that it was our privilege to make this a standard school and the building habitable for those Korean girls.

As a Conference, we feel under deep obligation to Mr. B. N. Duke, who generously gave the tenth thousand dollars for the completion of this splendid undertaking.

We would also express our appreciation to Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, who stood by us loyally and royally, and aided us materially in the collection of our share of the entire amount of the Lucy Cunningsim Fund.

Financial Outlook

While we did not reach our financial goal last year, nevertheless, we did a great piece of work, sending to the Council treasurer a total of $75,397.86 which is $20,665.00 more than we have ever sent before.

With our special funds, the Bennett Memorial and the Lucy Cunningsim, completed, we face the work of the present year with a feeling of enthusiasm and courage, coupled with a determination to make the year 1927 one of great advancement along all the regular lines of work.

While we have no special funds before us this year, there are two aspects of our work which should be given especial emphasis.

The Relief and Retirement Fund

In view of the fact that the offering to the Relief and Retirement

Fund is inadequate to meet the needs of the retired missionaries, the Council authorizes the making of this fund an object for specials from auxiliaries and asks us this year to give publicity to the needs of the Retirement and Relief Funds at our Conference, our District and our zone meetings.

An acute situation exists in financing the Foreign Department of our Council work, due to the fact that during the past year, many special gifts were directed to the special objects being urged for the year, with a consequent reduction in "foreign specials." This has affected materially the basis of appropriation, which includes the regular fund plus special gifts to the Foreign Department. The Council consequently asks us for a ten per cent increase on our Conference Pledge, to be added to the basis of appropriation for this year only. In view of these facts, may we not roll up a splendid increase in our pledge, which shall not only meet the ten per cent increase, asked of us by the Council, but which shall go far beyond it?

Prayer Specials

A rich blessing has come to your Vice President during the year in the bonds of interest and love, which have been established in the re-assignment of our "Prayer Specials." Many auxiliaries have found an increased joy and a deepened interest in our institutions and have developed a higher spiritual standard, as a result of contact with their "Prayer Specials." More than one missionary has expressed her gratitude over the assurance that we are praying for her and her work.

Shall we not all enter into the spirit of this service and become real co-laborers with our Christ and His servants, who are making the supreme gift for Him?

Mr S. D. Gordon says: "Power loosened out through prayer is as tremendous as a true fragrant life and may touch not one spot, but wherever in the whole round world you may choose to turn it." If this be true, there is no limit to our power, if we will pray aright.

"The Year of Jubilee"

Throughout the remainder of 1927 we are to make preparations for the great Jubilee year 1928-29, when we shall not only "look backward but also think forward." The plans, as mapped out by the Council, will be presented in detail during this session of our Conference.

Can there be a better foundation for the attainment of the five goals, suggested by our Council Steering Committee, than for us as a Conference to "lengthen our cords and strengthen our stakes?"

1. By following the admonition of Judges 20 and 21, "building up yourselves by your most holy faith * * *

2. By giving more time to the study of the Christian solution of our national, industrial, racial and international problems, while we continue to carry on the usual detailed work of the church and of the Missionary Society.

3. By adopting the suggestion of Mrs. Downs that we take as our slogan "Every family under the care of some Church, and every boy and girl receiving religious instruction."

If the women in the North Carolina Conference will lift up their eyes to see the great task and all that it means to the welfare of the world, and will try to comprehend and to tell others how the mind and the power of the living Christ may be supplied to this task we shall close the year 1927 with the resources and the influence of the organized womanhood of the Church stronger than ever before.

We have just passed the blessed Eastertide. Yesterday, as on every Easter morning for many years, there stood outside the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem a great crowd of worshippers. Each carried an unlit torch in his hand, waiting the lighting of an altar fire, whose flames were communicated from one to another, until the company became a living constellation of flame.

May we who are gathered here catch a spark of that Divine flame to take with us wherever we go!

"Make me a torch to be for feet that grope
Down Truth's dim trail; to bear for wistful eyes
Comfort of light; to bid a great beacon blaze,
And kindle altar fires of sacrifice."

Mrs. A. M. Gates

REPORT CONFERENCE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

With Christ as our unseen guest, by whose way we expect to test our lives and work, we enter, with high hopes upon this our fifteenth annual meeting. Using the Jubilee slogan suggested, it is a "Time of Looking Backward and Thinking Forward." As we listen to the reports of 1926, we shall make plans for the work to be accomplished in 1927 and also for the Jubilee year of 1928.

Finances

We have had a good year, our financial story is one of interest. Our women have raised seventy-five thousand dollars for the Council Treasury. Of this amount $10,000 was for the Lucy Cunningham School, Wonsan, Korea. Every district in the conference having a share in the payment of this fund. Three large gifts helped to pay this, five hundred dollars from Mrs. Blades, New Bern; five hundred from Mrs. Foreman, Elizabeth City, and one thousand from Mr. Ben Duke.

For the Bennett Memorial we sent this year $18,710.32, which entitled us to a place with eighteen other conferences on the tablet in the Bennett Room of Remembrance of Bennett Memorial Building, Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee.

For the pledge we sent from the Young People's department $1,-792.20. From the Children's $4,902.77, from the Adults $40,092.57, making a total of $46,787.54.

The grand total sent to Council Treasurer from the 46 conferences being $1,488,000. The South Georgia conference led in amount paid for budget with N. Georgia second, Virginia third, Western North Carolina fourth, and, for the first time in our history, North Carolina conference back to fifth place in finances, Western North Carolina going ahead of us by $8,252.48. We may say that our Lucy Cunningham fund would over balance that, if we could have received credit for it. We were given honorable mention on the Council platform for this fund, and I am sure that we shall find credit in that "Book of Books."

Social Service

It was a pleasure to hear the Council Superintendent of Social Service give North Carolina praise for co-operating with the State Social Service workers in the effort to bring about a better social order in our citizenship.

Study

We have gone forward in mission study, and as our methods of training have been compared with methods used in other organizations, it has shown North Carolina in the most favorable light.

The Council Executive Committee has taken the Short Course Training School plan under consideration, and has through a special committee framed a course in Leadership Training for workers in Woman's Missionary Societies. The course of study leads to a certificate and the woman who takes it successfully will be prepared for leadership in the missionary organization.

Periodicals

"Our Missionary News" has been a real factor in the programs and readings of many of our auxiliaries. It is not taking the place, but supplementing "The Missionary Voice." May we this year strive to have both of these magazines in every Methodist home. "The Young Christian Worker" and the "Epworthian" will be united, and the joint magazine will be called "Juniors." Surely there is not a member of the Woman's Missionary Society who does not receive the "North Carolina Christian Advocate."

Status of Women

As a member of the Commission on Women's Place of Service in the Church, your Corresponding Secretary mailed the questionnaire prepared by Mrs. Hanby, Secretary of the Commission, to all of the Dis-strict Secretaries to find out, with other conferences in Southern Methodism, if our women are availing themselves of holding such positions as steward, member of quarterly, district, annual and general conferences, etc.

Scarritt

"While Scarritt College is now related to the entire church, it still remains in a peculiar way the woman's institution and the heart of the woman's missionary work." "Bringing to a successful conclusion the Belle H. Bennett Memorial Fund has provided the beautiful Bennett Memorial building for the use of the college and has made possible a good beginning on the much needed endowment fund."

Scarritt Scholarships

Vance Thompson has enjoyed her year at Scarritt, and will be ready after the Scarritt Commencement for her medical training which we have promised her. Miss Lota Draughn is at Johns Hopkins in nurse training. Miss Josephine Dameron has been accepted as contract teacher at Ewha, Korea.

Thelma Hawkins has been accepted for Scarritt next year. Blanche Spivey is already in Scarritt. Ethel Suggs will soon be prepared. These young women are representatives of our conference and need the prayers of the women.

Supplies

Because of the appeal of Miss Oliver last year we had an increase in value of supplies reported. Many boxes were sent that were not reported, and we urge our Auxiliary Superintendents of Supplies to report all boxes sent to our workers, preachers and institutions, to our Conference Superintendent of Supplies, Mrs. Ida Wilkins, Weldon.

Meetings

It was a pleasure and an inspiration to assist Mrs. Kirkwood of the South Carolina Conference in a district meeting in Conway, S. C.

It was the privilege of your secretary to attend either district, county or special Auxiliary meeting on every district except Raleigh and Elizabeth City, touching some districts over and over.

The experience was that the efficient work of our District Secretaries, County Leaders, and the capable assistance rendered by the auxiliary members was noted and is cause for deep gratitude. The conference officers are not nearly so essential to these meetings as they once were, since intelligent leadership is continually being developed in the county organizations and local auxiliaries. Two mission study classes and one Bible study class were taught by your secretary. It was an unusual experience to be able to aid with the Week of Prayer program in four different churches.

Gibson Auxiliary and Circuit Societies

There seems to be confusion in the minds of some in regard to the Gibson Auxiliary. There is but one Gibson Auxiliary and that is composed of isolated women scattered throughout the conference. We report Gibson members of the auxiliary through our District Secretaries. A leaflet and membership card have been prepared for them and suitable literature selected from the stock at headquarters. The Raleigh District Secretary reported 60 Gibson members. No other secretary reported Gibson members.

Circuit Societies have been organized and should be pushed forward to meet the needs of small groups of women in rural churches.

Honor Roll

Again to the Rockingham District goes the Korean Urn for the greatest number of adult honor roll societies. Those auxiliaries that made this possible for the Rockingham District were: Candor, Gibson, Greenlake, Hamlet, Laurinburg, Lumberton, Mt. Gilead, Mary Steele, The Rockingham, Rebecca Le Grand, Rowland, St. John.

Raleigh District had the following auxiliaries: Edenton St., Fuquay Springs, Henrietta Thomas, Louisburg, Maria Brown, Mary Pescud, Oxford, Sadie Spiers.

Washington District: Black Creek, Ayden, Nashville, Bell Bennett, Stantonsburg, and Washington.

Elizabeth City District: First Church, Elizabeth City, Gatesville, Hertford, Moyock, Stumpy Point and Sunbury.

Wilmington District: Faison, Grace, Fifth Avenue, Wesley Memorial and Tabor.

New Bern District: Hookerton, Mount Olive, and St. Paul.

Durham District: Mary Hambrick, Leasburg, and Front St. Burlington.

Fayetteville District: Hay Street and Roseboro.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Harvey Boney

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE

In looking over the work of the young people for the year 1926, I find that the young people of the North Carolina Conference are doing a splendid work and that where they do fail, it is because of the lack of leadership. We need more consecrated leaders to direct the young people in their work. An efficient leader today is not necessarily the one who can do things herself, but one who can get others to do. Young people love responsibility, and the wide-awake society is the one where all the members are doing things under the wise supervision of the leader.

I wish to express my deep appreciation to the Auxiliary Superintendents for their increasing loyalty, their untiring efforts, their devotion to this privileged task of ours. They continually face difficulties in their work and it is not always easy for them to carry on; but they do, and their efforts are blessed. And I ask for these loyal Superintendents and myself the prayers and cooperation of every missionary woman in our church in our efforts to make Christ more real to these young people who are so precious and in whose lives are such great potentialities.

The year closed with 61 auxiliaries and 1156 members. During the year 30 missions and 12 Bible Study Classes reported with 740 members attending these classes.

Week of Prayer was observed by 22 auxiliaries. 17 presented Stewardship and 30 did active Social Service work. 11 boxes of supplies valued at $281.07 were sent, and $550.66 was spent on local work.

As a Christmas gift to their beloved Miss Lillie Duke, the young people placed her name on the Belle Bennett Book of Remembrance. They also contributed to the Superannuate Fund, the Lucy Cunninggim School, and Brevard Institute. For all purposes and including the amount sent Conference Treasurer, the young people of the North Carolina Conference raised $2,925.00. The Elizabeth City District raised the largest amount of money. 13 auxiliaries made the Honor Roll, namely: Roseboro, Farmville, Rowland, Hay Street, Della Shamburger, Marian Allison, Roxboro, Minnie P. Wilson, Mt. Gilead, Troy, Milwaukee, Severn and Jonesboro, the first five mentioned being 100 per cent Honor Roll and I think I am correct in reporting that Rowland, Farmville, and Della Shamburger have made the Honor Roll for five years in succession.

In closing my report I wish to say that I count it a great privilege to have had even a small part in the great ongoing of the Master's Kingdom and I ask the young people of the North Carolina Conference to "Hasten to fresh labor, to thresh, to reap and sow,

Then bid the new year welcome and let the old year go;
So gather all your vigor, press forward in the fight,
And let this be your motto, "For God and for the Right."

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. C. D. Riggsbee.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK

While we hope that the year 1926 showed some gains in our work, yet in other respects it showed serious loss. We were obliged to drop from our roll at the end of the year as failing to report, 36 Junior Divisions and 23 Baby Divisions. I suspect that in almost every case it was because of the failure of the auxiliary to secure a Superintendent for them. One thing is certain, we can not go forward unless our women give us their support. The Junior Divisions which did not report during the year and were therefore dropped, were: Allensville, Cedar Grove, Chapel Hill and Milton, on the Durham District; Union on the Elizabeth City District; Elizabethtown and Jonesboro on the Fayetteville District; Elm Street, Goldsboro and Oriental on the New Bern District; Apex, Four Oaks and Fuquay Springs on the Raleigh District; Beaver Dam, Red Springs and Maxton on the Rockingham District; Fairfield and Tarboro on the Washington District; Hamilton, Pleasant Grove, Rebooth, Scotland Neck and Union on the Weldon District; and Jacksonville, Lees, Richlands, Rose Hill and Wallace on the Wilmington District. I am glad to record that some of these have already reorganized and reported the first quarter of the new year, and I believe that if our women of the auxiliaries will give their attention to this matter, most if not all of the others will be again on our list before the end of the year.

I shall not give the names of the Baby Divisions which are dropped for I am sure that in many cases the loss is more apparent than real. The baby Division was not reported separately and therefore can not be counted in our report, but it is still alive and reports as a part of the Junior report. Let the Superintendents remember that the only Baby Divisions which we can count are those which report separately and see that the items are reported separately.

We are entering a new year full of opportunities. The General Conference of 1926 has given the missionary training of all the children of Junior age into the hands of the Woman's Missionary Society. This ought to make us feel our responsibility more than ever and ought to make us go forward with renewed zeal and with a stronger effort to organize the children of every church. Wherever there is now a Junior League, the Missionary Department of that league comes at once under the care of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church and a Superintendent should be elected by the auxiliary to take charge of that work and to cooperate with the Superintendent of the League in her work.

The new Junior Society is to be called the Epworth Juniors. A strong effort is to be made through this society to train the children of the church in missions and along all lines of church work. The children are to be divided into three divisions: Baby Division from birth to six years, Primary Division from six to nine, and Epworth Juniors from nine to twelve. When there is no other society for the missionary training of the children from twelve to fifteen, we are instructed to keep them in the Epworth Junior society. With all three divisions at work and with the best woman in charge, the year 1927 ought to be a great year for the children's work in each church.

Our statistical report for the year is as follows: Baby Divisions on roll, 78; names on roll, 1279; Baby fees, $123.20; Mites, $545.98; Week of Prayer, $1.00; Life Memberships, $20.00; Memorial fund, $11.30; total, $701.48. Junior Divisions: Divisions on roll, 150; members, 4433; subscribers Young Christian Workers, 451; dues, $1,670.77; pledge, $2,-204.33; Week of Prayer, $305.19; life membership, $20.00; memorial fund, $1.00; special $5.00; Belle Bennett, $200.00; total sent to Conference treasurer by both divisions, $5,107.77. Local work, $440.06.

Fourteen bands report having made the Honor Roll: Duke Memorial, Durham; Gatesville; Hay Street, Fayetteville; Mount Olive; St. Paul, Goldsboro; Queen Street, Kinston; Edenton Street, Raleigh; Oxford; Rowland; Laurinburg; Fremont; Fifth Avenue, Wilmington; Grace, Wilmington; and Severn. Some of these have made the Honor Roll several times: Kinston for seven consecutive years, Gatesville for five and Oxford for four years. While these have done fine work and deserve their honors, several others have missed the honor roll by just one or two points, and also deserve great credit. We have many bands of faithful workers, among our smaller societies, which deserve honorable mention and I wish that there was some way in which we could reward them. The following Junior Divisions have raised One Hundred Dollars or more: St. Paul, Goldsboro, $200.40; Centenary, New Bern, $167.21; Laurinburg, $166.45; Washington, $143.97; Trinity, Durham, $140.88; Louisburg, $126.00; Edenton Street, Raleigh, $114.21; Kinston, $113.85; Hay Street, Fayetteville, $111.42; Weldon, $111.06 and Oxford $101.82.

Forty-five report having observed the week of prayer. Thirty-nine study classes were reported with about 400 members. June and July, 1927 have been set apart for the intensive study of missions and where possible the mission study class should be conducted during those months and the new books for both Home and Foreign Missions study should be used. Twenty-nine bands report Social Service Committees.

The banners for the year were won by the following: Best Baby Division, Kinston with St. Paul, Goldsboro, close behind. The Junior Division raising the most money, St. Paul, Goldsboro, with Centenary, New Bern and Laurinburg next. For the most money per member, Washington with Weldon and Fremont next. The Rockingham District Juniors raised the most money and the New Bern District came second. New Bern District was well in the lead in amount raised by Baby Divisions with Weldon next. The leading societies for several districts are: Durham District Baby Division, Duke Memorial; Junior, Trinity, first, Duke Memorial second; Elizabeth City District: Baby, Hertford; Junior, first, First Church, Elizabeth City second; Fayetteville: Baby, Dunn; Junior, Hay Street, Fayetteville, Dunn; New Bern District: Baby, Kinston; Junior, St. Paul, Goldsboro, Centenary, New Bern; Raleigh District: Baby, Cary ($19.77), Louisburg ($18.75); Junior Louisburg, Edenton Street, Raleigh; Rockingham: Baby, Laurinburg; Junior, Laurinburg, Rockingham; Washington District: Baby, Washington; Junior, Washington, Fremont; Weldon District: Baby, Weldon; Junior, Weldon, Garysburg; Wilmington District: Baby, Grace, Wilmington; Junior, Grace, Wilmington and Trinity, Wilmington.

We are losing several of our best auxiliary superintendents. I plead with the women to see that their places are filled with the very best women to be had. This is most important. Those bands which are doing the best work are doing it because of the faithful women who are leading them. If we are to succeed in the great task given us by our Church we must see that the leaders of our children's work are of the very best. I wish to thank my dear superintendents for their whole hearted co-operation during the past year. This report so far as it is good, is due to their faithful service. I love and honor them and it is a great privilege to work with them. I am sure that they will give us their best efforts this year as we are striving to enlarge our children's work. May we go forward in the spirit of Christ, leading and training His little ones, that they may be prepared for great work of the future.

I can not close this report without thanking the dear children and their superintendents for the honor which they paid me by putting my name on the Bennett Book of Remembrance. This expression of their love moves me deeply. I also than them for putting the name of our Bright Jewel Missionary, Miss Sallie Lou McKinnon, on this Book of Remembrance. I know no better way to express my feeling in the matter than to echo the words which she wrote to the Bright Jewels in thanking them for the honor paid her: "This deed of yours has made me happy and grateful, and it has made me want to be a better Christian and to give finer service that I may be more nearly worthy of your confidence and love."

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY

The year 1926 was spent in the quiet routine of my work at home, reading, writing, studying, planning, praying and executing the plans for it; getting all the information and help available, from every source accessible, in order to give it out again to those who come to me for it; keeping our work, as a whole, before the women, in as much space as I could use for it in "Our Missionary News," and by dozens of letters.

In July, at Mr. Gobbel's request, accepting his offer to put on a special missionary course for us in the Rockingham District Standard Training School at Maxton, if I would help to work up the attendance, I wrote a letter explaining this action and offering our own Conference Credit Certificate to all the women who would attend the school, take the course and make the grade, urging them to do so. This letter was sent to many women throughout the district.

My annual pre-campaign study letter, enclosing the study literature, was sent to every auxiliary early in September, and again in December and January to the new superintendent and others asking for it, and in December, the study questionnaire for the purpose of determining what classes and members were entitled to our Conference Honors for Study, was mailed to every auxiliary which had reported classes to me during the year. In this letter, and to every other auxiliary, I sent out at Mrs. Lipscomb's request, an appeal for the names of the new study superintendents and presidents to be sent to me at once, so that I could forward them to Nashville, in order that the January-February Campaign Cultivation literature might be mailed them.

It was my privilege and pleasure to attend the three County Federation meetings of my own district, giving whatever help I was asked for in the best way I could possibly do it.

The copy for the next number of "Our Missionary News" has been mailed every month, on the last day of the month. As usual I have given preference for space to the articles the women have sent me, whatever they have been, and the space remaining I have used for such articles, either my own or clippings, as seemed to me to be timely, helpful or interesting.

The various things I do in my auxiliary and Conference work require practically all my time, from breakfast till supper, some times till bedtime, nearly every day, and from the beginning, I have counted it a privilege to thus use my time and myself for my Lord in the way He has fitted me to serve Him, my reward being the words of appreciation and encouragement that have come to me from time to time, with the knowledge that He is using me, but last year He repaid me many times more than my poor service is worth, when He put it into the hearts of Mrs. B. C. Thompson and Miss Amma Graham to enroll my name through their districts in the Bennett Book of Remembrance. It never once entered my mind that I might be so honored, and only those whose hearts beat in sympathetic tune can understand the deep, sweet joy their beautiful thought of me put into my heart. But in this way, and in this place, I would be allowed to say to them and to every woman in their districts, "Thank you, thank you, thank you."

Since closing this report, a class with 25 members of the Front Street, Burlington, Auxiliary, studying "Moslem Women" in December, Rockingham District Standard Training school at Maxton in Class: "The Missionary Message of the Bible," taught by Prof. H. E. Myers, specially provided for our Missionary women, reported to me and received our Conference Credit Certificate. Mrs. P. A. Edens of Rowland, Mrs. C. L. Reade of Rockingham and Mrs. B. C. Thompson of Mount Gilead.

Last year, too late to be included in my report for 1925, the Warsaw Auxiliary reported a Standard Class held in the fourth quarter. "New Days in Latin America" had been studied, and the following members having taken examinations and made fine grades. I sent them their Certificates at once: Mrs. Pearl Pridgen, Mrs. D. J. Middleton, Mrs. J. J. West, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. W. M. Bowen, Mrs. B. W. Pickett, Mrs. P. H. Barfield, Mrs. I. F. Waters. And this year, after my statistical report for 1926 had been revised for the last time by the addition of late reports, one came to me from Black Creek. This Auxiliary "was organized almost four years ago," and has been studying nearly all the time, but reporting to me had been neglected. Last year they finished the study of "Acts" and studied "Life as a Stewardship." They have studied also "Women and Missions," "Handicapped Winners," "The Child and America's Future," and begun this year by studying "Our Temple Hills" in the first quarter.

Reporting is still far from being satisfactory, much of it made, being written in letters, and, even when the blank forms are used, many questions are often either unanswered, or not fully answered. The letters are always gladly welcomed, read with great pleasure and encouragement, and I would not willingly miss a single one of them, but they do not give all the information that I must have to make my own report as full as it should be for the credit of our great Conference.

Another cause for genuine concern is that so few new Auxiliaries, not new in point of age or organization, but in point of studying, are being added to the list of study classes. The quality of work being done by all classes, even by those not reported to me as standard, continues to improve, and only five auxiliaries last year, Allensville, Minnie P. Gates, Fremont, Jane K. Meadows and Stumpy Point, used other than the current Council recommended books for 1926, two of those using "Prayer and Missions," which in my opinion is of such vital spiritual value that I accepted it for Credits. And we have more new classes reported than ever before, but most of them are the same faithful groups just studying more books. Your Superintendent esteems the value of Bible and Mission Study as of such tremendous importance in stimulating the growth of our own Missionary spirit and zeal, in increasing our gifts and service, and consequently to the extension of our Missionary work, that hoping to instigate in all the Auxiliaries greater activity in studying, she offers to that district which properly, punctually, and fully reports to her the greatest percentage of Auxiliaries holding annually three classes for studying the current Council recommended books of the year, Home Missions in the Spring, then Bible, and Foreign Missions in the Fall, a medal, to be kept and worn, especially on missionary occasions, by the Secretary of the District winning it from year to year, as a gentle reminder to her to stress the importance of organizing study classes in all her Auxiliaries, and to others that she has done so successfully. The medal is to be appropriately and exclusively designed for this purpose, to be also a beautiful and artistic accessory to the toilet and will be ready to be presented to the district winning it as a feature of the study department of our Conference society, in honor of our Jubilee Conference celebration next year.

Let us pray and work to make our slogan really mean something to us. "A Study Circle in every Auxiliary, and every Auxiliary member a member of the Study Circle."

Gratefully submitted,

Mrs. J. Le Grand Everett, Conf. Supt. Study.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLICITY

The idea of publicity is growing in the North Carolina Conference. Our women are no longer content to hide their light "under a bushel." It is not hard to sense a feeling of vital relationship between the local groups and the work as a whole. In fact, it is quite apparent that the auxiliaries realize that there is much to be gained through contact with other workers at home and abroad; and for the reason that most local organizations have not the privilege of this personal contact, they have learned that the press is the best substitute. It gives courage for new endeavor to find that other women are striving to attain the same goal.

It is gratifying to note the spirit of willingness on the part of the society to send news notes of the various activities of the conference. The response of the Juniors to my appeal for news from that department was a source of genuine satisfaction in my effort to secure some publicity from each department of the work.

Owing to limited space in the N. C. Christian Advocate the department of publicity is not measuring up to its full proportions. While in our conference, this lack of space is supplemented by "Our Missionary News," it appears to your superintendent that our need is a quicker method of communicating one with another. Since the idea of publicity is growing and developing rapidly, much of the matter for our columns must be abbreviated and some omitted on account of the length of certain articles. It is a question always of making a selection as to relative importance with the space assigned. And yet, this is a hopeful situation; an indication that the work is advancing, and the conference must adjust itself to this development.

Mrs. M. T. Plyler, Conf. Supt. of Publicity.

SOCIAL SERVICE REPORT

Activities of the Social Service Department of the Woman's Missionary Conference for the past year have been for the most part in the nature of relief work, however the reports of the Auxiliaries show that an increasing number are co-operating with other social agencies in constructive community programs. This co-operative work, we believe, promises not only a wider range of service but results that will be more constructive and permanent, owing to the contact and experience our workers may have with specialists and trained workers in their various fields. The leading organizations with which the auxiliaries have worked for better social, civic, educational, recreational and health conditions have been Women's Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, Associated Charities, County Welfare Boards and numerous civic organizations.

Forms of relief work reported are visits to the sick, shutins, strangers and to the suffering and sorrowing; furnishing food, fuel and clothing to the needy; sending flowers, fruits and magazines and holding religious services in prison camps, jails, county homes and reformatories.

A new feature of the legislative work of the department for the year has been becoming a member of the Legislative Council of North Carolina Women and having a part, however small, in passing three social protective welfare measure. The first of these was securing an appropriation of $60,000 a two year period for the establishment of a Farm Colony for women offenders older than those received at Samarcand, the second was securing an appropriation for maintaining an industrial school for colored delinquent girls at Efland and the third was limiting the working hours of children between 14 and 16 years to 8 hours per day or 48 hours per week.

Much worthwhile inter-racial work was reported by the committees. Among their activities were fostering parent-teacher associations, Y. W. C. A.'s, furnishing and equipping libraries, assisting in securing better streets and houses, and promoting and establishing day nurseries and clinics. But as a body of Methodist women we have done little inter-racial work in comparison with our opportunities. We have too few inter-racial committees. We agree with Mrs. Newell, our Council Superintendent of Social Service, who says, "Our Methodist Auxiliaries must take the initiative in this work. It is our task. We have had the light and leading. The ground is cleared and planting time has come."

Let us really get in earnest about this most needful service and re-double our efforts.

Health work, better schools and proper recreational opportunities are the great needs of today and these shall be our objectives for the coming year. Last year we studied or had an opportunity to study recreation as an instinctive activity to promote bodily and mental growth in children, while games and sports discipline the will and the emotions when rightly guided and directed, and as the right use of leisure time if properly directed. Jane Adams says, "Play is stronger than vice, and play can stifle the lust for vice." George Elliott says, "Important as it is to organize and direct the industry of the world, it is more important to organize and direct the leisure of the world."

This year we are to study health conditions in our respective communities. The working plans give definite investigation to be made and suggest definite activities. This means real work and many of us fail to get the information and do the service we have been asked to do by our Council leaders. Let us make greater use of the suggestion given in the Social Service Handbook, and try more earnestly to carry out the program of activities given in the quarterly working plans, for they deal with real social problems in which we should interest ourselves and our auxiliary women.

Total number of Auxiliaries reporting are 86 Adult, 15 Young People, and 26 Junior Auxiliaries. From the Durham District, 11 Adult, from the Elizabeth City District 9 Adult and 1 Young Peoples; from the Fayetteville District, 4 Adult and 1 Young Peoples; from the New Bern District, 10 Adult, 1 Young Peoples and 1 Junior; from the Raleigh District, 10 Adults, 2 Young Peoples and 1 Junior; from the Rockingham District, 10 Adult, 2 Young Peoples and 3 Junior; from the Washington District, 12 Adult, 2 Young Peoples and 1 Junior; from the Weldon District, 12 Adult and 2 Young Peoples; and from the Wilmington District, 8 Adult and 2 Juniors.

Vara L. Herring, Conf. Supt. Social Service.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF LITERATURE

The year 1926 was the best in our history. There were more orders for various kinds of literature and a larger quantity distributed; therefore we note with pleasure the progress in our work.

We are still having difficulty in getting a correct mailing list in time to distribute the first quarter's program literature. Heretofore we have been sending it the first of December, hoping if there was a change in the president of the auxiliary that the retiring officer would hand it to her successor. In many instances they failed to do so. We decided to wait until the latter part of December, hoping we might secure the proper addresses. It is most important that the correct address of each auxiliary president be sent to me by December 1st if possible, as you can readily see how the work is handicapped in not having the program material and Year Book by January 1st of each year.

Again we call attention to the need of new auxiliaries reporting promptly as soon as they have finished the fourth quarter's supplies of Simplified Literature, that they may receive a promotion certificate, and be furnished with the regular program literature quarterly. Gibson members are likewise provided with program literature after they have finished their first year supplies. There have been many members added to the Gibson Auxiliary Roll this year.

We do not try to keep an account of the number of packages of literature mailed out, such as Program Literature, Year Books, Hand Books, Annual Reports, Week of Prayer Material, Pledge Cards, Forms for Installation of Officers, Simplified Literature, Gibson Member Literature and Membership Cards. Orders are promptly filled and all communications replied to at once.

We are grateful and wish to thank our co-workers for their assistance in trying to carry on this work successfully.

Mrs. S. H. Scott, Supt. of Literature.

(Supplement)

Some time ago the question of sending the same literature to new societies and Gibson members was discussed at length with Miss Haskins and Mrs. Lipscomb and all thought that as there was so little difference in it anyway that it would be better to revise and rewrite the literature for new societies and use it for both that and Gibson members, as the need is practically the same. I think the new supply is very attractive as Miss Harkins has only recently had it revised. The envelopes are different but contents of the packages are the same. Mite boxes are furnished to the Gibson members.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SUPPLIES

The following boxes of supplies have been sent:

To Miss Bessie Oliver, 12 donations, value, $104.50 (Character of contents: tablets, pencil sharpeners, etc.); to Council Institutions, $100; to Brevard Institute, five donations, $43.00; sent clothing to 3 preachers and checks to 3 preachers, total value, $345.00; Money and new clothes to Elizabeth Bass, $25.00; total, $617.50.

The societies responded well to Miss Oliver's call for articles for use, as they did to raising the special for the Lucy Cunningsim School. The placing of names in the Bennett Book of Remembrance has been a joy. They have also met every call in a liberal manner to preachers and their families. I have made appeals through Our Missionary News and the North Carolina Christian Advocate, and have sent out about 100 personal letters. Received a letter of commendation for work done this year from Mrs. Lipscomb.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Ida Wilkins.

REPORT OF EDITOR OF "OUR MISSIONARY NEWS"

After a year's experience in editing our two columns on the Woman's Page of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, I realized the need of our Conference and our Auxiliary women for larger space in which our Conference work could be adequately presented, and a medium for self-expression of our auxiliary women. The Advocate could not spare us more space, so at the Conference which met in 1921 in Fayetteville, I suggested to the Executive Committee, that we consider owning and editing our own conference organ. This suggestion was received with approval and after sufficient discussion, it was unanimously adopted and recommended to Conference for concurrence. Time was allowed on the Conference floor for full discussion, when everybody was encouraged to express her opinion about it. When the question was finally called, the vote was almost unanimously for concurrence, sponsored as the recommendation was by every member of the Executive Committee. I was then elected Editor and at my request Miss Georgia Biggs was appointed treasurer.

The first two years the paper was printed in the Editor's home town for her convenience in submitting and proof reading, the copy. The printer was very obliging, and cut the size of the paper to fit the copy this inexperienced Editor sent in, in consequence of which there were scarcely two or three successive papers the same size, and of course, the price also varied slightly every month. At the end of the first two years it was decided to have the Advocate Company print the Paper; they agreeing to give us an eight page Paper the size that the Advocate allowed on the Woman's Page, at the average price that the Rockingham printer had charged. The work became every year more and more of a strain on nerves and spirit, as the Editor realized that the paper was falling far short of her program and ideal for it, and because it was not paying for itself, it was being a constant drain on the Conference Expense Fund, causing uneasiness and some dissatisfaction, and she repeatedly begged the Executive Committee to have another woman elected in her place who could make it more successful. They would not do this, however, and because of its having been started at her suggestion, and because she believed in it she felt she could not in honor throw it down by resigning with nobody in sight to take her place. On account of her other Conference work, her auxiliary and church duties, to say nothing of her home making responsibilities, she had not the time to give towards the working out and carrying on of a systematic, business like scheme of soliciting new and renewal subscriptions and collecting subscriptions in arrears which she knew should be done, and could be done, she believed so successfully as to make the paper pay for itself. This condition, with the constant efforts to adjust the righteous complaints of the women who were not receiving their papers with the printers who persistently declared they were mailing them to every subscriber every month, was having so depressing an effect upon a nervous system not good at the best, that your Editor was finding herself unfit for the duties of any position she held, so at the mid-year Executive Committee meeting in Goldsboro in February, 1924, she resigned from the Woman's Page and asked for a Business Manager for Our Missionary News. Her resignation was accepted, and Mrs. W. S. Snipes of Dunn was appointed General Business Manager of our paper, entering upon her duties at once. She held this place acceptably till the Executive Committee meeting in Raleigh in February 1925, when for good personal reasons she felt obliged to give it up. Mrs. W. R. Royall, then of Washington was appointed to fill the vacant place and agreed to do so under certain conditions, which, being reasonable ones were accepted by the Committee and Mrs. Royall has most efficiently and successfully managed the business of the paper for the past year. Again it was considered wise to change the place of printing, and the job was given to the Johnston's Printing House of Washington, N. C., where Mrs. Royall could keep in personal touch with the mechanical part of the work. How successfully she has filled a hard place, her report will tell you:

Ours is not an ambitious little paper, never having had any aspirations towards being a literary production. Its only reason for being is that the women may have a place all their own for writing about their plans, their successes, and good methods to the benefit of all; that in doing so the Auxiliaries may become better acquainted with one another thereby becoming more closely united as one Woman's Missionary Society; that the different departments, Young Peoples, Children's, Study, and Social Service, might keep their plans, their goals, their accomplishments before the women for their information and stimulation; that the Conference Officers and District Secretaries might use its columns for instructional and inspirational message; that Conference, Council, and General Missionary News might be carried on its pages in as much space as should remain for such articles. From the very beginning it has been the custom of the Editor in making up copy for the paper, to give preference for space to the letters and articles of the women, not one of which has ever gone to the waste basket from her hands, though frequently the publishing of some has had to be postponed for lack of space, and a few times some have been omitted by the printers when too much stuff was sent for that number, but they were saved and included in next month's number. It has been, from the beginning also, her earnest desire which she has striven repeatedly to accomplish, to have each department well written up in every number. Whatever space was left has been devoted to Council and general missionary news, either by selected leaflets, clippings or original articles. This has been her program and her ideal for it. Those of you who have been reading it know to what extent her ideal has been reached.

It requires two full weeks for the printing of it. I never allow anything to hinder my giving the last week in every month to get the accumulated material ready for printing, adding whatever is necessary to complete it, and my copy has been mailed to the printer regularly on the last day of every month. The work has been so great a blessing to me, has helped me to develop in so many ways that would never have been possible to me without it, that, in spite of the many heartaches I have had because of it, I can never cease to be thankful that it fell to my lot to be the Editor of "Our Missionary News."

Mrs. Le Grand Everett.

REPORT OF BUSINESS MANAGER OF "OUR MISSIONARY NEWS"

The good year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-six has indeed been a good year for Our Missionary News, and I wish to take this means of expressing my thanks publicly to all who have made it possible for the paper to have been published from March 1926 to March 1927 without having to call on our Conference treasurer for one cent of appropriation.

We are very grateful to our consecrated and loyal auxiliary presidents who have called the attention of our women to the fact that we have a Mrs. Everett who is willing to give her time to edit a paper that is full of information and inspiration.

And we want to thank especially our tireless Missionary News' agents who have done such splendid work as evidenced by the fact that eight hundred and sixty five new subscribers and seven hundred and thirteen renewals have been sent in during this period. We are dependent almost entirely on our News agents for renewals, and I want them to know how much I appreciate the hard work they have done, thereby making it possible for me to submit the following report:

Amount collected from subscriptions, $1,000.65; amount collected for sale of Special Council number, $164.01; amount collected from advertisements, $77.50; total, $1,242.16. Amount paid for printing and postage, $1,214.16; amount on hand, $28.00; total $1,242.16.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. W. R. Royall.

REPORT OF DURHAM DISTRICT, 1926

As some of you already know we raised our Belle Bennett fund, in full, with 13 Societies and names of 10 individuals on Book of Remembrance.

We raised $1,043.20 for Lucy Cunnigim School.

Three new societies were organized during 1926, Salem, Bahama and Rougemont.

One District meeting was held, which was well attended. Miss Alice Green of China was with us, and told of her Evangelistic Helper, that four societies of Durham District have supported for a number of years.

Held two county meetings, had two Conference officers with us at one of these meetings and one at the other. One of our new societies is a result of one of these meetings.

Miss Daisy Davies spoke at two points on District, Roxboro and Front Street, Burlington. At Roxboro, we invited every society in the District, and lunch was served to all. Miss Davies did a wonderful work on District and helped the District raise its quota on Belle Bennett fund.

Mrs. A. M. Gates talked Lucy Cunnigim School at county meetings and in separate auxiliaries, result, we raised our quota.

The District gave $25.00 and we made Miss Mattie Pulliam (our former District Secretary) a life member.

We perhaps have not accomplished as much as some of the other Districts, but we feel that we have had a good year, and are proud of Old Durham District.

Mrs. Mamie Merritt, Secretary.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DISTRICT, 1926

In renewing the work of the Elizabeth City District for the past year we see signs of encouragement and feel grateful for the earnest and excellent work that has been done by many of the Auxiliaries.

Our Conference Treasurer reports the District as "The only District that met every obligation. We reported $400.00 beyond Conference Pledge of $4,000.00, Belle Bennett Quota, and a surplus on Lucy Cunnigim School Special. The total amount sent Conference Treasurer was $7,519.68, approximately 60% increase over previous year. In addition to this, $75.00 was contributed toward the entertainment of Council at Raleigh, and nearly $3,000.00 was spent on Local Work, thus giving the District a grand total of $10,448.65, not including report of Young People, Junior and Baby Divisions.

There are in the District nine Young People's Societies, twenty-five Junior and Sixteen Baby Divisions. Total amount sent Conference Treasurer by these was $967.40. Grand Total $1,176.36.

The Young People led the Conference in amount of money raised and has two Honor Roll Auxiliaries, the Minnie Wilson, First Church, Elizabeth City, and the Della Shamburger, Hertford. The latter being a 100% Honor Roll.

While we are proud of this financial record, we feel a pride in past records also as we are sure that the result of this year's increase is due largely to past years' labors.

Nineteen of the thirty-three adult auxiliaries observed the Week of Prayer, contributing nearly $300.00 as their "Thank Offering." Six attained the Roll of Honor, twelve reported Mission Study Classes, six Bible Study Classes and fourteen Social Service Committees. Five Gibson members were reported.

Nine auxiliaries having averaged $5.00 per member, are entitled to a place in the Belle Bennett Book of Remembrance. The names of six women held in loving remembrance by friends and loved ones are to be enrolled also.

First Church, Elizabeth City, supports two Scholarships at Scarritt. One in Korea is supported by Gates County Institute. Miss Ruth Merritt, who went last year to Brazil, and who is well known and much beloved by many in the Conference is supported by First Church.

The woman's work was presented at the District Conference held at Hertford, also at the Missionary Institute held at Elizabeth City, and an effort made to emphasize the great value of a well organized society in every church.

A visit from Miss Daisy Davies while the District Conference was in session was of much interest and of great value to the Belle Bennett Fund. She was an inspiration to all who heard her.

Four county Meetings, with good programs and attendance, one County Institute and several group meetings were held. A number of Auxiliaries were visited by District Secretary, County Chairman and representatives from Sister Auxiliaries, Council Minutes, Conference Minutes, letters, leaflets and other literature were sent, and special effort made to prepare the way for organization.

The District Meeting held at Edenton in October was well attended, full of interest, the women enthusiastic, and the spirit fine. Charts showing full reports of all finances up to date proved to be of value.

We count it not only a privilege and a pleasure to have entertained the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, at Elizabeth City, but a real benediction. We believe it brought to our District a vision that inspired many to greater things and proved not only a blessing to the membership of our societies, but to others as well.

Mrs. R. H. Willis, Secretary.

REPORT OF FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT, 1926

It is with deep gratitude that we note the progress made on the Fayetteville District for the year 1926. It is true that visible gain is manifested more in a financial way than in an increase of numbers of Auxiliaries. Since we are told though "that where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" we believe that we have made progress along all lines.

Two of the Auxiliaries made the Honor Roll—Hay Street and Roseboro. Also three of our Young Peoples Auxiliaries—Hay Street, Roseboro and Jonesboro. The first two named, being 100%.

Hay Street Auxiliary placed its name on Book of Remembrance. Mrs. Emma L. Hunter's name was enrolled by the district. Mrs. E. J. Lilly by her granddaughter, Mrs. Emma L. Hunter, and Margaret Gibson Whitehead by her Mother, Mrs. J. B. Whitehead of the Dunn Auxiliary.

We regret that every Auxiliary did not pay its full quota on the Bennett Memorial Fund, nor the Lucy Cunningsim School special. In spite of these discouragements our total financial gain for the year was $1,867.77. Amount paid on Bennett Memorial Fund for 1926 was $1,164.95, amount paid previous years was $776.00. Amount paid on Lucy Cunningsim School was $655.85 Average amount paid per member $7.42.

Auxiliary reports are coming in more promptly than a year ago—for which we commend presidents, treasurers and corresponding secretaries.

Mrs. J. G. Downing is our District Agent for "Our Missionary News," she has endeavored to increase its circulation and we believe a number of new subscribers will be the results.

We are grieved to report that five of our Auxiliaries failed to observe the Week of Prayer.

I wish to thank Auxiliary Presidents and members of Auxiliaries for their loyal support and co-operation throughout the year.

Mrs. A. E. Brown of the Haw River Charge organized an Auxiliary in January at Mann's Chapel. I greatly appreciate this and would be pleased if others would organize Auxiliaries or report possibilities to me.

Our District Conference met on June 3rd in Jonesboro. It was well attended. We were fortunate in having inspiring messages from Misses Elizabeth Lamb, Alice Green and Vara L. Herring, Mesdames Gates, Boney and Branch. The meeting as a whole was inspirational and instructive.

Miss Daisy Davies addressed our women at Hay Street, Fayetteville. Attendance was very good. This was her only appointment in the district. A number of pledges were made and interest was quickened in the task of raising the Memorial Fund:

We have no County nor Zone organizations which we believe is a great draw back to the progress of our work. We earnestly hope to perfect plans whereby such organizations can be put into operation during 1927.

Let me take this opportunity to add words of welcome. We have looked forward, for a year to your coming. We have felt that our District would be wonderfully blessed from your stay among us and we feel sure that when our report for 1927 is made you will see evidence of inspiration from this meeting. Every Auxiliary welcomes you and may God pour out His blessings in a very great way upon this Conference.

Mrs. Junius Wren, Secretary.

NEW BERN DISTRICT

For one more year, it has been my privilege to serve as Secretary of the New Bern District and it is with grateful pride that I report the best year we have ever had; a year of toil and sacrifice, but of wonderful results made possible by the faithful work of our loyal auxiliary women.

Our progress has not been made in leaps and bounds, but by steadily climbing. St. Paul, Mount Olive and Hookerton are on the Honor Roll. New Mission Study classes have been added.

The Week of Prayer was more generally observed than ever before, seventeen having reported.

The Bright Jewels of St. Paul and the Baby Division of St. Paul and Queen Street have won the Conference honors for the past two years.

New Junior and Baby Divisions have been organized and we welcome two new Adult Auxiliaries, Pine Forest and "The Helen Harrison" of Maury Church.

Our District Meeting was held with the Queen Street Auxiliary, Kinston, and Mesdames Gates, Boney and Royall were our visiting Conference officers, but home folks, were also present and all contributed largely to a most profitable day.

Perhaps the greatest asset in the District is the Wayne County Woman's Missionary Federation. This Federation was organized two years ago by Mrs. Boney, and Mrs. John Raper was elected County Chairman. Since then she has organized four (4) adult and three (3) children's societies in Wayne, and three other adult societies, Princeton, Dover and Pink Hill in other counties.

Two meeting are held each year.

Specials:

St. Paul Auxiliary of Goldsboro has for several years contributed $645.00 towards the support of The Institutional Church in Huchow, China. This auxiliary raised $1,396.00 on the Bennett Memorial this year and if we consider all phases of her financial interests, was able to report not only a ten per cent but a seventy per cent increase.

Queen Street, Kinston, supports a Japanese Bible Woman, $120.00 per year.

The Jane K. Meadows auxiliary assumes the support of Katie Hern-don at Scarritt.

The Elizabeth Hendren contributed $100.00 towards the support of a young lady in Louisburg College, and the whole District is under obligations to Mrs. W. B. Blades, a member of that auxiliary, for her gift of $500.00 to the Lucy Cunningsim School.

Six auxiliaries have their names in the Book of Remembrance, Calypso, Mount Olive, St. Paul, Jane K. Meadows, Elizabeth Hendren and Morehead City.

Nine names have been enrolled in the Book of Remembrance.

Total amount raised for the Bennett Memorial, $5,092, or $707.00 over the Districts' quota of $5.00 per member.

REPORT OF RALEIGH DISTRICT, 1926

Three adult Auxiliaries have been organized this year, Rolesville, Lucama, and Epworth Church, Raleigh, and one Young People's Auxiliary at Kenly. Right many auxiliaries have been very active in local work, some helping the Orphanage in the call for chairs.

As a district we went over the top on the Lucy Cunningsim Fund, but we did not quite reach our Belle Bennett quota, seven auxiliaries were enrolled in the Book of Remembrance, also eight names of individuals.

The District meeting was held at Plank Chapel the eleventh of June, 1926. We are planning one early this summer.

County meetings were held at Apex the 9th of July, this was the Wake county meeting, Johnston county meeting was held at Princeton July the 11th. Miss Daisy Davies was at this meeting.

Sixty names have been enrolled as Gibson members, literature has

ROCKINGHAM DISTRICT REPORT

There is a great joy in making the report for the Rockingham District for 1926, not because everything we hoped for has been accomplished, but for the measure of success actually attained.

It has been a year of blessings, surprises and disappointments. At one time during the year such drought and financial depression traversed our section that there was little hope of a livelihood for our people, but the people come together in prayer and God gave heed to their supplication and the abundant crop was proof of His goodness to those who remember to do His will.

Our marching orders from the Elizabeth City Conference sent us back to our district with what looked to be a huge task, but since our Conference is rated as "Specializing in impossibilities" the Rockingham District follows with the same aspiration and adds the slogan, "More Facts, More Folks, More Funds."

We pledged for the district for Adult, Young People's and Children work $10,500.

The amount sent Conference Treasurer through these departments for 1926 was $11,043.99.

Raising the Lucy Cunneggim School Fund was a real joy. We had only to present the need and it made its own appeal.

The amount asked of the district, which was $1,000, was paid in the second quarter.

The Belle Bennett Memorial Campaign was put over in fine spirit by our women. The district paid during the four years $5,097.20 to this fund, making an average of $5.00 per member for 1,019 members instead of 867 which was the membership in the beginning of the year 1923.

Specials carried by the district are as follows:

Rockingham Woman's Auxiliary $250.00, Joy Hardie School, Wonsan, Korea.

Mary Steele Auxiliary, $150.00, a Bible Woman, Wonsan, Korea.

Mary Steele Auxiliary $40.00 for the Pat Leak Scholarship.

Hamlet Auxiliary paid $300.00 for Vance Thompson at Scarritt and the same amount on Euline Smith's salary.

The district supports Sallie Lou McKinnon and paid $585.00 toward the support of Euline Smith.

Total amount sent Conference for adult work, $9,871.46.

The average per member for funds sent Conference Treasurer, $9.78.

Total sent Conference Treasurer and Local work $14,293.32.

The district leads in subscribers to Our Missionary News and Bible and Mission Study.

The district won the Korean Urn again for the third time for having the largest number of Honor Roll auxiliaries.

Twenty-five auxiliaries observed the Week of Prayer.

Thirteen auxiliaries made Honor Roll.

Seven names of individuals were enrolled in the Book of Remembrance.

Six County or Zone meetings and a district meeting were held during the year. We had assistance from Conference officers in all of these meetings.

We are hoping, planning and praying for a great year in 1927.

Mrs. B. C. Thompson, District Secretary.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT, 1926

The women of the Washington District have responded well to all calls in 1926.

Lucy Cunneggim School, Korea—Ayden, Conetoe, Greenville, Fremont, Belle Bennett, Woman's, Rocky Mount, Spring Hope, Woman's Wilson, Elizabeth Lamb, Wilson, and Nashville paid one dollar per member and assisted by the other auxiliaries gave a total of $947.86.

Belle Bennett—Ayden, Greenville, Pinetops, Belle Bennett, Clark

St., Rocky Mount, Woman's Wilson, paid five dollars per member and are entitled to have their names enrolled in the book of Remembrance.

Individual names for Book of Remembrance—Mrs. Ada Cherry, Greenville, N. C., by W. M. S., Jarvis Mem., Greenville, N. C.; Mrs. A. W. Arrington, Rocky Mount, by W. M. S. First Church, Rocky Mount; Mrs. J. L. Horne, Rocky Mount, by W. M. S. First Church, Rocky Mount; Miss Elizabeth Bass, Black Creek, Elizabeth Lamb Auxiliary, Wilson, N. C.; Deceased: Mrs. Samuel J. Smitherman, by Mrs. W. R. Royall; Mrs. Annie Walters Spencer, W. M. S., First M. E. Church, Washington, N. C.; Mrs. Susan E. Harding, by her children.

The total amount raised during the year, $2,828.01. Total for the Four Years, $3,578.93.

Ayden, Black Creek, Nashville, Belle Bennett, Stantonsburg and Washington are on the Honor Roll.

Twenty-five auxiliaries of the 27 observed the week of prayer.

Each auxiliary in the district sent the fourth quarter's report in right on time. 100 per cent punctual in closing the year's work is good preparation for beginning a successful new year. We expect the new year to be successful.

Miss Bessie Harding, District Secretary

WELDON DISTRICT, 1926

As you read the figures for the Weldon District you will be impressed with loyalty and liberality of our women.

We all found joy in working for the Bennett Memorial. (Thanks to the Council Treasurer for allowing us to transfer our undirected pledge to the Bennett Memorial, that our conference might be inscribed on the Memorial Tablet in Scarritt College.) Also for the Lucy Cunningham School in Korea. We shall realize even greater joy than heretofore, because from now on we shall be directly represented by our own girls, and their support will be our Special.

Miss Josephine Dameron will be the first to go. She is leaving for Ewha College, Seoul, Korea, in time for the opening of the college in September. Her sweet voice will give pleasure to the people there as it has the past year to many at Scarritt and the other schools and churches of Nashville. Let us remember her in our prayers; also Misses Blanche Spivey of Northampton and Lota Leigh Draughon of the Halifax Group who are still in training for foreign work—the one at Scarritt and the other at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Amma D. Graham, District Secretary.

REPORT FOR WILMINGTON DISTRICT, 1926

"The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

This has been the hymn of praise sung by women as they have viewed the past year. Such splendid response has been given the District Secretary whenever a cause has been presented that she has been convinced that the only reason the Wilmington District does not lead the other Districts is because of the lack of a secretary such as New Bern and Weldon and some of the other Districts have.

Just this much in defense of the Secretary now attempting to serve, however. She has held two District Conferences since we last met. The 1926 Conference was held in Grace Church last June and was very enjoyable and satisfactory. The 1927 Conference was held in Rose Hill April 2nd and if attendance was any indication of activity in the District the Women have become very much alive for over two hundred were in attendance. Five Conference officers were on the program and four Ex-District Secretaries of the Wilmington District were present. Beside these the "Pioneer" Organizers of the Rose Hill Auxiliary were with us and two ex-Missionaries. In spite of all these notables fifteen auxiliaries got in their reports. It was a very happy day.

But I realize that a backward look must be taken in order to fully realize what has been accomplished.

In 1925 we had 25 Auxiliaries reporting and amount raised for all purposes for missions $3,519.45 and local work $7,193.21, making a total of $10,712.66.

In 1926-27 total Auxiliaries reported $5,130.05 sent to Mrs. McKinne this being an increase of $1,610.60 or 45%. Grace Auxiliary making over 100% increase.

The Children's work remains about the same and is just waiting for the women to lead them.

There are four Young Peoples organizations reporting as against two in 1925.

The number of members shows a decrease but a checking up of the members according to dues paid in, women actually working for and contributing to missions have increased.

The District as a whole did not pay out its quota on the Belle Bennett but last year paid in on this fund $1,227.33 making the total amount paid by the District on the B. B. $2,104.28 showing more than half of the total raised last year.

The following Auxiliaries are entitled to a place on the Book of Remembrance: Hannah Koonce of Richlands, Faison, Fifth Avenue, Grace, Kenansville and Trinity. The individuals names to be placed there are Addie McKinne Hart, Ida Hankins and Mrs. E. R. Clarke.

County organizations have been formed in Duplin and New Hanover counties. In Duplin county practically every church has been organized in the women's work through the activities of their County Federation.

New Hanover being small has invited the Missionary Societies of the two adjoining counties to affiliate. This has not been worked out yet but will be completed. They have been present as visitors at some of the meetings.

When groups are organized in the Columbus and Onslow sections the District will be well equipped to work out the organization of missionary societies in the uncultivated places.

At the District Conference of the Church the Secretaries message has been well received and the pastors have cooperated in organizing new work. Several have indicated that work would be started this year and in fact in addition to the two new Auxiliaries reporting in 1926, since the first of January two others have reported. One of these did the work during 1926, but through some misunderstanding did not get their financial report in on time. The other also made a start in 1926 but did not make a financial report. Still another organization has been formed so the prospect seems very encouraging that thirty at least will be reported during 1927.

In two of the Auxiliaries at least the success of the past year has been attributed to the prayer groups in these Auxiliaries. Oh that this wonderful store house of power were drawn on more generally by the Auxiliaries.

This year especially should emphasis be placed on prayer and study. This has been urged in the District meetings.

Those attaining the Honor Roll are Faison, Grace, Fifth Avenue, Wesley Memorial and Tabor (a new auxiliary).

Failure to have the required number of subscribers to the "Voice" and "News" kept some from attaining this honor. That is one of the weak places in our District. However Mrs. Royall is helping to correct this defect.

The Women on the District are active and liberal and spiritual. Heavy responsibilities have been placed upon them in building new churches. The habit of giving is being formed and sometime some other District is going to have the distinction of occupying the bottom place on the list (and some has to be there) and our District will forge ahead. There are signs that they are "pressing toward the mark."

Next year when Conference meets in Wilmington the Whole District will welcome you and will prove to you that the Methodist Church in the Wilmington District has again taken its place at the head of the column.

Mrs. E. R. Clarke, District Secretary.

REPORT OF EXTENSION AND FINANCE COMMITTEE

We recommend:

1. Grateful for the measure of success we have had and with a prayerful and zealous effort to make wonderful records:

We trust that every auxiliary and organization under Council will strive for best record yet attained.

2. That we make a greater effort to become Honor Roll auxiliaries. That we make special efforts to have a large attendance and appropriate programs for Pledge Day and Harvest Day.

3. That the adult auxiliaries manifest more sympathetic interest in the young people's and Epworth Junior auxiliaries under their care.

4. That the Probation Law for both individuals and auxiliaries be more carefully observed.

5. That all auxiliaries throughout the Conference elect their officers in November.

6. That a representative be sent to each District Conference to advocate Our Missionary News.

8. That each District Secretary and County Leader appoint a committee whose duty it shall be to keep informed concerning all Jubilee information, and plans, and promote the carrying out of these plans in their respective territories.

As we strive to become truly missionaries, let us recall Paul's Wonderful Goal, and "Press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Jesus Christ."

1. We therefore further recommend that it be the goal of the Woman's Missionary Society to enlist every member as a tither.

2. That the executive Committee of the auxiliary extend to every woman of the Church, not a member of the missionary society, a definite opportunity each year to become an active member, and an opportunity to contribute financially to our Missionary organization.

3. That the District Secretary keep in close touch with the financial condition of each auxiliary, keeping them informed as to how they stand, and urging quarterly payments and reports.

4. Whereas the credits, certificates, badges of Honor, etc., bestowed at Conference are given for real effort, we recommend that they shall be bestowed by the Heads of the various departments at the opening evening session of the Conference.

We heartily endorse and request that all Presidents and Superintendents consider these Council recommendations changed and adapted to our needs and plans.

Recommendations

The year past saw the successful completion of a period enterprise, the year ahead contains another project. Therefore, this year should be a period of intensive cultivation in every department of the organization through its regular channels. To this end we recommend:

1. That there be a rededication of the leadership and the entire membership of the organization to renewed prayer and effort for the kingdom.

2. That the year's program be one of intensive education.

1. That the programs for the regular monthly meetings and Week of Prayer are carefully prepared by those in charge of literature. They should be presented in every auxiliary with the same care that they may carry their message to every woman who attends these meetings.

2. That opportunities shall be given for training the leadership in conferences and auxiliaries. We recommend that this training be provided through:

- (a) Institutes conducted by District Secretaries for the county chairmen and for the officers of the auxiliaries in the district.

- (b) That a 15% increase of subscriptions for "Missionary Voice" and "Our Missionary News" be secured.

3. That there be an increased emphasis on the efforts:

1. To enlist the entire woman membership of the Church for membership in the Woman's Missionary Society either as regular or as Gibson Members.

2. To strengthen the weak organizations by sympathetic personal contacts on the part of the strong ones, thereby saving them to the organization.

3. To organize and foster new societies in every possible congregation.

4. The financial goal for the year 1927: that the North Carolina Conference pay its Pledge in full and as "much over the top" as possible.

Mrs. Harvey Boney,
Mrs. F. B. McKinne
Mrs. M. Leigh Sheep.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We recommend:

1. In view of the fact that 1928 is Jubilee Year, that the Young People of this Conference strive to make this year one of real spiritual awakening. To this end we earnestly hope that each auxiliary will lay much emphasis on Bible Study and prayer. That is, the cultivation of this personal devotional life of every young person within our Conference.

2. Following the suggestion of the Woman's Missionary Council

(a) that a survey be made in each local church, preferably under the supervision of the pastor, and president of the Woman's Missionary Society, with a view of finding out the number of Young People who are receiving no missionary training, and thus an effort be made to organize a young people's missionary society. (b) That a woman be appointed in each district to assist the District Secretary in promotion of Young People's work, and when practicable, that district meetings be held for Young People separate from the adult district meetings.

.3 That the Foreign Special for the next three years be the "Hiroshima" girls' school and the Home Special, "Rural Work."

4. That we fix our Conference budget at $2,000.00, and that the Young People be entirely responsible for meeting this pledge without assistance from the adult members.

5. That the Young People in the local societies offer their assistance to the adult auxiliary especially to the departmental superintendents, in helping them to promote their work.

6. That we set for ourselves the following goals for 1928 and and strive to attain these goals:

a. The Honor Roll.

b. Quarterly executive meetings.

c. Daily prayer for volunteers.

d. Daily prayer for Specials.

e. Tithers among the members.

f. Observance of Week of Prayer.

g. Organized Mission and Bible classes.

7. That we strive to raise the type of work done in a large per cent of our Young People's Auxiliaries to that required for the Honor roll, thus preventing the great losses through weak organization.

8. That we as Young People support our Missionary publications, "The Voice," "The Missionary News," and the "Young People's Bulletin."

9. That the Conference Superintendent of Young People attend the Conference for Young Peoples Superintendents at Junaluska, the Conference bearing her expenses.

10. 11. In addition to our emphasis on Missionary Education, both in Bible and Mission Study, we shall emphasize more in our Young People's organizations the increasing demand for volunteers and work more prayerfully and earnestly that there may be a larger number of Young People who shall offer their lives for whole time Christian service in the church.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

Your Committee on Childrens work recommend:

1. That, as the ruling of the last Council of the last General Conference placed all the missionary training of the children of junior age in the hands of the Woman's Missionary Council, you make a careful study of the constitution prepared by Council Committee of Childrens Work.

2. That where there is a Junior Epworth League and no Junior missionary society, the local Auxiliary elect a superintendent of Children's work whose duty it shall be to nominate an associate superintendent in charge of the Missionary Department.

3. That as the new Epworth Junior Society provides for children from 9 to 12 years inclusive, action has been taken by council to include those of 13 and 14 years in the Young Peoples Department and the Junior Superintendent be asked to encourage the promotion of these ages to the Young Peoples Department.

4. That wherever it is possible the Woman's Auxiliary organize the children into all three of the departments, Baby, Primary and Epworth Junior, and assist the superintendent to get the best women possible for department leaders. These leaders with the suprintendent will constitute the Auxiliary Standing Committee on Children's Work.

5. As June and July have been set apart for intensive missionary cultivation for the children, that we have our mission study classes at that time using the new books, and wherever possible have vacation mission schools.

6. That as there has been a falling off in finances in our children's department, we ask that the women cooperate more zealously with the Superintendents and the children in their plans for raising their pledge money.

7. That once each quarter a mothers' meeting for mothers of each age group be held by the superintendent of Children's Work or leader of the group and the President of the Auxiliary.

8. We beg you to give your love, your prayers, and your cooperation to this great work which has been placed in the hands of our women.

Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, Chairman
Mrs. Gertie Matthews, Secretary

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SOCIAL SERVICE

1. We recommend the Federation of inter-denominational social service committees for the study of local conditions and for the promotion of Christian community service.

We recommend to these federations the study of community needs for day-nursery care for children of working mothers, and to promote the building up of health by preventive measures, of high standards of school attainment, and the use of leisure time in proper recreation. This program to apply to both races.

3. We recommend that social service committees shall visit county institutions, convict camps and jails for religious and friendly service, and shall take steps to relieve any conditions found to be unsanitary, inhuman or in any way below the level set by a trained Christian conscience.

4. That auxiliary superintendents use the young people and Epworth-Juniors in doing relief-work, and putting on programs of entertainment and recreation in institutions for the aged and infirm, and in centers for the young people and children.

5. That we seek opportunity to serve as "big sister" by cultivating sympathetic understanding and acquaintance with girls whose circumstances indicate the need of guidance.

6. We recommend that social service superintendents take membership in their State Conference for Social Service and that where no provision is made for the membership fee of $2.00, a sum be set aside by vote of the auxiliary from the local funds necessary to project this enterprise.

7. We recommend that auxiliary superintendents and committees buy and read such magazines on sale at local news-stands as are under suspicion of being detrimental to youth, and that they seek to have them removed by appealing first, to the dealer, and second, to the proper authorities.

Miss Vara L. Herring, Chairman
Mrs. L. O. Ellis, Secretary

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY

Realizing the necessity for Mission and Bible Study to the broadening of our world vision, to the deepening of our inter-racial sympathy, to the continuous growth of our missionary spirit and zeal, to the developing of our spiritual life, and believing that as a consequence our value will be mightily enhanced to the great cause of Missions which we have espoused, our Conference has adopted a system of Credits for Study, in recognition of all work done in its established Curriculum, we therefore recommend:

I. That our slogan continue to be "A study circle in every auxiliary and every member a member of the study circle."

II. That, in order to increase the number of auxiliaries studying, the District Secretaries be invited to co-operate more closely with the Conference Superintendent of Study, by stressing the value of Mission and Bible Study, and urging the organization of classes for study in accordance with our Conference Plan of Study, both in their correspondence with their auxiliaries, and by arranging for a forceful and appealing presentation of it at all their District Meetings.

III. That the chairman of the County Federations, for the same purpose, provide in all their Group Meetings for a clear explanation of our Conference Plan of Study, with a stirring appeal for study classes to be conducted in all their auxiliaries, in which the current courses of study recommended by Council shall be used according to the Plan of Study adopted by our Conference.

IV. That in order to increase the number of Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries organized for study, the Superintendents of Young People and of Children's Work be invited to co-operate more closely with the Conference Superintendent of Study by furnishing her as early in the year as possible, accurate and full lists of their Superintendents or Leaders, by stressing the value of Mission and Bible Study in their correspondence with their auxiliary leaders, by urging them to organize classes for study and to send their reports and letters to the Conference Superintendent of Study, thus enabling her to keep in helpful touch with them and their work.

V. That a Superintendent of Study be elected in every auxiliary however small or new it may be.

VI. That the Superintendents of Study in the Adult Auxiliaries encourage and foster Mission and Bible Study in the Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries by teaching classes, holding "Story Hours," or co-operating in any way desired with the Superintendents of these Departments.

VII. That the President of every Auxiliary stress the value of Mission and Bible Study, and co-operate with the Superintendent of Study by helping her to organize and conduct classes for study, if necessary and desired.

VIII. That campaigns for Mission Study be put on in October for the study of the current Foreign Missions subject, in January for the study of the current Home Missions subject, and in April for a special class in Bible study, by Adult and Young People's Auxiliaries, and in June and July for the study of the current Home and Foreign Mission study books recommended by Council, by the Junior Auxiliaries.

IX. That every class complete in one quarter the study of the book it selects, on the Foreign Mission subject in the fourth quarter, the Home Missions subject in the first quarter, and the special Bible subject in the second quarter, thus making the course in Missionary Education complete for that year.

X. That the books used for study shall be selected from among those latest recommended by Council, and in the order named above: The Foreign subject in the fourth, the Home subject in the following first, and the special Bible class in the second quarter.

XI. That Standard work in all classes be constantly urged; that "Our class shall be a Standard Class and our goal shall be the Study Honor Roll," be the aim of every Superintendent of Study and her class.

XII. That Reading Circles be formed in every auxiliary, using the current Mission Study books, the "Additional Books" recommended by Council, "Women and Missions," and Mrs. Butler's "History of the Woman's Missionary Society," in the manner of a circulating library.

XIII. That Prayer Circles, for definite daily prayer for our work and workers, be formed in every auxiliary, the method of organization and functioning being left to the auxiliary Superintendent of Study.

XIV. That where it is impracticable to have Standard Classes for "Study Honor Roll," that Classes be conducted in the way best suited to the class, in an earnest effort to make "Honorable Mention" for study.

XV. That strong classes adopt and nurture weaker ones nearby, by immediately passing on used current books and helping in any way needed; that they try to organize classes in auxiliaries where there have been none before.

XVI. That an especial effort be made to accumulate and use Missionary Libraries.

XVII. That care be taken to promptly report every new class, by enrollment Card, to the Council Secretary in charge of Missionary Education.

XVIII. That quarterly reports to the Conference Superintendent of Study be made promptly and fully, the latest report sheets being used.

XIX. That Superintendents of Study take the initiative in planning for "Church Schools of Missions" in their congregations, doing all in their power to make them successful, and providing in them for classes of Young People and Children, supplying capable teachers for them.

XX. That, in order to become more efficient as leaders in our work, the auxiliary Superintendent of Study, or at least one woman from every auxiliary, be urged to attend some Leadership Training School, and that our Conference Certificate of Credit for Study be offered to those who attend and receive credits for Leadership Training Courses in any of our Standard Training Schools—as the School of Missions at Lake Juna-luska, Standard Sunday School Training Schools, Pastors' Training Schools, and District or Zone Training Schools and Institutes—provided that they report their work to the Conference Superintendent of Study.

XXI. That the class having a Leader who has been "trained by experiences as a teacher by special college work in pedagogy, or by courses taken in Leadership Schools shall receive special Council recognition through the Conference Superintendent of Study," according to Council recommendation.

XXII. That classes making "Study Honor Roll" shall receive special Council recognition through the Conference Superintendent of Study.

XXIII. That a Summer Camp be established, to meet annually, beginning in 1928, for a week's study of the current Mission Study books; the Missionary Message of the Bible; organization and methods for Adult, Young People, and Junior Societies; social service, racial, and legislative studies as connected with our Woman's Missionary Society, all the details to be worked out by a Special Committee appointed for that purpose, said camp as long as it shall live, to be known as "Camp Jubilee" of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church, South.

Mrs. I. I. Henderson, Chairman,

Mrs. H. B. Branch, Secretary.

Mrs. J. Le Grand Everett, Conf. Supt. Study.

To the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, and to all members of Steel Street Church, we wish to extend our sincere thanks for their many courtesies and delightful entertainment;

To Mrs. D. L. St. Clair, president, and ladies of Steele Street Auxiliary, and Mrs. C. D. Lawrence, general chairman of committees; to the organist, Mrs. H. C. Roberts, and to the music committee, who furnished such lovely music during the conference.

We have greatly missed the presence of our beloved president, Mrs. Early, but feel we have been greatly blessed with the personality and splendid ability of our vice-president, Mrs. A. M. Gates, who so ably filled her place.

The conference also expresses appreciation for having Miss Althea Jones as our representative from Council;

To Rev. W. W. Peele for the noon-day Bible lessons, which have been such an inspiration to the conference. His theme was, "The Mind of Christ."

4. That officers shall be elected biennially, the election to follow the opening devotional of the afternoon session of the second day of conference.

THE YEAR OF JUBILEE

"You shall count seven weeks of years, seven times seven years, so that the seven weeks of years amount to forty-nine years. Then, on the tenth day of the seventh month, you must sound a loud trumpet-blast through the land; the trumpet-blast shall sound aloud on Expiation Day. You must hallow the fiftieth year by proclaiming liberty to all the inhabitants of the land: it shall be a jubilee year for you."—Lev. 25:8, 9, 10.

"You must not defraud one another, but stand in awe of your God; for I am the Eternal your God. No land is sold in perpetuity, for the land is mine, and you are only guests of mine, passing wayfarers."—Lev. 25:17, 23 (Moffatt) operation in Mission and Bible Study at the Epworth League Conference to be held in Louisburg. The report was adopted.

Mrs. Everett read a resolution of appreciation to all who made the Pioneer dinner such a pleasant and profitable occasion, and to the choirs of the city for their co-operation in the musical program which was so much enjoyed.

Miss Loraine Buck, missionary to Mexico, was introduced and spoke on "Signs of Promise in Mexico."

Mrs. Everett stated that the History of Our Conference would not be published until the close of the year so that the history of the Jubilee year might be included.

Song, "Forward Through the Ages," was sung.

Miss Vara Herring presented the Conference Book of Remembrance.

Senorita Andrade was asked to talk in Spanish and Miss Lamb to interpret, so that we might see how it is done in foreign countries.

The District Secretaries presented "Love Gifts" to Senorita Andrade from each District, inasmuch as it was understood she is to be married soon after her return home.

"Blest be the Tie" was sung.

Miss Vara Herring, Superintendent of Social Service, read her annual report.

Report of the Committee on Social Service was read by Mrs. T. W. Costen, and was adopted.

The following Resolutions on Temperance and Law Enforcement were read by Mrs. Costen, and were adopted:

Since we, as citizens, have the authority and privilege to participate in the making and enforcement of law, and since the Woman's Missionary Council, as well as our North Carolina Conference, stands committed to the principles and activities that created the 18th amendment to the Constitution of the U. S. of America, and the enactment that provides for its enforcement;

Therefore, it is hereby resolved by the Woman's Missionary Society of the N. C. Conference in session this, the 20th day of April, 1928, in the City of Wilmington,

First: That the attention of our members be called to their sacred duties of citizenship, and that they shall not only register and vote themselves, but that they be active in getting others to exercise this duty.

Second: That we pledge ourselves to vote only for those candidates for offices, local, state and national, who are committed by precept and example to maintain and uphold the constitution of our country and to enforce its laws.

Third: That we co-operate with other organizations working to this end in their efforts to elect a President and Vice-President and other officials who can be relied on to stand for the 18th amendment and the enforcement of its laws.

Miss Louise Young spoke on "Christian Relationships."

Miss Barbara Staton sang "Let Not Your Heart be Troubled."

Miss Loraine Buck read a lesson from the 3rd chapter of Acts and brought a message of service. After prayer by Miss Buck, Dr. Wilson pronounced the benediction.

The report of the Superintendent of Supplies, Mrs. Wilkins, was read by Miss Laura Powers. Mrs. Wilkins having resigned on account of feeble health, Mrs. M. T. Plyler spoke words of appreciation and love for Mrs. Wilkins, and Mrs. S. H. Scott presented flowers for the Conference.

A short "Problem Hour," in which questions in regard to delegates, Gibson members, programs at circle and business meetings were discussed, proved interesting and beneficial.

President's Message

OUR YEAR OF JUBILEE

The formal celebration of the Year of Jubilee of woman's organized work for missions in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened with the session of the Woman's Missionary Council in its eighteenth annual gathering at Nashville, Tennessee, March 14-21. What a period of progress this half century has covered! Among the many changes in the life of woman which the years have brought, none has furnished a richer heritage to womankind throughout the world than has the organized missionary movement of women for women. It has been a creative work from its incipency. "The record of these fifty years is replete with interesting and thrilling stories of heroic undertakings and glorious achievements."

In these restless, hurried days of the aeroplane and automobile, there is a touch of quaintness in the report of the first meeting of the General Executive Association. For, we are informed, the delegates came a few days ahead of time, in order to be rested from the journey when the meeting began, and, again, upon the invitation of their hostesses, they remained for a season after the meeting, to recover from the fatigue of their strenuous duties before starting on their homeward journey. On this occasion the records show that 15 conference societies were represented, 208 auxiliaries had been organized, with a membership of 5,890; the gifts of the women had amounted to $4,014.27. One young woman, Miss Lochie Rankin, had been sent to China. She was present at the recent gathering in Nashville and participated in the pageant and other exercises.

Reports for this our Jubilee Year show that instead of only 15 conference societies there are now 39 in the United States alone. There are besides 3 conference societies in Brazil, and 1 each in China, Mexico, Cuba, Africa, Korea and Japan. The work is also organized in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Belgium. Altogether there are now approximately 11,000 auxiliaries, with a membership of 300,000. We rejoice in this great sisterhood, which encircles the world, united as it is in an effort to share with others the knowledge of the Jesus way of life. Into these various fields more than 1,000 trained workers have been sent to labor. They are conducting 112 boarding and day schools in addition to engaging in evangelistic, medical and literary work and conducting industrial missions. The total income from all sources during the year 1927 amounted to $1,197,117.56, of which amount $1,061,368.49 was raised by the conference societies for their regular work. As we consider these statistics, it is well to bear clearly in mind the words of Mrs. J. W. Perry, when she says: "The story of this half century cannot be told in figures nor in the recital of the types of service in which we are engaged. The real story is recorded in the multitude of lives that have been saved, in the courage and heroism of those who have poured out their lives in service for others, in the enrichment of the womanhood of the church through participation in the work, and in the contribution which the organization has made to the program of the church and to the progress of the kingdom of God on earth. We honor the memory and we pay a tribute of love to the host of women who have made possible the achievements of these fifty golden years. But we would be untrue to the rich heritage which they left us, if on this occasion we should stop with a celebration only commemorating the past. As they took a long look into the future, so must we turn our faces forward and ask, What of the next fifty years? What will our children and our grandchildren have to tell of us when the centennial year shall come?"

Thus far we have been concerned with but one of the Jubilee goals, namely: "The Appreciation of our Inheritance." Another of these goals is "The Re-evaluation of Our Task." "We would," to use the words of Doctor Sockman, "recapture the spirit which empowered" these heroes of the past "and re-interpret it in terms of our throbbing life today." However, this goal as well as the matter of our "Thank Offering" and "The Extension of the Organization," will receive individual attention later during our conference session. The message that I would bring you at this time is not a challenge to greater achievements in organization, nor is it a call to more efficient social service or increased mission and Bible study. Neither would I make the keynote of my message an appeal for larger gifts, dire as is the need for more financial support of our work. My face flushed with shame when I heard our Secretary of Oriental Fields explain that because some conferences failed to meet their financial obligations last year the Estimates Committee was compelled to say "No" to $17,000 worth of "askings" of our missionaries for necessary equipment and repairs. When we face the fact that, because we failed to share adequately our abundance, there was no money to furnish fuel for the Korean kindergartens, no money to build a wire fence around the homes of the missionaries in Africa to keep out the leopards which come in and endanger the lives of our workers, no money to put a roof on a school in Mexico, that is so badly in need of repair that, if the school authorities should examine the building, they would close the school. In the face of all these facts I say that the primary appeal which I would make to you at this time is not one of greater financial support. The outstanding challenge of this great Jubilee Year is that we rededicate ourselves to our Lord.

In our day there is a tendency to substitute organization and activity for individual responsibility and consecrated personality, but there is no substitute. Jesus, before his ascension, gave to the disciples his plan for the redemption of the world, which was simply that they should be his witnesses at home, in the neighboring communities, and unto the uttermost parts of the world. Of what were they to be witnesses? Peter and John answer: "We cannot but speak the things we have seen and heard." So we are to simply take what we know about Christ, and are sure of in our own minds and lives, and share that with the rest of the world. If Jesus Christ means nothing to us, then we shall have nothing to tell, and, naturally, we shall see no necessity for others to know Him. But if Jesus Christ is all in all to us, then we cannot but feel the responsibility to share Him with all who have not come into possession of such a treasure.

A recent writer has called attention to the fact that a remark of Sir Walter Scott's concerning a certain portrait of Robert Burns is applicable to the church today. "The luster," said Sir Walter, "is there, but it is not lighted up." The reason the little group of Christians in the early church made theirs the greatest missionary age in the history of Christianity was that their "luster" was "lighted up." The same writer says: "A cynical generation can be convinced only by living witnesses. Lives made rich and radiant by the power of Christ are a type of evidence which cannot be gainsaid. . . We need today a spiritual renaissance, a rebirth of Christ in the hearts of men. Then we shall address ourselves to the big task of leading a bewildered, bleeding world out of its materialism and selfishness and strife and war and greed" into an understanding of what we mean by the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God.

Let it not be true of us, as the Psalmist said of God's chosen people of old: "Yea they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel," but, rather let us empty ourselves, so that the spirit of God may come into our hearts and fill them full of His love. Then and only then shall we be able to bear fruit.

May we not go back to our communities and to our churches, where we shall find all sorts of conditions, ready to witness to Jesus Christ? In the quietness of our own hearts, here and now, let us plan how we are going to feed our spirits, how we are going to store up treasure, how we are going to bear fruit. Jesus said: "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples."

MRS. A. M. GATES.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

It is fitting that as the women throughout Southern Methodism take into account the growth and development of the various conferences for the past fifty years that we of the glorious old North Carolina Conference glance back over the heritage that has been ours. During this annual meeting under the leadership of our historian, Mrs. LeGrand Everett, due recognition shall be given to those who made our present organization possible.

When in 1914 only one Corresponding Secretary was needed for the combined work it was upon Sallie Lou McKinnon's shoulders that the mantle first fell. She filled this place until the fall of 1916 when she entered Scarritt to prepare for service on the foreign field. Mrs. F. B. McKinne held the work and served until the Wilmington Conference met in January of 1917. At that time your present Secretary was transferred from the department of Study and Publicity and was given this office. During these eleven years of service many changes have taken place, great strides forward have been made in every department of the work. In the statistical report in your hand you will find the reports rendered of 1917 and of 1927 and from them you may notice our growth and development. The number of auxiliaries reported by Mrs. Swindell in the foreign department for the year 1913 was 108 and the number reported by Mrs. John in the home department was 101. The total fund remitted to Council Treasurer by both the foreign and home amounted to $17,758.52. During the year 1917 we paid our pledge of $15,000 in full for the first time. In that day the pledge was separate from the budget which was made up of dues and specials. For years the conference had agonized over paying this pledge and when Miss Lamb and I attended the Council in Knoxville we were thrilled to see in the headlines of the Knoxville paper that the North Carolina Conference paid the second highest pledge paid. We sent to the Council Treasurer that year, including the pledge, $26,690.22.

Unlike the report for year 1917 our report for 1927 does not say, pledge paid in full. We pledged $55,000 and paid $51,899.58. While this was an increase of five thousand dollars over 1926, if we fail to take the Bennett Memorial and Lucy Cunningham fund into account, it was a cause of deep regret that we did not pay in full what we had promised. Some other conferences, however, paid more than they pledged and in the Council report we found that the conferences increased their collections $73,000 over last year, bringing total paid beyond the million dollar mark.

Week of Prayer

We had 176 auxiliaries to observe Week of Prayer. The free will offering was directed to Valley Institute, Pharr, Texas. We shall use the time of the Week of Prayer this year for the outpouring of thankfulness to our Father for these fifty years of organized missionary work in our church. A great jubilee offering is to be made by all of the conferences. We hope that in our conference every member of each auxiliary will accept this opportunity to express her love in the form of a love gift, making some real sacrifice in bringing this gift to His altar, praying God's blessing upon the giver and the gift.

In the foreign field this jubilee offering will be distributed between three objects: specialized training for missionaries; specialized training for nationals, either in America or on the fields; institutions and agencies on the fields giving leadership training.

In the home field the jubilee thank offering will be used as an endowment fund for specialized training for workers in the home field; for specialized training for deaconesses; for superintendents of institutions and teachers of special subjects; and to help regular workers to attend institutes, meetings and agencies on leadership training.

Scarritt Scholarship

We felt it quite a privilege for the conference to entertain at a special dinner during Council, the 1927-28 North Carolina Scarritt Scholarship girls. Among those participating were Blanche O'Bryan, Thelma Hawkins, Blanche Spivey, Lillie V. Woods. We hear most favorable reports from Vance Thompson, a last year's Scarritt student, who is now studying medicine at University of North Carolina, preparing to go out as a medical missionary.

Leadership Training

It is a cause for rejoicing that a leadership training course shall be given in the Pastor's School at Duke University. May our women evidence their interest by attending. The details of expense and type of courses will be given later.

Meetings

Our zone or county organizations increased each year. Your corresponding secretary attended the meetings in New Bern when the zone was organized and in Carrboro Jubilee when Orange County was organized. It was a pleasure to assist in organizing a Jubilee auxiliary at Orange Church, Durham District; and to attend the Chatham County meeting at Pittsboro.

There was a distinctiveness about each of the district meetings attended, well planned and unusual programs of the Wilmington, New Bern, Elizabeth City, and Durham Districts were noted. Similar reports were heard from the other district and group and county meetings.

A real growth in interest and ability was noted in the various special auxiliary meetings attended, our women were found to be forward looking and willing to co-operate with every phase of the work.

Honor Roll

For the third time Rockingham District retains the Korean urn. It is small wonder with such auxiliaries as Ellerbe, Fairmont, Gibson, Green Lake, Johns, Lumberton, Mt. Gilead, Rockingham, Mary Steele, Rebecca LeGrand, Rowland and Vass.

Those auxiliaries on the honor roll on the Durham District are Burlington, Graham, Duke Memorial, Mary Hambrick.

Elizabeth City: First Church, Gatesville, Moyock, Mt. Herman, City Road.
Fayetteville: Hay Street, Roseboro.

Raleigh: Cary, Central, Edenton St., Louisburg, Maria Brown, Mary Pescud, Sadie P. Spiers.

Washington: Black Creek, Bell Bennett, Stantonsburg, Washington.

Weldon: Norlina, Jackson, Weldon, Severn.

Wilmington: Grace, Rose Hill, Trinity.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. HARVEY BONEY.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S REPORT

The report of the Young People for the year 1927 has some interesting facts. We have been trying to get into closer touch with the auxiliaries by correspondence and trying to find out the way we can be the most helpful.

As we gain new organizations our totals do not show up always as they might, but our young people go off to college, grow into adults and so our balance is seemingly unlevel.

I have enjoyed in a peculiar way the letters which have come to me, and have caught in them a deep earnestness on the part of our superintendents to do their best.

Our literature has been extraordinarily fine this year and we are glad indeed to extend our deep appreciation to Miss Julia Lake Stevens, our General Superintendent, of Nashville, for her great help to us.

We joined with the Epworth League at their assembly at Louisburg last summer and conducted two classes where our missionary credits were given by our Conference Superintendent, Mrs. Everett.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHILDREN'S WORK, 1927

I want to begin this report by thanking my auxiliary Superintendents of Children's Work for the fine work they have done during the past year. It has been a hard year. The first two quarters of the year were especially hard and discouraging. Our work was changed and many of the new plans seemed impossible to us. But the Superintendents went bravely to the task and have accomplished a great work. We fell behind our pledge a little but under the circumstances I think the amount was exceedingly small. Many of our societies have gone forward; some have made wonderful advancement. I feel that we have cause to be proud of the year's work.

Thirteen societies made the Honor Roll; Roxboro and Fremont, with 100%. Gatesville, Edenton Street, Raleigh, Centenary, New Bern, Rowland, Graham, Roseboro, Oak Grove (Person Circuit), Hay Street, Fayetteville, Severn, and Grace and Trinity, Wilmington. We are proud of all these, especially Roxboro and Fremont. The banner for the greatest amount of money was again won by St. Paul, Goldsboro; for the greatest amount per member by Trinity, Wilmington; and for the best baby division, it goes to Kinston for the third year. Kinston has a wonderful baby division, but St. Paul, Goldsboro, and Centenary, New Bern, are close behind.

Seventy-five study classes were active during the year and many social service committees were reported. Forty-eight reported having observed the Week of Prayer, but I feel sure that there were others. We cannot report the number of subscribers to Juniors. It seems impossible to get a correct report. Our statistical report is as follows:

Epworth Junior Division	54	Members	150	Raised	$ 816.83
Primary Division	150	Members	3372	Raised	3322.50
Baby Divisions	80	Members	1263	Raised	677.86
Total sent Treasurer					$4817.19
Raised for local work					332.24

It is probable that some of these are duplicates as during this year the same society may have reported one quarter as a Primary Division and another as an Epworth Junior Society. Katheryn Marie Ray, Hillsboro; Frances Gardner and Anna Gardner, Washington, and Penn Thomas Watson, Jr., Wilson, were made life members of the Baby Division and Mary James Best, St. Paul, Goldsboro, in the Primary Division.

Only a few Junior Epworth Leagues are co-operating with us as yet, but we hope that during the present year they all will become Epworth Junior Societies. I am sorry that our pledge was not raised in full this year, but I trust that the Conference Society will appreciate the conditions under which we have worked and will understand. I plead again that our adult auxiliaries come to the aid of our children's work. The new Manual of Children's Work says, "The Children's Work is the responsibility of the adult auxiliary, and the responsibility is not discharged even when a Superintendent is elected and she is provided with two capable assistants. This work is an integral part of the program of work of the auxiliary and should receive the same proportion of interest and concern as any other part of their program."

As I give up the Conference work after eighteen years of service, I want to thank the auxiliary superintendents and all the Conference women who have stood by and helped me. The work is very dear to my heart and it is with great sorrow that I give it up. But necessity is laid upon me. I urge the Conference to stand back of our new Conference Superintendent of Children's Work, and give her the prayers and the help which she will so sorely need. My heart and my prayers will be with her and with our dear children. May God bless us all.

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUPERINTENDENT OF STUDY

Our first adventure into the realms of Mission Study was through the "Woman's Parsonage and Home Mission Society." The women who were at the head of this society realized the vital importance of information to the success of their work, and their first constitution provided for "monthly meetings for business and the communication of intelligence." In the instructions as to how to organize a society it was provided that "reading circles should be arranged." Miss Mary Helm recommended a course which was adopted in 1892. Mrs. Lipscomb tells us in her Jubilee Report that in 1894 Misses Helm and Allen, Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Alexander were appointed to select a reading course for the members of the "Parsonage and Home Mission Society," the list of books being published afterwards each year in the minutes of the Board. "They were thoughtful books, demanding serious study. A prize was offered for the Conference having the largest number of readers each year. North Georgia captured the first prize. Later we find Little Rock, Holston, NORTH CAROLINA, and North Texas among the winners. When in 1900 the United Committee on Study for Foreign Missions was set up, these women fell in line with the movement and year by year the current books were recommended to the societies and summer schools of Missions were participated in and the most advanced methods set forth. In 1902 a committee of the "Parsonage and Home Mission Society" was named to confer with other denominations regarding United Home Mission reading courses and recommended co-operation.

The next year, 1903, two members of the committee met with representatives of other Boards and helped to plan the courses. From this time to the present these courses have been used by Southern Methodist Women, and they too have contributed some of the outstanding books that have been used. The only records of our own Home Mission Conference Society to which I have access report very little study work done during those years. The Woman's Board of Foreign Missions in 1900 adopted a recommendation from the Committee on Memorials through Mrs. F. D. Swindell to "prescribe a reading course of cheap books for the societies" and a committee consisting of Mrs. A. C. Trueheart, Mrs. F. A. Butler and Miss Maria L. Gibson was appointed to select such a reading course. The following year the Board adopted a recommendation in the Report of the Committee on Extension of work "that Prayer circles and Mission Study classes be formed in every society that spiritual power may go hand in hand with information." Mrs. Trueheart was authorized to buy 100 copies of the Mission Studies prepared by the United Societies that met in New York, as specimen copies.

Mrs. Swindell, in her Conference Corresponding Secretary's report, began insistently to urge the reading of Missionary literature and the organization of mission study classes among adults and young people, recommending the courses adopted by the Board. In the Board's Report of the Committee on Extension of work in 1902 it was recommended and adopted: "That the Secretary after examination and approval of the text book in the United Study of Missions," Lux Christi, "notify the Conference Secretaries that they may urge upon their membership the adoption of the same; that secretaries recommend the multiplication of study circles and that condensed reports of information gained be presented at monthly meetings wherever possible; that study circles be formed in the auxiliaries if only in groups of two or three persons." In 1903 the Board offered courses to extend through four years with other books for parallel reading. This course was printed in our own Conference Minutes and the study of the books strongly urged upon the auxiliaries by Mrs. Swindell.

In 1909 our own Conference Committee on Extension of Work carried a recommendation that study circles be organized in every auxiliary, and in 1910 the recommendation was added that these study classes be reported to the District Secretaries.

Until 1910 the study course had been conducted through Board and Conference Corresponding Secretaries, but the new "Constitution and By-Laws" provided for the New Woman's Mission Society created by General Conference in uniting the Woman's Foreign and Home Mission Societies put the study work in the hands of the 3rd Vice-President, but as our conferences did not unite until 1913 that provision did not go into effect at that time in our own conference. In 1911 provision was made to furnish missionary reading for monthly and quarterly meetings, and Mrs. Swindell reported only 35 study classes in the entire conference, including all societies. In 1912 it was first recommended that the first week in October be set apart as missionary study campaign week. In her report for that year Mrs. Swindell feelingly lamented the lack of interest in Mission Studies, urging yet again the organization of study circles in every auxiliary. I can find in the minutes of that year only two mission study classes and two reading circles and they were in Young People's Auxiliaries reported by Mrs. T. A. Person. There may have been others which did not appear in the report sheets because at that time the report sheets seem to have had no place for reporting study classes. Our Foreign and Home Conference Societies met together for the first time in 1913 as one "Woman's Missionary Society," united in all except the financial work. A by-law of this new society provided for a third Vice-President to have charge of the promotion of Christian Stewardship, Mission Study and Publicity and Mrs. W. B. North was elected to this office. She was followed in 1914 by Mrs. Harvey Boney whose first report read in 1915 gave 52 adult and Young People's classes with 723 members; 5 juvenile classes and 15 women's reading classes; 3 Bible classes and 8 missionary libraries.

She was followed in 1917 by Mrs. T. A. Person and that year Mrs. Person reported 77 new adult classes (Mission Study) with 1,560 members; 7 Young People's classes with 126 members, 21 Junior classes with 510 members, 11 reading circles, 12 Bible study classes and nine missionary libraries. When Mrs. R. A. Person turned the work over to your present Superintendent, who was elected upon Mrs. Person's resignation in 1920, she reported 76 Adult Mission Study classes with 1,008 members; 2 Young People's classes with 32 members; 3 Junior's with 144 members; one reading circle; 1 missionary library; 6 Bible Study classes with 45 members.

There was little change of routine in 1927 to make it different from that of any other year. At its beginning the goals we set before us were an increase in the number of auxiliaries studying and continuous improvement in the quality of our study work. The first objective was reached in an increase during the year of 21 different auxiliaries reporting Study Circles. On the Durham District 16 different auxiliaries reported, an increase of 4. On the Elizabeth City District 14 different auxiliaries reported, an increase of 3. On the Fayetteville with 6 reporting, the New Bern with 9 and Raleigh with 16, the work was stationary, with neither increase nor decrease of the number of auxiliaries reporting.

Rockingham District reported 31 different auxiliaries, an increase of 7; Washington's report of 12 auxiliaries showed a decrease of 1; Weldon in 17 different auxiliaries showed an increase of 5; Wilmington with 10, an increase of 2.

Our second goal was reached in an encouraging increase in Standard Classes. There were 92 Standard Mission Study classes and 35 Standard Bible Study classes reported, making a total of 127 Standard classes, an increase of 41 over 1926. To 59 of these Standard Mission Study classes is granted by Council the Certificate of Special Council Recognition, awarded this year for the first time, to 34 different auxiliaries. I sent out a questionnaire upon which the auxiliaries might make their application for this should-be-coveted distinction by filling out the blanks and returning to me, but only 40 were returned, which I sent to Mrs. Lipscomb who passed upon their eligibility. There is no doubt in my mind but that many others of the 33 remaining classes would have received these Jubilee Certificates if they had made the proper application for them. Perhaps it may interest you to know what conferences and how many of these certificates were awarded: Baltimore Conference received 1; East Oklahoma 2; North Texas 2; Northwest Texas 13; and NORTH CAROLINA 59.

We made our first venture into affiliated study when through the courtesy of Rev. T. McM. Grant, President of the Epworth League Summer Assembly, we were given the privilege of entering the summer school of the Epworth League at Louisburg College. Mrs. H. B. Branch, Superintendent of Young People's Work, taught "The Missionary Message of the Bible" for us, and our conference and the Epworth League Assembly exchanged certificates of credit for three courses. It was my privilege to attend the zone group meetings in my own district, at Green Lake, Mount Gilead, Lumberton, and Aberdeen, where I was asked especially to talk upon plans for the Jubilee Celebration. I attended also the organization meeting of the Chatham County zone in Pittsboro on the Fayetteville District. Several other invitations came to me which I was forced to decline.

In September with the assistance of several of my faithful Superintendents I was able to launch successfully a movement which was the first of its kind, Mrs. Lipscomb wrote me, to be undertaken in any of the conferences. This was an all-day District Study class and every district except two held the study class day. Elizabeth City in Elizabeth City by Mrs. F. S. Love; Fayetteville in Sanford by Mrs. R. C. Rush; Raleigh in Raleigh by Mrs. R. W. Bailey; Rockingham in Rockingham by Mrs. P. W. Edwards of Ellerbe; Washington in Farmville by Mrs. J. W. Moore of Wilson; Weldon in Weldon by Mrs. H. C. Spiers; Wilmington in Wilmington by Mrs. F. C. Hale. These women entered whole-heartedly into the spirit of the plan, and with the assistance of individuals and committees they canvassed the districts for attendance and assignments, planned lunches and everything else needed to make the class day a success. That which pleased and touched me most was the joyous enthusiasm with which each one took up this new and difficult task, carrying it through to success. This was done at the desire of Mrs. Lipscomb who wishes it to be a part of our yearly program.

The change in the Constitution of the Children's Work placed all their study during June and July and early in May. I sent a letter containing all necessary information and explanation to every Junior Auxiliary on our mailing list. I sent out my usual letters and literature in September and again in December and January to the new Superintendents. It is my custom with which only matters in urgent need of attention are allowed to interfere, to answer my study letters at once and while there have been some cases during the year when I have not been able to do this, most of my correspondence has been promptly and fully attended to with the utmost care to answer plainly every request for information.

The copy for "Our Missionary News" has gone to the printers on the last day of every month except the last, when I was delayed a day by the volume of work I found waiting for me on my return from Council.

In order to stimulate the auxiliaries to mission and Bible study, last year at Conference I offered a "Jubilee Medal" to the district reporting the biggest percent of auxiliaries conducting three classes, using current, recommended mission and Bible study books each year, to be held for a year and worn on all missionary occasions by the District Secretary. This medal was designed and made especially for me by the Bailey, Banks and Biddle Co., of Philadelphia, and it will be my great pleasure this morning to present it to the Rockingham District, which won it last year, its number of auxiliaries reporting three classes last year being 25% of its total number. The range of percentage was from 25% to a fraction over 5%. With the plan of zone cultivation that I have in mind and which I hope you will adopt when it is recommended to you I confidently expect you to show much larger numbers next year.

My work with you continues to be my truest, most soul-satisfying joy and I never cease to thank you for giving me this privilege of serving my Lord and you at the same time. As long as I have any constructive, helpful offerings to make they are His and yours to command.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLICITY

To promote the work through the printed page is a task of no mean proportions. It is not only a question of what to write but also a question of what not to write. In a day when there is a superfluity of reading matter in the daily press, the weekly periodicals, the monthly magazines, and there is easy access to books of every kind, it becomes the peculiar privilege of one who is to promote the missionary cause to arrest the attention of readers and cultivate in them a taste for that sort of reading matter that pertains to the welfare of the races and the redemption of mankind. It is essential to develop a group interest and to stimulate a desire for the progress of the cause. Moreover it is a process of binding together the various elements of the organization through the dissemination of knowledge.

As to the editorship of your Woman's Page, it is not necessary to speak. It is before you all in black and white from week to week. However, I wish to express my personal gratitude to the auxiliaries throughout the conference for their willingness and promptness in sending reports of local activities. This should not be neglected nor should the auxiliary Superintendents of Publicity fail to use the local press continually. So many of the auxiliary superintendents have forwarded to me clippings from their local papers that it is evident they are magnifying their offices.

There has been marked progress in the department of Publicity during the year. There is still a great opportunity here by a more thorough and systematic method of getting information to the entire womanhood of our church.

The department of Publicity is enlarging and through persistent effort it will become a mighty lever to raise all departments to a higher standard.

MRS. M. T. PLYLER, Conf. Supt. Publicity.

SOCIAL SERVICE REPORT

During the past year there has been a marked growth in the constructive social work of the auxiliaries. Through co-operative efforts with community, civic and welfare organizations, many worthwhile achievements have been brought about. Among these have been the establishing of tuberculosis clinics, maintaining rest rooms for tubercular suspects, furnishing milk and lunches for undernourished children, providing hospital treatment for needy patients, finding work for the unemployed, and establishing supervised playgrounds.

Less inter-racial work than usual was reported this year, though some splendid things have been done, viz: a day nursery has been established, 75 volumes given to a library, assistance given in clean-up campaigns and in securing better streets, co-operation with Parent-Teacher Associations and with Y. W. C. A.'s.

An outstanding piece of federated work is being done by the churches of all denominations in Gates County. The Methodist churches of this county have an organization called Gates County Missionary Institute, which is the pioneer organization of county missionary work in Southern Methodism. Many years before any county or zone organization was functioning, this county missionary institute was well established and supporting a scholarship in Japan called the Malene Harrell Grant Scholarship. It was this organization that sponsored this federation, which has developed into a well organized inter-denominational social service conference with a definite program calling for a joint county home, a farm demonstrator, a county hospital and mother's aid. A big program, isn't it, for women to tackle? They hope to secure these things in the near future.

The district key women were very helpful in presenting the work in the district, county, and zone meetings. They clarified the work and gave the committees helpful and workable suggestions.

The above report has not referred to the service of sending trays and flowers, distributing magazines and visiting the sick, the shut-ins and the stranger as necessary and helpful as these are, for the reason that it wishes to emphasize the new vision of social service. Our new task is not merely to alleviate, but as far as possible to prevent and cure the causes of poverty, sickness and social ills.

There is a new knowledge of the best ways of helping the poor. Those who have given themselves to study of broken homes, housing, unemployment, delinquency, personality defects, intemperance, and other phases of unhappy and unsuccessful life have developed a technique of help that we term social case work. Psychology and sociology have contributed to our knowledge of the way people come to be what they are and of facts we may bring to bear to change their attitudes.

From all these changes it will be seen that the social service of the church must adapt itself to new conditions and the more recent knowledge of the causes and cures of social ills, in which poverty, and the need of immediate relief plays a comparatively small part. The leaders of this phase of our church life have felt that it is distinctly a part of missionary endeavor to try to lift those living on a low plane of health or of morals, or of dependence, or of mental outlook to the higher levels in which the individual and the family may share in the abundant life.

We believe that we must use every effort to understand the causes of poverty and to work with the forces that will prevent poverty, which we might sum up as unemployment, sickness, intemperance, desertion, thriftlessness, industrial accidents unrelieved by compensation. Through our articles and programs, we aim to study causes and remedies; through co-operation, we aim to prevent and cure. Trays and flowers alone will not do this, but the command of the Master demands that we give our best thought and effort to a service that will heal social ills. It is the hardest and yet the most rewarding of all phases of missions.

VARA L. HERRING, Superintendent of Social Service.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF LITERATURE

All literature has been sent out regularly during the year. The program material is mailed out three weeks in advance of the next quarter. Unfortunately, many auxiliaries failed to get the first quarter literature, because a new President had been elected, her name and address had not been reported to me, hence I continued to send literature to the former President. You readily see the importance of my having a correct mailing list.

Some have not yet learned that I only handle the program literature, minutes of annual meeting, Handbooks, Yearbooks, literature for the new auxiliaries, Gibson members, and for special Week of Prayer. Frequently requests come for other literature which can only be obtained from Literature Headquarters, Nashville, Tenn. There has been prepared for the auxiliaries organized in 1928 special Jubilee Year literature that is sent direct from Literature Headquarters, Nashville, to the auxiliary Presidents. When the organization is reported to me, I at once send address of the President on to Nashville. I appreciate the assistance given me by my co-workers in trying to maintain a correct mailing list, in order that the Presidents may have the material in good time to prepare their programs.

There are many letters of inquiry relative to the different phases of the work that come to me, and it affords me much pleasure to give the desired information.

MRS. S. H. SCOTT, Superintendent of Literature.

REPORT OF BUSINESS MANAGER OF "OUR MISSIONARY NEWS"

Despite the fact that there had to be a change in the business management of the paper this year we have tried to continue the splendid record established by Mrs. Royal since she took the work in February, 1925.

It was with regret that the Executive Committee accepted Mrs. Royal's resignation at its meeting in November, 1927.

Nothing was done until late in January to increase the circulation of the "News" or to collect subscriptions.

It has not been the wise, farseeing management that has kept us from having to call on the Conference Treasurer, but the faithfulness to duty on the part of auxiliary Presidents and the energetic, untiring work of auxiliary agents. Our thanks to them cannot be expressed in words and our gratitude for their loyal support to this phase of missionary endeavor is deep and sincere.

We are praying that they may see the fruits of their labors and be satisfied. It is because you have labored that we are able to make this report for "Our Missionary News."

Five hundred and ninety renewals and four hundred and seventy-nine new subscribers have been sent in during the year.

Our News agents deserve much credit for this splendid service and should be thanked for their faithfulness.

REPORT OF DURHAM DISTRICT SECRETARY

Having been appointed to succeed our beloved District Secretary, Mrs. Mamie Merritt, at the annual meeting at Sanford, my first effort was to study the field and get in touch with the workers through regular correspondence and visiting many of the auxiliaries. In visiting these auxiliaries I was impressed with the zeal, the enthusiasm and the fine spirit which these women show as they are endeavoring to give the gospel unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

During the first quarter Purley disbanded and the Lillie Duke Scholarship was discontinued.

Two new auxiliaries have been organized in rural churches—McMannen's Chapel and Carr Prospect.

Our district meeting was held at Cedar Grove, June 30th, and many contributed towards making it a profitable occasion. Besides the local congregation, there were in attendance 35 delegates representing 24 auxiliaries, 15 delegates from the Young People's Department, 3 Juniors, 118 visitors, 2 conference officers and 2 returned missionaries.

The Young People's Society of Burlington under the direction of their leader, Mrs. C. M. Huffman, gave a beautiful pageant.

It was our privilege to have present Mrs. Harvey Boney and Miss Vara Herring, who gave instructive talks to interested workers. The presence of Mrs. W. A. Wilson, resident missionary of Japan, and also Miss Frances Burkhead, formerly of Soochow, China, but now serving in Mexico, was an inspiration to all who were gathered there.

Special mention is due every auxiliary on the district for the splendid co-operation shown the District Secretary. Letters and requests have been cheerfully and promptly responded to and reports from the auxiliary officers have been unusually prompt.

The year's work closed with 35 auxiliaries and 938 members. There were 173 subscribers to The Missionary Voice, a slight decrease from last year, owing to the fact that some of the larger auxiliaries and many of the smaller ones failed to include this item on their reports. In most cases this occurred among the auxiliaries that did not use the Record Books.

The Week of Prayer was observed by twenty auxiliaries, making a total offering of $190.36.

A special appeal was made for the Retirement and Relief Fund with the result that fifteen auxiliaries raised $495.54. Of this group Front Street, Burlington, Gregson, Memorial and Trinity each raised $100 or more. Gregson excelled the others by contributing $130.56 to this fund, $150.00 to Scarritt Scholarship, making the sum of $353.75 contributed to missionary purposes besides $211.45 spent locally. We regret to lose this loyal group from our list on account of the church being discontinued. However, the congregation has gone to the other churches of Durham and other auxiliaries will be strengthened.

Graham, Front Street, Burlington, Memorial, and the Mary Hambrick Auxiliary having met all the requirements of the Standard of Excellence are entitled to be placed on the Honor Roll.

At the Sanford Conference $4,000 was apportioned to the Durham District. Without undue pressure but by the willing co-operation of all, the sum of $5,881.81 was raised. The amount contributed for local work is $7,126.43, which makes a total of $13,008.24 for all purposes.

Through these facts and figures I have tried to show you the love, the loyalty and the interest of the membership of the Durham District. Yet these facts and figures, by no means, convey to you the marvelous growth of spirituality in the lives of our women, neither do they convey to you what change may be wrought in the heathen world through their gifts, their interests and their prayers.

LILLIE DUKE.

REPORT OF ELIZABETH CITY DISTRICT SECRETARY

The records of the Woman's Missionary Societies of the Elizabeth City District are unavailable. But from the information that we have gathered from those who lived and wrought in the earlier days we must say that the seed sown by our earlier leaders have brought forth some forty, some sixty and some an hundred fold. As we look back to these years and compare them with the present we see what wondrous work God hath wrought.

In 1892 only a few auxiliaries were organized in the district and today we number more than thirty. Through the years the membership has had a gradual growth from a few in number to more than seven hundred in 1928. We attribute this growth to the emphasis that has been placed on mission study, inspirational conferences, and the call to Christian stewardship.

Until 1894 this section of the state was in the Virginia Conference.

The year 1898, Mrs. R. A. Willis moved into the district parsonage. She held high the torch of missionary endeavor, and her influence still abides.

The year 1926, from a financial standpoint, was the banner year of the district. It was the only district in the Conference that reported every obligation in full. Total amount raised for the year—$7,519.68.

Our greatest contribution from the district has been the two missionaries, Miss Eva Williams (Mrs. W. K. Matthews), Japan, and Miss Ruth Merritt, Brazil.

While we did not reach our goal on the Elizabeth City District during the past year, we are glad to note some progress made. There was decided improvement in the matter of reporting. Adult auxiliary Treasurers and Corresponding Secretaries having attained very nearly 100% punctuality.

Reports show that fifty-five new members were enrolled, but revision of rolls and retention of only active members indicates a slight decrease.

In addition to these, fifteen Gibson members were enrolled and one Gibson auxiliary reported.

Two new Adult and 1 new Young People's Societies were organized.

Two other Adult Societies failing to function for some months were re-organized and are now manifesting much interest.

Some cultural work was done in various ways.

City Road, First Church, Gatesville, Moyock, Philadelphia, Mt. Hermon and Young People, First Church, Elizabeth City, won distinction by making the Honor Roll. The Gatesville Children's Society made the Honor Roll for the sixth year in succession.

Week of Prayer was observed by twenty-two auxiliaries.

The District Study class led by Mrs. F. S. Love, First Church, Elizabeth

City, enabled us, we feel quite sure, to have more efficient mission study in the auxiliaries. Some reported much improvement in the quality of work done.

Harvest Day was observed with good results by a number of auxiliaries.

District meeting and four county meetings were held.

The women's work was presented by the District Secretary at District Conference and the Pastor's and Layman's Missionary Institute.

We are glad to report that Gates County Institute has become the Gates County Woman's Missionary Federation. It will continue the support of the Malene Harrell Grant Scholarship.

First Church, Elizabeth City, contributed specials for the past year as follows:

Ruth Merritt, support	$1000.00
Ellen White Willis, scholarship	300.00
Jesse Cuninggim, scholarship	300.00
Retirement and relief fund	100.00

Total amount sent Conference Treasurer from Adult auxiliaries was $5,-614.45, an increase of $761.51 over preceding year, exclusive of Belle Bennett and Lucy Cuninggim specials of $2,666.74.

Special effort was made at different times during the year, with some degree of success, to secure renewals and new subscriptions for our missionary periodicals.

The District Superintendent of Social Service is hard at work and she is planning for greater activities during the year 1928. We believe the district is catching a new vision of social service and is learning that it means more than mere neighborhood duties.

The Children's work has not advanced as we had hoped, but having secured a District Superintendent, we are looking forward to progress in this department.

Our Young People's Department needs to be strengthened. We have only nine auxiliaries.

I trust that we may be more diligent in our efforts with and for our children and young people, and that we may not fail in this our day of opportunity with them.

REPORT OF FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT SECRETARY

We assured you at Conference in Sanford last year that from the inspiration of your meeting in our district, we would pay our pledge in full. We did so, raising $3,533.00, making an average of $6.50 per member. Jonesboro's fourth quarter's report was lost in the Christmas mail, which would have raised the amount to $3,718.00. This had to be carried over until first quarter, 1928. We rejoice that our pledge was met. We see signs for encouragement and are grateful for the excellent work accomplished by many of our auxiliaries.

Our women responded nobly to the Prayer League call, every auxiliary having a Prayer League. This was accomplished largely through the prayers and efforts of Miss Elizabeth Lamb who is ever ready to encourage and help.

Most of our auxiliaries observed Week of Prayer. We believe that they will all do so this year.

One new Young People's Auxiliary has been reported.

Our Children's work has not grown as we had hoped. Three new Junior Divisions have been reported.

We attended District Conference and presented the missionary work, urging the preachers to co-operate with us in organizing an auxiliary in every church. We were greatly encouraged by the interest manifested by the presiding elder and pastors.

Four new auxiliaries have been organized: Mann's Chapel, Andrews Chapel, Morris Chapel and Erwin, and Barker's Auxiliary has gone to work again with renewed zeal.

Hay Street and Roseboro Auxiliaries again made the Honor Roll.

Our district is waking up to the need of mission study, another hopeful sign.

The District meeting was held in Dunn in June. Miss Amma Graham was with us and enthusiastically presented zone organization. At this time we divided our district into five zones and appointed capable leaders. It has been my privilege to attend three of the zone meetings. Excellent work is being done and we believe that the success in the coming years on the Fayetteville District will be due to zone organization. At this district meeting, our women assumed the support of our own Alice Green and more than half of the amount for one year's salary was raised during the remaining months of the year. We are happy to make this special contribution for one who has gone out from this district and who is laboring so faithfully in China.

We are making an earnest effort to reach all unorganized churches. Plans for cultivation and assignment are now being worked out.

MRS. JUNIUS WREN, Secretary.

REPORT OF NEW BERN DISTRICT SECRETARY

What a joy it would be if one could always prophesy instead of report; talk of the future instead of the past! It is always so much more interesting to think along lines of what we would like to be and do, than it is to jot down stern realities. However, it falls to my lot to report this morning, and while to an ambitious person for our Master's cause the record is not what one would like in all respects, still our Heavenly Father has wonderfully blessed our district this past year. 'Tis true it has not been a time of great growth in numbers as regards new members or new auxiliaries, in fact, we report only four new societies, three Adult, on Junior, with a gain of 54 adult members, making a total of 1037, and we met our pledge of $6,000 and over—for which we give all thanks. There has been a steady development and a quickening of mission interest, especially is this true in the rural sections, where our County and Zone Federations are organized. When we have our meetings it reminds one of a District Conference. There are now three zones organized in this district. In June, the Craven, Pamlico, Jones Federation was organized in New Bern. Mrs. Boney was with us, giving words of encouragement and inspiration. Two meetings have been held, one at Beech Grove, the other at Bayboro. Neither of these places had societies—consequently it was seed sowing efforts. Am glad to report that the harvest is being garnered already. Only a few days ago Bayboro reported a society organized with 19 members.

We welcome our first "Jubilee" auxiliary.

Following close on the New Bern organization, the Lenoir, Green Federation was organized in Queen Street, Kinston. Three meetings have been held and all largely attended. Miss Thelma Hawkins, "our girl at Scarritt," was with us when we met in September at LaGrange and made a good impression by her deeply spiritual talk and sweet, gentle manner. We are following her with prayerful interest.

I visited the New Bern District Conference at Newport and was asked "to present the cause," which I did gladly but not enthusiastically, at the 9 o'clock hour on the 2nd day of Conference! The few brethren who were present received the message kindly and from Dr. Wilson, who had been called to take the chair, words of encouragement were spoken and co-operation offered as one after another told what the Woman's Missionary Society meant to them.

Our district meeting was held at Smith Chapel on the Mount Olive Circuit. In addition to our Conference officers living in the district, who always give such splendid help and support, it was a pleasure to have Mrs. Gates, our Conference President, and Mrs. Boney, Corresponding Secretary, as guests; also Mrs. Clark, Secretary of the Wilmington District. Their messages were helpful and inspiring and were spoken to a crowd of enthusiastic missionary women.

At the beginning of this year a very unique service was held at Thompson's Chapel on the Goldsboro Circuit. The officers of the four societies on the circuit were all installed at the same time, at the eleven o'clock service. All of our larger auxiliaries use the circle plan. St. Paul continues to give $645.00 to the Institutional Church in Huchow and the Sue D. Swindell, formerly Queen St., Kinston, supports Mrs. Osaka, a Bible woman in Japan.

With the exception of some of the newer societies, I think we are pretty well organized in Mission Study. Most of them reported co-operating with the pastor in using "New Tasks for New Times."

"The Voice" and "Our Missionary News" are only fairly well circulated, I am sorry to say.

While rejoicing over the results accomplished we are exercised over the woe-ful lack of leadership in the Junior and Young People's work. Mrs. Wilson has an earnest, faithful assistant in Mrs. Gertie Mathews, but what can one do alone? After the children are organized where is the woman to lead them on? Right here is a very broad field for cultivation and I am sure I voice the desire that is in Mrs. Wilson's heart when I ask for a more sympathetic and co-operative interest among the adults. The same can be said for the Young People's Superintendent that we are expecting to secure for the district, let us hope that this "Jubilee Year" will see a great revival in the Young People's work.

Social Service

All of our auxiliaries are doing social service work of one kind or another and the most promising feature is that there is a breaking off from "trays and flowers sent" to more constructive work, particularly along inter-racial lines. This is true of LaGrange where a committee works with the colored school in its effort for a library. In St. Paul, there is co-operation with the city colored nurse and day nursery, while each of the six circles has its own family to visit and provide for as necessity warrants. Elizabeth Hendren and the Jane K.

Meadows of New Bern are both doing splendid work along co-operating with the City Board.

The Week of Prayer was more largely observed than usual and proved a blessing to many—and now with most of our auxiliaries covenanted together in the Prayer League may we not expect that the same spirit of prayer and self-denial that characterized the pioneers will make our Jubilee offering a Thanksgiving in reality? One worthy of the women of the New Bern District.

MRS. FLORA M. KENDALL, Secretary.

REPORT OF RALEIGH DISTRICT SECRETARY

I bring you greetings from the Raleigh District. In giving the report for the year, it is hard, because you can just touch on the things accomplished, and the individual members have done so much to help accomplish these things, you would like to give each one praise.

We have an increase in membership, perhaps not as large as we would like; also have about 60 enrolled as Gibson members. Four new auxiliaries have been organized in the district, three Adult and one Young People's. This makes thirty adult auxiliaries with 1,022 members in the district.

Eighteen auxiliaries observed Week of Prayer. Seven auxiliaries won distinction by making the Honor Roll: Cary, Central, Edenton Street, Louisburg, Maria Brown, Mary Pescud, and Sadie Puckett Spiers. The District Mission Study class held an all day meeting in Raleigh in September; this proved such a helpful meeting. A number of our auxiliaries have reported a study of "New Tasks for New Times" in the Pastor's School for Missions.

Central Church, Raleigh, and Smithfield Auxiliaries have already reported such splendid Jubilee programs; perhaps other auxiliaries have had their Jubilee programs and not reported.

As this is our Jubilee Year I tried to get a bit of history from each auxiliary to put in this report but have not gotten this up, after a visit to a number of auxiliaries and a number of letters written, records are not kept as they should be.

We, as a district, are proud to have had our dearly beloved Miss Mary Pescud among us for awhile, who went out in 1898 to Brazil. In finding out points of interest several of our auxiliaries in the district were organized by Miss Mary Pescud, Mrs. Frank McKinne was District Secretary, then living in Louisburg, and helped in the organization at Banks, 1903, and Plank Chapel, 1910, and perhaps others.

Amount of money sent to Conference Treasurer for the Adult auxiliaries in 1927 was $5,635.28.

Our district meeting was held in Smithfield last May, the twentieth. It was a full program, and the attendance was good; six Conference officers were with us. Mrs. A. M. Gates, our Conference President, gave us such an inspirational talk, discussing in detail the Jubilee plans, then conducting the noon devotional. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Branch, Mrs. Scott and Miss Herring presented plans for their different departments.

One Jubilee auxiliary has been organized in Oxford with 26 members.

HELEN WHITE, Secretary.

REPORT OF ROCKINGHAM DISTRICT SECRETARY

This is the year of Jubilee and while we think forward and look backward we find that our North Carolina Conference has pioneered in both home and foreign work.

Much of the activity among the women of the early pioneer days began in the Rockingham District. In February, 1879, the Rockingham Woman's Auxiliary was organized by Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, President at that time of the North Carolina Conference. Of the thirty charter members, four are still living: Mrs. F. T. Biggs, Mrs. Rosa Johnson, Miss Ella Ussery, and Mrs. B. C. Gorham, who now lives in Fayetteville.

Mrs. J. B. Martin, mother of Mrs. Frank Page, who was a pioneer in Children's work in our Conference, is now living in the bounds of this district.

Laurinburg and Lumberton were soon organized, and Children's work began to have attention in these early years also. The Rockingham District has gone forward since these early pioneer days until there are thirty-six Adult auxiliaries, eight Y. P. and twenty-five Baby and Junior Divisions.

The district has through the years continued to hold its financial leadership among the other districts of the Conference, reaching its highest record in 1924. A number of specials have been carried for many years but since 1924 three of these specials have not been available, therefore the record of 1924 could not be continued.

Other phases of the work have made splendid advance.

Two of our own girls have gone to the foreign field as missionaries and practically their entire support is paid by the women of the district. Vance Thompson is in training for a medical missionary and the Hamlet Auxiliary pays $300 of her expenses.

Gratifying progress has been made in Bible and Mission Study.

Social Service work is done very efficiently and the district key-woman, Mrs. W. P. Webb, has been giving very helpful suggestions to the auxiliary Superintendents, which has resulted in a very much better understanding of the work.

Both Y. P. and Children's work should have more attention.

There was a net gain of 76 new members during the year.

One new auxiliary was organized.

Much cultivation during the year will result in a number of new auxiliaries for the Jubilee year. Four are already functioning.

Twenty-two auxiliaries observed Week of Prayer.

Thirteen Auxiliaries made Honor Roll.

Seven zone meetings and one district meeting was held during the year.

We want to thank every woman on the district for their splendid co-operation during the year, especially the zone leaders and auxiliary Presidents who have so faithfully done their work.

It has been a rare privilege and a great joy to share your labors with you for two and a half years and each day will be memorable in my life.

MRS. B. C. THOMPSON, Secretary.

REPORT OF WASHINGTON DISTRICT SECRETARY

Not very long after our Executive Committee appointed a new secretary for the Washington District, a delegation of the women of this district adopted as their slogan, "Make Washington District Grow." It has, therefore, been with much interest that the statistics marking this growth have been recorded. While some of the items do not indicate an increase over last year, there seems to be in the district the spirit and desire to grow better and better and more and more useful in the service of our Master.

A review of the year's work shows some growth, which may be seen by comparing the statistics of 1926 with those of 1927, as follows:

Honor Roll for 1927—Black Creek, Stantonsburg, Belle Bennett (Rocky Mount), Washington.

We hope the decrease, which in some points the comparison shows, is due to failure to report rather than to any slackening of missionary effort. It is, therefore, urged that, in the future, auxiliaries will report all the work they do.

One new auxiliary, Bethel, organized in February, is growing and promising to grow more and more.

The District Secretary has visited nearly all of the auxiliaries at their regular meeting time and has had representatives from all but one attending some other meeting of groups from auxiliaries. There is one auxiliary with which the secretary has not had some personal touch other than by correspondence and it is the plan to meet with this one as soon as the roads in that section of that county will permit.

During this year, 1928, one Jubilee auxiliary, Bethany, has been organized. This was done through the influence of Mr. and Mrs. Sneedon, the pastor and his wife, now on the Bath Circuit. They came to us on the Washington District from the Wilmington District.

Two Jubilee County Federations have been formed, Nash and Edgecombe. In organizing Nash County at Spring Hope we were ably assisted by Mrs. Flora Kendall, Secretary of the New Bern District, Mrs. F. B. McKinne, our Conference Treasurer, and Mrs. Raper, Wayne County Chairman. The influence of these women and the inspiring address of Mrs. H. J. Faison, our Conference Vice-President, filled us at Spring Hope with a purpose to do greater things not only in Nash County, but also in other parts of the district.

A group of us at Spring Hope invited Miss Amma Graham to meet with us and the Edgecombe County women at Tarboro, March 31. There we organized the Edgecombe County Federation. We expect these federations to help us in Beaufort and other counties until each county in the district is federated and using united effort for missions.

At the district meeting in Washington we were blessed by the presence of Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, conducting the noon Bible hour, and Mrs. S. H. Scott and Mrs. W. R. Royal, who presented our literature. These inspired us to greater effort in Bible and Mission Study and spiritual cultivation.

It may be that Mrs. Everett's report will not show that there is an increased number of study classes in Bible and missions, but interest in this line of work is increasing and we may look for data showing this increase in our next report.

Since Miss Lamb's report to the Advocate a few weeks ago, the names of the Prayer League leaders of the auxiliaries not reporting at that time have been secured and we are now able to report for Washington District 100 per cent in Prayer League organization.

Washington District is proud of the honor of having Mrs. F. D. Swindell as an honorary member of our District Jubilee Committee.

Our district is large and there is much yet for us to do in the woman's work, the children's work, and the work for our young people to make Washington District all that it should be. We, therefore, wish to "Let knowledge grow from more to more

And more of reverence in us dwell
That mind and soul according well
Make one music as before."

REPORT OF WELDON DISTRICT SECRETARY

As I review the work of the Weldon District this, our Jubilee Year, I rejoice that our Heavenly Father put it into the hearts of our women and children to share in this work from its very beginning.

The district had but two Secretaries, Mrs. H. C. Spiers of Weldon, and Mrs. Kate P. Black of Littleton, both consecrated Christian women, while it was the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. R. H. Willis, in 1914, the year after the Woman's Home Mission Society and the society above mentioned were united, took charge of the work and kept it for two years. The present incumbent followed her. During these years the growth of the work has been gradual, from 18 auxiliaries and 424 members contributing $1,611.77 in 1915, to 54 auxiliaries and 1,025 members contributing $5,000.00 in 1927.

We are happy that Miss Josephine Dameron represents us in Korea. She is pleased and so are the ones in authority at Ewha College, and Miss Case, our Foreign Secretary. Blanche Spivey graduates at Scarritt in June and will be assigned to her work when the Board of Missions meets in May. She will first represent us on the home field, so we are fortunate in having our own representative in each department of our work, and I pray that it may always be that way. What shall our Jubilee report be? The answer is with our women.

AMMA D. GRAHAM, Secretary.

REPORT OF WILMINGTON DISTRICT SECRETARY

The year has not been one of great achievement but of encouragement. Lacking a special, emphasis has been placed on the regular work and funds for this have increased.

Efforts have been made to enlist every woman in every church and opportunity given for their spiritual cultivation and the exercise of their talents.

Three new auxiliaries have been added. Since January a Jubilee auxiliary has been gained, sponsored by Grace auxiliary.

One new zone has been organized and the last group in the district is ready just as soon as a good chairman may be appointed. The District Secretary has attended six zone meetings and one District Conference where the work was presented to the pastors. A District Mission Study Day was held with fair attendance but with helpful results. Many also attended the Missionary Institute held by the presiding elder. The book the pastors were asked to teach was pretty generally used in the place of the spring Mission Study book. Much good social service work has been done of a constructive nature.

Spiritual cultivation has been stressed and prayer groups organized. These groups of praying women form the dynamo that keeps our work glowing and growing.

Only fifteen reported observance of Week of Prayer. Three subscribers to Missionary Voice were reported and only ten reported presenting Christian stewardship.

Our pledge of $4,000 was over-paid, the amount sent to Conference Treasurer being $4,070.18. $7,683.96 was expended locally making a total of $11,866.76 raised by the women of the district. The budget plan is being very generally used. The amount agreed upon to be raised for Missions includes dues and pledge.

The circle plan is being used in all the larger auxiliaries.

Three are on the Honor Roll: Rose Hill, Grace and Trinity. The total number of auxiliaries is thirty. In looking over the history of the Conference I find that our first District Secretary, Mrs. W. M. Hankins, reported a Bright Jewel Band organized in Fifth Street Church. We are proud of this little bit of history.

We are hoping the inspiration gained by this Conference may bring rich results and growth this year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. R. CLARKE, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EXTENSION OF WORK AND FINANCE

In this year of 1928 we celebrate our Golden Jubilee commemorating the fifty years of missionary activity on the part of the women of our church. We wish to pledge the N. C. Conference to give its sincerest interest and prayer for the success of the celebration, and to contribute by every possible means to that end.

We therefore recommend:

1. That there be a rededication of the entire membership to a renewed prayer life.
2. That a missionary society shall be organized in every church and every woman a member. That we make a special drive to secure these organizations and members that we may fittingly commemorate the Jubilee year.

3. That we increase our subscriptions to the Missionary Voice and Our Missionary News and that each new subscriber be designated as a Jubilee Subscriber.

4. That we co-operate with the leaders of Children and Young People's organizations in assisting in the cultivation and training of the youth of our church in the work of the kingdom.

5. That the adult society having the highest per cent on the Standard of Excellence be given special recognition at the next annual meeting.

6. That at least one hour of a zone meeting be conducted on the institute plan for the consideration of the work of the officers.

7. That zones shall present informational and inspirational programs, using literature provided by the Council, supplemented by Round Table discussions bringing out ideas for the best ways and means of carrying on the work.

8. That we begin now to save for our special Jubilee gifts, that every woman, young person, and child shall know of the Jubilee goals and shall be given an opportunity to make a contribution.

9. That in every auxiliary, zone and district meeting until June, the matter of our Leadership Training Course at Duke be presented.

10. That December 3rd be set aside as Harvest Day. Any auxiliary shall be counted as observing "Harvest Day" when it reports to the District Secretary not later than December with Conference pledge paid in full.

11. That each auxiliary make a ten per cent increase in finances over that of last year in addition to the out-pouring of Jubilee gifts during the week of Prayer.

12. That our slogan shall be: "Increasing in all things for His sake."

13. That the zone leader of each district who most nearly attains the Zone Standard of Excellence shall have her expenses paid while in Durham, that she may attend our Leadership Training School at Duke University, and that two credit courses shall be required of her.

14. That each auxiliary shall pay $4.00 annually to the Scarritt Endowment Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. B. McKINNE,
MRS. HARVEY BONEY,
MISS BESSIE HARDING.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We recommend:

1. That each auxiliary lay special emphasis upon the Jubilee celebration by not only presenting its regular programs, but by information given by means of pageants, etc., that the young people might have a clearer idea of the history and growth of our missionary work.

2. That adult auxiliaries aid in this by inviting the young to participate in their programs whenever possible.

3. That the Jubilee prayer league be stressed, and emphasis placed upon the need of a vital spiritual growth.

4. That each auxiliary include in their program:

1. Honor Roll.
2. Quarterly executive meetings.
3. Daily prayer for volunteers.
4. Daily prayer for specials.
5. Tithing.
6. Observance of Week of Prayer.
7. Bible and Mission Study classes.

5. Better district organization, that is, a district helper, to find out where there are no organizations and to help in every way possible to interest the young people in the work.

6. That we make a more determined effort to meet our Conference pledge of $2,000.00. In order to do this we must get our young people to realize their own personal responsibility and train them to give more systematically. This may be done by letting them have a more definite knowledge and interest in the causes toward which our specials are directed and keep this constantly before them during the year, not waiting until the last to hurry through with it.

7. We wish to express our gratitude to the Epworth League Assembly for the courtesies extended to the young people's department by letting us co-operate with them at their summer conference by conducting both a Bible and a Mission Study class, where credits from our Conference Superintendent of Study were given.

8. We recommend broader co-operation in the work this year by combining our efforts and providing courses of study, which will enable the phases of mission work to be taught at the Assembly, as our leader, Mrs. Everett, shall direct.

9. That we heartily support our three missionary publications, "The Voice," "Our Missionary News," and the "Young People's Bulletin."

10. That the District Secretaries and assistants keep a permanent record of all Young People's Jubilee organizations and members, and that special recognition be given the district having the largest number of Jubilee societies and members at the Conference meeting of 1929.

11. That the Conference Superintendent of Young People's Work list on a beautiful scroll the Jubilee societies and members as they are organized and enrolled and that a special recognition service be held for them at the Conference meeting of 1929.

12. That a special effort be made to have every young person in the department participate in the Week of Prayer service.

13. That the young people be given an opportunity to express their appreciation of their missionary heritage and of the missionary program that is being promoted today by participation in the Jubilee thank offering.

14. That special recognition be given at the 1929 Conference meetings to every society carrying out the Jubilee program in full.

15. That Conference leaders stress the Young People's Specials for the Jubilee year: Home, Rural Work, Foreign, Hiroshima Girls School, Japan.

MRS. W. M. ALEXANDER, Chairman,
MISS EMMA V. PEPPLER, Secretary.

COMMITTEE ON CHILDREN'S WORK

1. That as far as possible each auxiliary see that the three divisions are organized in every church: Baby, Primary and Epworth Junior.

2. That as June and July are set apart for intensive mission study, the adult auxiliaries do all they can to help the Superintendent of Children's work make this work a success.

3. That the auxiliaries see that the children's day in the Week of Prayer is observed and that the children are encouraged by a large attendance and liberal offering on the part of the women.

4. That each auxiliary help the children to raise their pledge.

5. That the new Standard of Excellence be studied and a greater effort be made by the auxiliary Superintendents to place their societies on the Honor Roll.

6. That our new magazine, "Juniors," be placed in every Methodist home where there are children.

7. That the children be given a place and part in the celebration of the Jubilee year according to the suggestions of the Council Committee on Education and Promotion, Children's work.

8. That our Conference endorse the recommendation of that committee that "All the members of the Woman's Missionary Society pray for the work of the society at the hour of retiring and when they shall lie awake at night, praying especially for the leaders and those enrolled in the various divisions of the Children's Department. Those who are shut in by age and ill health are asked to bring the work and the workers daily before God."

MRS. N. H. D. WILSON,

MRS. GERTIE MATTHEWS, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE

Our Committee recommends:

1. The selection of a woman in each district to assist the Conference Superintendent of Social Service in presenting social service at District, group or zone meetings; selection to be made by Conference Superintendent in consultation with the District Secretary.

2. The continuance of Social Service Federations in towns and cities and in districts, counties, and zones; also the promotion of inter-denominational federations for the study of local conditions and the carrying out of larger programs for community welfare.

3. That a study of Race Relations be made by every auxiliary social service committee as outlined in the Inter-racial Handbook; and that the auxiliary committees seek to promote the organization of Community Inter-racial Committee.

4. Citizenship and Law Enforcement. Since we, as citizens, have the authority and privilege to participate in the making and enforcement of law, and since the Woman's Missionary Council stands committed to the principles and activities that created the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America, and the enactment that provides for its enforcement. We further recommend:

A. That the attention of our members be called to their sacred duties of citizenship, and that they shall not only register and vote, themselves, but that they be active in getting others to exercise this duty.

B. That we pledge ourselves to vote only for those candidates for offices, local, state and national, who are committed by precept and example to maintain and uphold the Constitution of our country and enforce its law.

C. That we co-operate with the Woman's National Committee on Law Enforcement in their efforts to elect a President and Vice-President and other officials who can be relied on to stand for the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement of all its laws.

5. That the North Carolina Conference Society lend its influence diligently to the cultivation of a desire for World Peace, and give a hearty support to the adoption of such methods as will enable all civilized nations to renounce war as an instrument of national policy and will lead to concrete methods for the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

6. The endorsement of the Curtis-Reed Education bill which provides for the establishment of a Federal Department of Education and for a more adequate support of scientific research in education under the direction of a Secretary of Education.

7. That for our special Jubilee work, the social service committee of each auxiliary choose some project in either recreation, health, child welfare or race relations toward which to work until some definite deed is done.

8. We recommend that social service superintendents take membership in their State Conference for Social Service and that where no provision is made for the membership fee of $2.00, a sum be set aside by vote of the auxiliary from the local funds necessary to project this enterprise.

VARA L. HERRING, Chairman,
MRS. T. W. COSTON, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSION AND BIBLE STUDY

We recommend:

I. That our slogan continue to be: "A study circle in every auxiliary and every member a member of the study circle."

II. That, in order to increase the number of auxiliaries studying, the District Secretaries be invited to co-operate more closely with the Conference Superintendent of Study, by stressing the value of Mission and Bible Study, and urging the organization of classes for study in accordance with our Conference Plan of Study, both in their correspondence with their auxiliaries, and by arranging for a forceful and appealing presentation of it at all their District meetings.

III. That the Chairman of the Zone Federation, for the same purpose, provide in all their Group Meetings for a clear explanation of our Conference Plan of Study, with a stirring for study classes to be included in all their auxiliaries, in which the current courses of study recommended by Council shall be used according to the Plan of Study adopted by our Conference.

IV. That in order to increase the number of Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries organized for study, the Superintendent of Young People and of Children's Work be invited to co-operate more closely with the Conference Superintendent of Study by furnishing her, as early in the year as possible, accurate and full lists of their Superintendents or Leaders; by stressing the value of Mission and Bible Study in their correspondence with their auxiliary leaders; by urging them to organize classes for study, and to send their reports and letters to the Conference Superintendent of Study, thus enabling her to keep in helpful touch with them and their work.

V. That a Superintendent of Study be elected in every auxiliary however small or new it may be.

VI. That the Superintendent of Study in the Adult Auxiliaries encourage and foster Mission and Bible Study in the Young People's and Children's Auxiliaries by teaching classes, holding "Story Hours," or co-operating in any way desired with the Superintendents of these departments.

VII. That the President of every Auxiliary stress the value of Mission and Bible Study, and co-operate with the Superintendents of Study by helping her to organize and conduct classes for study, if necessary and desired.

VIII. That campaigns for Mission Study be put on in October for the study of the current Foreign Mission subject, in January for the study of the current Home Mission subject, and in April for a special class in Bible Study by Adult and Young People's Auxiliaries, and in June and July for the study of the current Home and Foreign Mission study books recommended by Council, by the Junior Auxiliaries.

IX. That every class complete in one quarter the study of the book it selects on the Home Mission subject in the first or second quarter, on the Foreign Mission subject in the fourth quarter, and the special Bible subject in the second or third quarter, thus making the course in Missionary Education complete for that year.

X. That the books used for study shall be selected from among those latest recommended by Council, and in order named above.

XI. That Standard Work in all classes be constantly urged; that "Our class shall be a Standard Class and our goal shall be the Study Honor Roll," be the aim of every Superintendent of Study and her class.

XII. That Reading Circles be formed in every auxiliary, using current Mission Study Books, and the books on the "Jubilee Book shelf" in the manner of a circulating library.

XIII. That Prayer Circles, for definite daily prayer for our work and workers, be formed in every auxiliary, the method of organization and functioning being left to the Superintendent of Study.

XIV. That where it is impracticable to have Standard Classes for "Study Honor Roll," that classes be conducted in the way best suited to the class, in an earnest effort to make "Honorable Mention" for study.

XV. That strong classes adopt and nurture weaker ones nearby, by immediately passing on used current books and helping in any way needed; that they try to organize classes in auxiliaries where there have been none before. That an especial effort be made to accumulate and use Missionary Libraries.

XVI. That in each zone, a Zone Study Leader be appointed by the Conference Superintendent of Study, to act as her representative in a definite plan of cultivation for instruction in and promotion of Council and Conference methods, standards, and courses of study. This plan to be furnished her by the Conference Superintendent of Study.

XVII. That all teachers of classes try constantly to improve the quality of their class study work, striving to win the Certificate of Special Council Recognition by conducting their classes according to the directions given by Council.

XVIII. That quarterly reports to the Conference Superintendent of Study be made promptly and fully, the latest report sheets being used.

XIX. That in order to become more efficient as leaders in our work, the auxiliary Superintendent of Study, or at least one woman from every auxiliary, be urged to attend our Leadership Training School, to be held at Duke University in Durham in connection with the Pastor's Summer School in June.

VIRGINIA WHITEHURST, Chairman,

AVA CROWDER, Secretary,

MRS. J. LeGRAND EVERETT, Conf. Supt. Study.
